Airport approves FBO status to BEH

The Norwood Airport Commission (NAC) met on Aug. 14 briefly to vote on approving the Fixed Base Operator (FBO) status of Boston Executive Helicopters (BEH).

The vote comes after the Town agreed to a settlement with BEH ending years of conflict. The Town has been engaged in a lawsuit initiated by BEH for more than four years, regarding what BEH claimed was unfair treatment as it sought its FBO status.

The NAC voted 3-1, with member Michael Sheehan voting against the approval and Martin Odstrchel absent. The motion was to allow BEH FBO status so long as they provide proof of insurance coverage for fuel spills and hanging.

“We’ve had some discussion on this and we’d like to revisit the issue,” said Commission Chair Mark Ryan before the vote.

Member John Corcoran said this same vote was taken three years ago.

“We’re in the same situation today, it’s probably just an oversight by their insurance carrier,” he said, adding that he knew in the subsequent years BEH had that coverage, but now the Town does not have proof of that. “It’s very simple to call them up; I do it all the time.”

Trails Advisory Committee discusses markers and media

The Trails Advisory Committee met on Tuesday, Aug. 13 to discuss the placement of new trail markers on the Endean Trail system and the final touches of a brochure and website for Norwood’s trails in time for Norwood Day on Sat., Sept. 7.

The Endean Trail Improvement Project is still ongoing, according to chair Joseph Greeley. Norwood resident and Eagle Scout candidate Noah Kearns is nearing completion of placing mile markers along the trail. He is a recent Norwood High School graduate committed to marking the cross country course. He connected with Boy Scout Troop 44 in Walpole to help mark the trail.

“The scouts came with a carload of posts, post holders and shovels,” member Marguerite Knapp said. “Noah was the foreman.”

“I think we can put our own markers on the same posts, so as not to inundate the area with signs,” Sheehan said.

The posts are seven feet high. The scouts also are designing signage. There will be additional information regarding the mileage and the ease of the terrain.

The committee also is putting the fin-

UAVE withdraws asphalt plant application

On Aug. 20, the Norwood Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) met for a short session to discuss the hotly-contested special permit application from UAVE LLC for a bituminous concrete or asphalt plant at 973 University Ave.

The applicant opted to withdraw the application with prejudice, and the ZBA voted unanimously to approve the withdrawal.

The permit application caused ire among residents and officials alike. The proposal initially failed at the ZBA more than two years ago, as it needed a super majority, though the vote went 3-2 in favor. The applicant appealed the decision in land court and lost, and in the interim, while that case was being heard, Town Meeting voted unanimously – which doesn't happen often – to pass a prohibition on any new asphalt plants within the Town's borders.

Asphalt plants are known to impact air quality, and the Town has had numerous complaints of pher Donovan said the requirements for proof of insurance are hazy and he's not pleased with the situation.

"We have conflicting conditions and claims regarding our FBO permit," he said in an email. "The NAC first failed to take action on Aug. 7 demanding once again new items for BEH. This is contrary to the agreement they presented in front of the judge in federal court. They then 'Approved' our FBO at the Aug. 14 NAC meeting, however they have prohibited BEH from selling fuel."

He said that since 2014, BEH has met and continued to meet the "rules, regulations and standards at the airport for our FBO permit."

Ryan said after the meeting that the Town's minimum standards spell out exactly what they expect Donovan and BEH to provide to the Town before they allow fuel sales in terms of insurance coverage.

"Our minimum standards spell out the dollar amount and how it has to identify the airport and the NAC," he said. "BEH in the past has provided insurance that had a simple notation including fueling and hanging coverage, and the current policy does not show that and we just ask them to simply provide that so the commission is sure that in the event of a fuel spill the Town is protected. This has been provided in the past and I don't know if this is an oversight."

Ryan said that the Commission has been acting in the best interests of the Town and residents of Norwood.

"The bottom line is we're doing this to protect the Town of Norwood and its interests and we're looking forward to this working itself out," he said. "I don't see any reason why it shouldn't."

Donovan pointed out the costs associated with the lawsuit over the past three to four years. The language of the settlement, among many other items, stipulated that the Town has to pay $750,000 to BEH.

Donovan said he is also concerned that Commissioner Odsrechel refused to sign the actual settlement between the Town and BEH, and that Commissioner Kevin Shaughnessy and Sheehan had the Town's lawyers, Michael Fee and Adam Simms, signed for them.

Selectmen hold show cause hearings, comment on airport settlement

Susan Kryczka
Staff Reporter

At their Aug. 20 meeting, Selectmen worked through a lengthy list of agenda items in just over an hour and included a statement announcing the conclusion of the airport litigation involving the town and Boston Executive Helicopters.

After some introductory comments by Selectman Tom Maloney, Chairman Paul Bishop read a statement stating that litigation between Boston Executive Helicopters and the Town of Norwood had been settled. The two pledged to work together to serve the needs of the public. No details of the settlement were disclosed at the Selectmen's meeting.

Among other items were two show cause hearings, the first involving Siam Lotus, located at 1331 Boston Providence Turnpike, charged with the sale of alcoholic beverages to a person under the age of 21. Norwood Det. Brendan Greene stated that on April 25, a 17-year-old who provided an authentic MA driver's license as identification purchased a beer at the establishment. Both the general manager and the waiter admitted the error, adding that the waiter has never had an issue of serving a minor in 20 years. Selectmen expressed concern about training staff adequately.

"What other training is provided over the course of the year?" asked Selectman David Hajjar. "I encourage you to do more training...it is not difficult with the vertical license that is marked in red," he added.

Selectman Allan Howard asked "Is the rest of staff now TIPS trained?" referring to the Training and Intervention Procedures for Servers (TIPS) of alcohol training that is available. The manager said yes. Selectman Maloney said, "We urge you to be cautious."

The Board recommended a verbal warning, which is typical for a first offense. Another violation would result in a verbal and written warning.

The second show cause hearing involved YKLU Food Inc., dba Olivio's Grille & Pizzeria's failure to provide the public with the services contemplated by their alcohol license. The restaurant closed in January 2019. Attorney Jessica Deratzian requested a continuance as they are seeking to transfer the license. She will return in 120 days or sooner with an appropriate applicant for the license.

Travis Farley, from the Norwood Recreation Department, provided an update on the success of the summer programs in Norwood, with a record 3,700 participants, an increase over 2018.

"The big reason I'm here is to talk about Norwood Day," he added. The start of the celebration is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 6 with more food, music, and activities on Norwood Day, Sept. 7. Buttons are now on sale.

Selectmen enthusiastically welcomed a representative of Ernie Boch Jr., Michael Clemmey, who presented a check for $30,500 to the Town of Norwood. It is an annual donation made by the Boch family to support nonprofit organizations in Norwood.

"Please convey our thanks to Ernie and the Boch family," said Maloney.

Other business included permits approved for use of the Town Common for a religious service on Sept. 21 and on Dec. 7 for Norwood Circle of Hope's annual "Luminary Night."

Helen Abdallah Donohue was reappointed to the Norfolk County Advisory Board for a one-year term starting Sept. 1, 2019. Tony Mazzucco reported that an additional town concert has been added for Sunday, Sept. 8.

Selectman Hajjar gave an update on progress for consolidating the facilities management of the town. Selectman William Plasko asked why this seemed to be taking so long as many other towns in surrounding areas have done this.

Hajjar explained that they did not want to get started until the override was passed and he wanted to get the most current information from the school committee.

"We are moving at a pace required to satisfy the issues," he said. Hajjar's suggested changes to the cemetery rules and regulations were approved, but the Board wanted to review the Town Common and Bandstand rule changes. These will be taken up at the next meeting.

The meeting ended with the Selectmen going into executive session to discuss strategy with respect to litigation concerning if an open meeting may have a detrimental effect on the litigating position of the public body.

WHERE IS THE DISCONNECT WITH ZBA?

To the Editor:

Dear Chairman Brady,

First off, please understand that I have a deep appreciation and respect for the storied accomplishments that the ZBA has delivered to the Town of Norwood, over a long period of time, in safeguarding our community against potential harm from permitting malfeasance within the town's zoning by-laws. That stated, I cannot, for the life of me, understand how the ZBA would ever entertain the notion of approving a special permit for a second asphalt plant in Norwood, currently proposed for University Avenue, in an area where ice skating facilities are being built, and in close proximity to water wells that serve our neighbors in Westwood. Should this asphalt plant be built, this action imperils local health and safety standards, which, instinctively, should be of paramount concern to ALL boards in Norwood, including the ZBA.

As a current Norwood Town Meeting member, I urge you to employ common sense, as well as a modicum of vision for what so many in our community already see quite clearly: we do NOT want – nor do we need – a second asphalt plant in Norwood. I respectfully urge this board to not concern itself with potential litigation or lost revenue streams from a foregone second asphalt plant. Town Meeting has already addressed those concerns, and made those deliberations. That body has already spoken loudly, and with unanimity: NO second asphalt plant in Norwood.

Although the thoughts expressed here are my own, please be mindful that Norwood's Town Meeting collective will is also a reflection of the Norwood Health Department mindset, which is steadfastly opposed to this proposed plant, as well as the mindset of the Norwood Board of Selectmen, who are staunchly opposed to this proposed second asphalt plant as well. All due respect, where is the disconnect here? I urge you and the entire ZBA to unanimously reject this proposed second asphalt plant on University Avenue, when your group convenes again on Tuesday, August 20th. I am confident that the Norwood ZBA would never intentionally sabotage the expressed collective will of Norwood Town Meeting in this matter. I therefore urge you to do the right thing, and unanimously vote to reject this proposed asphalt plant on University Avenue in Norwood.

Michael J. Thornton, Jr.
Town Meeting Member –
District 1

bad odors coming from the asphalt plant at 635 Pleasant St. in Town.

The property on University Ave. is zoned as limited or light manufacturing, and the Zoning Bylaw specifically excludes asphalt and bituminous concrete from that category. But as per the Town's Zoning Bylaw, in section 3.1.6 Notes to Table of Use Regulations number 11, the owner has a right to seek a special permit at the Zoning Board of Appeals. ZBA Chair Thomas Brady said at Tuesday's meeting that while he was aware of the concerns from the Town, holding up a packet of what he said was 200 separate pieces of correspondence from residents and non residents alike, the ZBA has to follow the Bylaw and allow an applicant to come forward, regardless of public opinion.

"We have to allow fairness for everybody, including and especially the applicants," he said. "The important part is that for the applicant, we have to render that they have the sufficient ability to come in or have the ability to come in and apply for permits, special permits, variances etc."

Brady also pointed out they are a volunteer board.

"I think it's imperative that I explain that all boards in Town, they're all volunteer; nobody gets paid or does it as a full-time job," he said. "Everybody does it with their heart and their brain, hopefully."

Brady said he and the Board read as much of the correspondence as they could, and encouraged residents to have more engagement with Town government.

"I want to thank everybody who corresponded, whether for it or against it; I didn't get through all of it, but I got some very meaningful letters from people whether they lived in the Town or not," he said. "As a taxpayer and a homeowner, I want to see more of this, more involvement and not just opinions at Town Meeting or opinions on Facebook though I do respect all of them, but get involved! If you have something to say, say it."

ZBA Member Patrick Mulvehill said after the meeting that the applicant is aware of residents' and officials' opposition to the project, and that the applicant will most likely not come back, as he would have to have a judge overturn the decision of the Land Court. He said that's not likely to happen.

"I think he got the message," Mulvehill said.

Race attracts hundreds to benefit animal shelter

Mary Ellen Gambon

Hundreds of people and 170 runners took a pause to benefit four-legged friends by participating in the second annual Craft Brew 5K, held Sat., Aug. 17 at the Percival Brewing Company at the Norwood Space Center at 83 Morse St.

The race, which had more of a festival atmosphere, was held this year to benefit Shultz's Guest House, a Dedham dog shelter, according to event organizer Jim Henry.

"I am a member of the Charles River Running Club, and I also run my own running business on the side," Henry said. "Last year we held the event on a Sunday. This year, we decided to have it on a Saturday evening and create a whole different atmosphere with craft beers and wood-fired pizza."

He explained that the course was different this year as well.

"The course goes through the Endean Trails System," Henry said. "It starts at the brewery and goes half on the road and half on the ground. It also crosses a metal footbridge twice."

One special aspect this year was the feature of collapsible silicone water cups that could be reused, rather than traditional plastic water bottles.

"We are trying to be environmentally conscious, so we had the idea of the collapsible cups," he said. "Runners can fill their cups at three water stations along Deni Goldman of Shultz's Guest House talked about the unique mission of the Dedham shelter, which rescues dogs from abusive situations and environmental hazards in North Carolina. "We rescue the dogs from woods and thickets down there," she said. "Some of the conditions there are horrifying. No one realizes when they see the puppies at events like these, and notice

Ling awarded Sastavickas scholarship

Joseph and Viola Sastavickas and their children used the Morrill Memorial Library for many years. In the years prior to Viola's death, they received home delivery service through the Outreach Department. When Mrs. Sastavickas passed away in 2006, her children made a generous donation to the library to endow a perpetual $500 scholarship in memory of their mother. According to her daughter, Kathy Sastavickas, the scholarship is "a fitting tribute to our beautiful mother and to the library and staff which treated her with great respect and affection." Since then, the Sastavickas family has made additional donations to the Sastavickas Scholarship Fund to ensure that the scholarship be awarded to a deserving recipient. 2019 marks the tenth year of the annual award.

This year a committee reviewed the applications submitted and selected Elizabeth Ling to receive the Viola Sastavickas Scholarship. This committee included the 2018-2019 Chairman of the Library Board of Trustees, Sarah E. Begg, the Chapter Chair of the AFSCME Library Unit, Kate Tigue, and Library Director, Charlotte Canelli.

Elizabeth Ling is an outstanding student with an affinity for math and science. As a young child, Elizabeth became an entrepreneur, selling beautiful pieces of origami art at craft fairs and farmers' markets.

She became a library page several years before graduating from the Montrose School in Medfield. Hers is a "library family story": Nancy Tupper Ling, her mother, has been an Outreach Librarian since 2011. Elizabeth's younger sister, Sarah, is a library page who will graduate from high school next June.

Elizabeth began her college studies at Northeastern University last September and is pursuing a BS in Mechanical Engineering with a minor in Philosophy. In her own words, Elizabeth is "striving for a perfect harmony between the sciences and the arts." She used this scholarship to help fulfill her minor elective requirements during the summer semester.

ishing touches on a brochure on Norwood's four trails, which it will have ready in some form for Norwood Day.

"Let's all compile some of our favorite pictures from each of the trails," committee member Ernie Paciorkowski said. "Then on Norwood Day, we can run them on a loop on a screen to show people why they should visit them."

The brochure includes Endean Trail system, Ellis Pond, Shattuck Park and Hennessey Park.

Sheehan added that the committee members will be needed to staff a table to talk about the committee and present a tri-folded brochure with information about each of the trails and the conservation efforts there.

Members reviewed a color draft with pictures of the trails and a history of the committee, which had formerly been a sub-committee.

Also, Sheehan said the website link for the Trails Advisory Committee will be operational on the Town website by that time.

"Now we are putting out a newsletter with updates on our upcoming walks and trails information," Sheehan said. "At last year's Norwood Day, we got about 240 to 250 emails."

Because the Trails Advisory Committee is not a 501(c)3 nonprofit, Sheehan said the members aren't allowed to accept donations directly. However, donations can be made to Norwood Town Hall and earmarked in the memo line to go to trails.

In other trails progress, Paciorkowski said that he had discussions with the Boston Skating Club, and that "he would be getting all his ducks in a row" to seek informal access for a trail route through the property, but only as a connector.

"I met with them last week," he said. "They haven't given us carte blanche access, but if it were to be part of a trails system, it would be okay. They just don't want it to be a stand-alone trail."

"That was a common topic," Sheehan added. "Plug in the Forbes Property, and it's the same situation."

The committee is also trying to coordinate a walk with the Walpole Trails Committee before the end of the summer, Sheehan announced.

However, member Vic Babel said that if the Walpole Trails Committee is unable to coordinate a time, he would be happy to lead the walk, as he is familiar with the terrain.

"It looked like it would be a good trail for a winter walk," he said. "But it's pretty well overrun. And the smell is bad now because of the birds."

The next meeting will be Tues., Aug. 27 at 7 p.m. at Town Hall.

Hundreds of residents came out to the Waters Church in Norwood for Family Fun Day on Sunday, Aug. 11.

The event, according to organizers, is to bring people together in an informal setting to build community between members and non members. Church member John Malone said Sunday services can seem somewhat formal, so this is a way to let loose during the summer.

"We've done it as long as I can remember," he said. "It's been at least 10 or 15 years. People invite family and friends, so it's not just people who are in the church. We call it fellowship, and it's a way for people to meet each other."

Malone said many of the volunteers don't necessarily know each other at the start of the event, but when they are persevering together through the crowds of hungry participants, they get to know each other very well, very fast.

"We have a grill team who don't really know each other and you get to meet people a little differently than just at a service on Sunday," he said. "We have a lot of people volunteering at the games, we have face painting for the kids and we have a DJ. There's a lot going on and it just brings the whole community together."

Volunteer Jason Milton said they estimated about 300 people showed up.

"At least, we did about 350 hamburgers and probably that many hot dogs," he said.

Malone said the business community comes together to help them celebrate too.

"We have a couple of sponsors too, like the 99 Restaurant Chain always donates popcorn, which is really helpful. Thrivent Financial donates money too, and Taylor Rental does provide all the games and tables, but we do pay for that," he said.

He added the day was perfect weather, but setting up is a lot of work.

"We opened at 12:30 p.m. but we were setting up at 7:30 in the morning. However, when you have a day like this you just can't beat it," he said. "The little breeze helps."

Volunteers Courtney Monroe and Linda Osei-Mensah said their favorite part about the event is mingling with folks they may not have before. They said they've been helping with the event for four years now.

"It's just meeting new people, and it doesn't mean you have to go to the church to be here," Osei-Mensah said.

"It's one of our best events," Monroe said. "It's really great to get know everybody."

Elder Pastor Kofi Adjorlolo said he was happy to see the event growing and see residents he may not see on any given Sunday.

"We've all got that same one foundation that I can love you as myself, and I can treat you with the respect I have experienced with the love of the Almighty," he said.

Resident Jim Shea said he looks forward to the event every year.

"I've been here for 10 years, I love the church and I love the people," he said. "We had a great day today, it was perfect weather and no one was really cooking, the breeze really helped."

If the hot dog and hamburger tally is any indication, more than 300 residents and members of the church came out to celebrate on Family Fun Day.

how well they have been cared for, that the dogs may have been abused or hurt before."

Goldman noted that the average care cost per dog before he or she can be placed for adoption is about $1,400. This includes spaying or neutering, shots, feeding and other care that Shultz's Guest House provides. Medical costs are cheaper in North Carolina, and are performed there before the dogs are brought to the shelter.

The cost for adopting a dog is $500, she added.

"Events like this really help us to provide quality care to these animals," Goldman said. "We are extremely grateful that the race chose to sponsor us this year."

Runners and children flocked to the table, where Goldman and her assistants allowed them to hold and pet the puppies their steps were sponsoring.

Some runners participated because of the cause, while others liked the opportunity to run with friends in a fun atmosphere.

"I am training for a half-marathon, so I thought this would be a great run," Leann Caricchi of Norwell said as she waited for a Norwood friend to join her. "Plus I am a dog lover. When I heard about the charity that was chosen, I just had to participate."

Caricchi, a running enthusiast, added that the idea of the collapsible cups as opposed to plastic bottles, was another determining factor.

Steve MacFarland said he wanted to run the race when he learned about the markings of the Endean Trail System by a local Boy Scout in The Norwood Record.

"Once I read about it in the local paper, I had to come down and check it out," MacFarland, a Norwood resident, said.

Runner number one, Jesse Aguilar, said that he had never been on the trials before, either, but wanted to run them with his friend, Darrin Reynolds.

"And you have everything here today," he said. "You have beer. You have pizza. You have puppies. You have everything a growing 40-year-old boy needs."

"And you have friends," Reynolds added. "What more could you ask for?"

The winners of the Craft Brew 5 K were: Men's 1. Colin Benson of Medfield, MA 17:40 2. Albert Crooker of Medfield, MA 18:44 3. Zachary Laidley of East Walpole, MA 19:06 Women's 1. Christin Hoffstadt of Norfolk, VA 19:45 (5th overall) 2. Sarah Griffin of Norwood, MA 23:36 3. Jen Schrader of East Boston, MA 23:56

Three Norwood-based rock and roll bands played after the racers left the starting mark.

Dubbed as "Norwoodstock," East of Yonder kicked off the festivities with two hours of rock classics including "Rambling Man" as the winners crossed the line, "Help!" by the Beatles and the Boston classic, "Charlie on the MTA." Kai Olsson and Cooler Headz had shorter sets of rock that moved the crowd until nearly 10 p.m.

Ask The Doctor

Junior Damato began servicing vehicles in 1969. He owns an 8-bay center in Middleboro, MA. Junior is an ASE-certified Master Technician, ASE-certified L-1 and ASE-certified Natural Gas.

To the Doctor: I am in the market for a car and was thinking about the 2018-2019 Ford Mustang GT (manual). I am not sure if you know, but there is an ongoing issue or two with the car that I would like your feedback on. One issue is the engine can have what's called a "typewriter tick." Is this an engine damaging piston slap, looseness of the push rods on the crank, or something else, and is it a reliable engine? Second question for you is the 3-4 shifter fork. There were reports of these breaking in the Tremec transmissions. I have not heard of this issue in some time but I also have not heard if Ford came out with a replacement part. I prefer the Mustang over the Camaro, as I believe the Mustang has fewer issues and has better long-term reliability. The Camaro is the better track-focused car and I feel that if I do not purchase a pony car soon, I will lose the possibility to own one of the last V-8 engines.

From the Doctor: The 5.0 liter Coyote V/8 is a great engine. I have one in my Factory 5 Cobra kit car with a Tremec 5-speed transmission, not the 6 speed that is in the Mustang. I know a lot of Mustang owners that drive their cars hard and have not had any engine or transmission failures. Just remember that any part can fail under heavy racing conditions. If the Mustang is what you want, you should buy it and enjoy it.

To the Doctor: To my shock after purchasing a 2019 GMC Yukon Denali XL, I opened the hood and observed rusted manifolds on the 6.2 liter engine. When I contacted GMC, they said the vehicle was under warranty and the dealer would take care of problem. But the dealer said that's the way the SUV comes and would not replace the manifolds because they said they all come rusted. How can GMC sell a new SUV with rusted manifolds and not replace them when the SUV is under warranty? How can I get this problem resolved?

From the Doctor: Light rust color on some exhaust manifolds is not unusual. You will also start to see rust on suspension bolts and spots on the frame over time. The aluminum will show signs of light corrosion. You should contact the dealer and meet with the local zone office to have the vehicle looked at with you there and show them your concerns.

Junior Damato, the "Auto Doctor," has agreed to field auto repair questions from Bulletin and Record readers. Please send your questions to news@bulletinnewspapers.com and we will do our best to get them answered.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS OF NORWOOD/SOUTH DEDHAM

Norwood resident and Civil War buff Jack Kelly will present "Saving the Union: Civil War Veterans of Norwood and South Dedham" at the Morrill Memorial Library on Monday, August 26 at 7:00 pm. South Dedham (now Norwood) was heavily involved in the Civil War, sending over 400 men into the Union armed forces in the 1860s, when South Dedham had a population of roughly 6,000. This illustrated presentation will focus on some of the individual soldiers and sailors from the local area, including their civilian occupations and military experiences. Mr. Kelly will also examine the roles of some of the South Dedham families and their contributions to the war effort. He is a member of Olde Colony Civil War Roundtable, Friends of Gettysburg, Friends of Fort Ticonderoga, and several area historical societies. To register for this program, go to norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

Visit the library's Norwood Day booth on September 7 to learn more about our programs, services, and upcoming events, to buy a book from the Friends of the Library, or just to say hi. We're excited to announce that starting at around 10:00 am on Norwood Day, we'll once again be offering free henna hand art! Noureen Sultana Designs will be creating unique mendhi designs in henna for anyone who'd like to try it. Registration is not required; first come, first served. ZMEDITATION FOR BEGINNERS

Come to an introductory meditation session at the Morrill Memorial Library on Monday, September 16 at 7:00 p.m. to find out about Isha Kriya, a simple practice to help you learn to meditate. No previous experience is necessary, and it can easily be done while sitting in a chair. This class will be taught by a volunteer from the Isha Foundation, an international non-profit dedicated to achieving well-being through yoga and meditation. The class is open to everyone age 12 and over and can accommodate up to 32 people. To register, go to the library's Events calendar at norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, x110, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

ANNUAL COMMUNITY STASHSHARE

Come to the Morrill Memorial Library's Simoni Room on Saturday, September 21, from 10:00 AM-2:00 PM for Sewstainability's annual ShashShare. At this event people share with one another rather than having to buy sewing/needlework and crafting materials and equipment. Come drop off materials from your personal Stash that don't seem to get used so others can enjoy them. While there, browse to find things you'd like to work with and take them home. Come even if you don't have anything to bring; this is a Share, not an even swap. If you come on the early side (11 AM-noon), others will get a chance to see your offerings. (If you are unable to come Saturday, you may drop things off at the Simoni Room on Friday afternoon). No registration required: drop in to the event, leave things, browse for yourself, and go home ready for productive and pleasant winter days. Community is how we work, and community works! No money needed, and NO businesses please.

A HISTORY OF CENSORSHIP IN BOSTON

Celebrate Banned Books Week 2019 at the Morrill Memorial Library with a program by author Neil Miller, of Tufts University, on Thursday September 26 at 7:00 pm. First established in 1878, and very much alive into the 1940s and '50s, the New England Watch and Ward Society functioned as the region's "moral guardian." Funded by Boston first families, the organization banned books and stage productions, raided gambling dens and houses of prostitution, and crusaded against burlesque. Neil Miller, award-winning journalist and author of the book "Banned in Boston," presents a lively and entertaining talk about the history of censorship in Boston, particularly how the Watch and Ward - and local district attorneys - transformed the "Athens of America" into a national laughing stock. The vice crusaders' targets ranged from books by now-classic American authors like Hemingway, Faulkner, and Dreiser, to performances of plays by Lillian Hellman and Eugene O'Neill, to Boston's legendary burlesque house, the Old Howard. Miller, the author of six published nonfiction books, is a lecturer at Tufts University. Please register for this program by visiting the library's Events Calendar at norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, calling 781-769-0200 x110, or stopping by the Reference or Information desk.

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. PRAYER LAUNCH OF 40 DAYS OF LIFE CAMPAIGN

The Prayer Launch of the 40 Days for Life Campaign, (September 25 to November 3), will be held at St. Catherine of Siena Church, 547 Washington St., Norwood, on Sunday, September 22, with Mass at 4 pm, followed by dynamic pro-life speaker, Terry Beatley at 5 pm. Author of the book, "What if We've Been Wrong?", she will reveal the fascinating story of abortion king Bernard Nathanson and his 8-point strategic marketing plan to deceive American women into accepting abortion and his political ploy called the "Catholic Strategy" — an intentional ploy to separate Catholic teaching from legislative judgment. In her exclusive interview with him as he was dying, Nathanson gave Terry instructions to reveal his former strategy of deceit and to deliver his personal parting message to America exposing all the lies the abortion industry is founded upon. We will conclude with a light meal. There is no charge for this event and all are welcome. For more information, call Rita Russo at 781-762-4391
