The 42nd Art in the Park exhibition went off without a hitch on Saturday, June 8, to the delight of hundreds of residents strolling through the Town Common.

The occasion also marked the awarding of the first-ever Inez Reardon Memorial Scholarship. Reardon founded the Norwood Art Association (NAA), and though they've been handing out art scholarships for decades, current Art Association Director Frances Downey said honoring the group's founder like this was really something special.

"Inez founded the art association with Arlene Mello, and Inez passed away last year," she said. "At the time, we asked that in lieu of flowers that they donate to the Art Association, because it was her baby. We got nice donations, and this was the first ever Inez Reardon Memorial Scholarship."

She said Reardon worked with the art association until her passing.

"She was just awesome," Downey said. "She did all the publicity for the association up until she died. She was 94 years old when she died and she was my good friend. I used to pick her up at her house and take her here (Norwood Town Common) and I was very proud to say that I knew her."

Downey said supporting the arts in a town like Norwood is a necessity. She said arts programs can often be overlooked, as emphasized by the fact many

The Norwood School Committee met last week on Wednesday, June 5 and discussed several issues facing the district.

The first of which was a collective sigh of relief over the Operational Budget Override passing in the ballot vote on the previous Monday.

"The next item on the agenda is the budget update, which is really just that the override passed," said School Committee Chair Myev Bodenhofer. "I'm really glad we're talking about this, we're not closing the Willett, we are not laying off teachers and, in fact, we will be hiring."

Superintendent David Thomson said they will have an update on the budget for the coming year from Director of Finance and Operations Ann Marie Ellis at the next meeting.

Thomson also said that Ellis is retiring this year, and they should have a recommendation for a replacement by June 19.

"Because of the timing of this and depending on who we find and what they're employment status is, there will probably be a lag in between," he said. He also said they will also be looking for a temporary replacement for that eventuality to get the department through the summer, at least.

The committee also heard from Athletics Department Director Jonathan Longley, who also appreciated the Town's passing of the override.

"Thank you guys for all your hard

ConCom discusses Vanderbilt Avenue Commercial District

Mary Ellen Gambon
Staff Reporter

The Norwood Conservation Commission (NCC) approved the Determination of Applicability for a project located at the Vanderbilt Area Commercial District at 205 Carnegie Row at its meeting on Wednesday, June 5 by a 4-0 vote with one abstention.

Vice Chairman Cheryl Doyle, who chaired the meeting in the absence of Chairperson Stephen Washburn, recused herself from voting because of involvement in the project.

Paul Halkiotis, AICP, the Planning and Economic Director, explained that the section of Morse St. on the project is being renamed.

“Actually, it’s not Morse

Street anymore,” Halkiotis said. “We are changing the name to Park Place.”

One reason is to attract customers to the commercial space off of Route One, he explained.

“I have been working on this project for the past two years,” Halkiotis said. “We want to try to brand the Vanderbilt area and have some name recognition.”

He added that he hoped that business would improve there as a result of that and improved signage, the result of a $100,000 grant the Town had received in 2017, “because some of the businesses are lagging.”

Common-themed logos would be designed, as well as multiple signs directing motorists to the plaza from Route One that would be yellow and orange.

A large blue LED sign will announce the presence of the shopping center. It will be mounted on three sonotubes that are one foot in diameter, according to Halkiotis.

Members noted the wetlands there, but the property has been flagged.

“The most important concern I have at the present time is the way the stuff has grown up,”

Town Planner Paul Halkiotis discussed the changes for the Vanderbilt Area Commercial District at the Conservation Commission last week.

said Conservation Agent Al Goetz, referring to invasive species such as Japanese knotweed that are hard to kill. “It’s a safety issue as you come up that corridor. People speed up that way coming around the corner.

“I hope the process will approve the appearance there,” he added.

This issue led to a discussion with John Gear and Halkiotis about the overgrowth of invasive species.

There was talk of mapping the Town to mark areas with invasive species, particularly what are deemed as “hot spaces,” where there is poison ivy prevalent.

“I don’t have a problem with us doing that on our property,” Doyle said.

A big problem this year has been with a light green plant called mylax, Halkiotis said.

“It grows like a needle and is very harassing to deal with,” Halkiotis said. “It is sharp and strong.”

Halkiotis said he would like to price a consultant to kill the

Selectmen note override vote, work on liquor policy

Susan Kryczka
Staff Reporter

During the first meeting of their summer biweekly schedule on Tuesday, June 11, Norwood Selectmen voiced support for the recently passed tax override and worked through a lengthy list of town items.

Selectmen Thomas Maloney was the first to take note of the operational override approved on June 3.

"I'm pleased more at the turnout which was 40%—three-to-one in favor. It was a resounding approval from the taxpayers. Both sides got to speak to it in public fora." Maloney mentioned the public debate was done respectfully and reflected well on the community. "Ditto, ditto, ditto," added Selectman William Plasko. Selectman David Hajjar said, "We have responsibilities to make this work for the town. Now is the hard part." Hajjar suggested that there be written reports twice a year. "I would like to see where the money is going."

The meeting agenda also included a public hearing item requesting a change in the ownership of Norwood Hotel Operators, LLC, dba Hampton Inn at 434 Boston Providence Turnpike for both the hotel and the restaurant on the premises. Of concern was the liquor license and how alcohol is currently being served and will be in the future. Selectman Alan Howard asked, "Is there a lounge in the hotel itself?" There is no lounge; alcohol is currently served only in the restaurant. Moving forward, the new owners will be dispensing alcohol from the restaurant throughout other areas of the hotel. Satisfied with the arrangement, the change was approved.

An additional item was brought forward by Katie McLeish, a student at Norwood High School who was seeking permission to paint a small mural on the Norwood Printing building, which is under control of the Town. The mural would be painted between two existing windows as part of an art project at the high school. McLeish hoped to solicit donated paint supplies for the project from local businesses.

"Excellent, I think it's a great idea," remarked Howard. Selectman Maloney raised concerns about painting on a public building and suggested checking with the school superintendent first to see if other space might be available. Concern was also raised about precedent setting which could encourage others to request space for murals. It was agreed that all other requests must be approved individually. Plasko wanted to be sure that all safety issues are respected in painting the mural and any verbiage be approved before it goes up. This motion was approved with the added suggestions.

New business approved by the Selectmen included a notice of changes to Xfinity packages which will now move Cinemax to a premium channel; Norwood High School Girls Soccer team will conduct a car wash on, Saturday, September 28, 2019 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Sigalle Reiss, and Supt. Board of Health's request to place a banner on poles on Washington St. between Vernon and Day Streets, September 16, 2019 to September 30, 2019 to advertise Household Hazardous Waste/Recycling Day on September 28, 2019.

Maloney provided an update on his draft for a liquor violation policy for the town. "We talked about how we deal with the liquor violations," he said and explained he had drafted a policy as the Town currently doesn't have one. Hajjar supported the notion, saying, "The town should have something in writing, so this is how it's going to be dealt with."

Maloney said that he reviewed some of the policies in other towns and suggested that there should be levels of violations. He also recommended that Selectmen indicate that they can vary from the written policy. The Board voted to accept the amendment with the changes suggested that will be redrafted by Maloney to be ready in July.

Unfinished business items covered Junk Dealers licenses that have not been renewed and should be revoked: The Vintage Peacock, 61 Endicott Street; Ramblin Rose, 61 Endicott Street; Gallery 2, 61 Endicott Street; and It's Time, 61 Endicott Street. All have been sent letters and have not responded. Police will verify that they are out of business. A motion to revoke and check compliance was approved.

Kevin Tortorella of Boston's Baddest Burger appeared before the Selectmen to discuss parking his food truck in front of 1208 Washington Street for lunch and dinner service until his restaurant space is ready. He said that demand from the public who want to buy his food motivated his short-term plans for the truck. "There are very few food options in South Norwood. The food truck industry is exploding," he added. He expects to be "brick and mortar" so the truck will not operate in this spot past October 15, 2019. Hours of operation Wed, Sat, and Sun, totaling 23 hours a week. His request was approved. The next Selectmen's meeting will be held Tuesday, June 25.

OPINION

Well, we're glad that's over...

Congratulations are in order for all those who put their blood, sweat and tears into getting the override passed in Norwood. It was as well an orchestrated effort on anything municipally related here in a long time, perhaps even matching the effort to get a new high school realized. This newspaper kept its opinion regarding the override to itself for one very simple reason. We had no skin in the game. Nobody here was going to be paying increased taxes and no one here had children in the school system. Therefore, we decided to commit as much space as we could to those submitting Letters to the Editor so that as many of you as possible could get your opinion on the record. And you did. And we thank you.

We did notice one constant point of fact used by those seeking the override to strengthen their position, that being the residents of Norwood were paying less in taxes than those in contiguous towns and it was time for them to pay more. What many failed to mention is that Norwood should ALWAYS be paying less in taxes than those in contiguous towns because Norwood has historically had the strongest commercial tax base. This is the number one reason Norwood was as highly regarded across the state as it had been. If Norwood wasn't paying less all of these years, than it would have been a remarkably poorly run town. So really the question everyone should have been asking is whether or not Norwood officials have been as judicious as they should have been to these many years in dispensing monies from such a lucrative base. We think the answer, at least over the last 15 or so years, has been no.

In last week's newspaper, in the front page story, School Committee Chairman Myev Bodenhofer is quoted as saying, "To be honest, when I first ran for the School Committee three years ago it was because I was worried about funding, and part of the reason I wanted to run was to come to some long term solution for the schools. And to think, we're there! It's going to be fine for the next five years, and it's just going to change everything that we do as a school committee."

Wow. We think Bodenhofer is a fine school committee chairman, but we also think she needs to work on her political skills. No politician should ever say something like, "...it's going to be fine for the next five years..." because there will always be those looking for her to eat those words every time the school committee explains away unexpected expenses that have to be dealt with. Should there ever be a situation where the schools begin to cry poor mouth in the next half a decade, how many sympathetic ears do you think there will be across Town? And what do you think the chances are of the Town not drawing down on the full allotment of the override funds to support these "unexpected" expenses. And yes, Special Education funding needs to be included as unexpected expenses. And will anyone be tracking the percentages of the override draw downs as they happen and telling Town Meeting?

We wonder how demoralizing it may have been for those not supporting the override, after having read the Page 1 story and then turning to Page 2 and seeing that the School Committee is already setting the table to submit an application for another override to build a new middle school which, if approved by those state, will commence construction in as little as two years, which means more money out of taxpayers' pockets. In fairness, this should have come as no surprise to anyone given no one tried to hide that this was also in the plans, but for those not following things as closely as perhaps they should have been, it must have felt like an anvil falling on their heads.

We certainly hope the schools get to skip down Primrose Lane the next five years as Bodenhofer appears to be suggesting. However, the guess at this address is that this override, though perhaps necessary, could be a double edged sword in the long term. Like elephants, taxpayers never forget...

League of Women Voters Norwood Honors Three Lifetime Members "Truly in a League of their own..."

The Norwood League of Women Voters held its 2019 Annual Dinner Meeting at the historic Mason Lodge Building at 76 Day street, Norwood. The evening included an interesting tour of the building as well as a catered buffet by Victoria's Café. Generally, the Annual Meeting is significant because it includes an election of officers, committee reports, recommendations for programs of study, and other League business.

However, this year's event was unique because the Norwood League of Women Voters presented LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS to three members. League members who have attained 50 years of membership receive such an honorary status from both the Massachusetts and National Leagues. At our Annual Meeting, this designation was proudly conferred to Martha Colamaria (Town Meeting member, Rotary Citizen of the Year, and July 4th Parade Committee and former parade marshal, Council on Aging, Boston State College Education for Service Award, and League of Women Voters Voter Service Chair), Mardie McKenna (former Norwood School Committee member, former Town Meeting member, Smith College graduate, past League president, and working member on numerous local, state and national League studies), and Mary Ann Kenney (past local League president, served on State League Board Program & Action, Campaign Finance Reform Chair, Health Care Chair, Federal Education Study Chair and numerous other studies, Bulletin Editor, Fisher College graduate). They were presented with framed signed certificates from the Massachusetts League of Women Voters and citations from the State House, signed by Representative John Rogers and Senator Michael Rush.

These three outstanding women have dedicated countless hours of service to the League, to Norwood, and beyond, and exemplify active citizenship. It is notable that this dynamic trio of League women are all college educated; they were well-prepared for the workforce and for the ever-changing role of women in society in 1969 when they first joined the league. They have served the league, their town and wider community, and their families with dedication.

Martha Colamaria, Mary Anne Kenney, and Mardie McKenna – the Norwood League honors them as LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD members. They are truly in a League of their own.

Letters to the Editor

ONE NORWOOD SAYS THANKS

To the Editor:

The One Norwood campaign would like to thank our volunteers who helped to canvass every street, held signs and distributed flyers, and who wrote cards tirelessly by hand. Thank you to those of you who helped distribute our yard signs (and pick them up again!). Thank you to those who spoke to friends, had real (sometimes tough) conversations with neighbors, and reached across generations to engage voters. Thank you to the town and school officials, as well as elected officials, who worked on multiple budgets, and through endless meetings, to advocate for the best for our town. Thank you to the community organizations who endorsed a "Yes" vote. Most of all, thank you to every single one of you who made a point to get to the polls on June 3rd to vote Yes for our town, and Yes for our schools. We couldn't have done any of this without you. We are after all, One Norwood. The remainder of our campaign funds will be donated to the newly established property tax relief fund and to the Women's Community Committee (WCC).

alive and keep it going and Inez worked so hard... We just want folks to know that we're here for them, and you don't have to be from Norwood to be a member of the NAA, you can be from any town and you can show your work here."

NAA members Maureen Obey and Dianne Connolly went to the Norwood High School and looked at the seven scholarship entrees and they decided that Fiona Campbell really just stood out from the pack.

"It was hard to decide to be truthful, there was a lot of great work," said Obey.

Campbell said she drew a lot of inspiration for her artwork from music, as she started her artistic journey playing guitar. She said creating animations for her music really inspired her piece that got her chosen for this year's award. She will be using the money to help fund her studies, as she will be majoring in Game Art with a minor in Graphic Design at Fitchburg State University next year.

Resident and artist Paul Riley said the exhibition is a great way to get his art into the community, and he's also kind of famous for his alternative kinds of pieces using an Etch A Sketch.

"When I had kids I had one laying around on a tabletop and against the back of the tabletop was an old skyline. I've always been able to do skylines with an Etch A Sketch because they're up and down and right and left, so I just kind of ripped one off there and kind of followed through on that and I really enjoy it. Usually I'm inspired by holidays and I just post them on Facebook."

Resident Kevin Donohue said he and his family try to come out every year for the event.

"Jennifer and I got married here, so it's a really special place too," he said. "It's a beautiful day. We do tend to stop here often."

Dedham resident Sheila Pransky said she and her husband came after ordering take out down the street and while they didn't necessarily mean to come to the show, they were really glad they did.

"Thappen to know a lot of these ladies because I'm the director of the Council on Aging in Dedham. We participate in groups in painting and such over there."

Downey said the NAA keeps a gallery on the third floor of the WinSmith Mill Market and has several exhibitions throughout the year. For more information, go to norwoodartassociation.com

Seniors laud intergenerational programs To the Editor: As the school year comes to a close, I would like to personally thank the students and staff of the Norwood Public Schools for all the great intergenerational programs we have shared and enjoyed here at the Norwood Senior Center. We are happy to see Norwood students develop an appreciation for seniors through these events; here are some of the programs we have shared.

We started a pen pal program with the Oldham School this year. Eighteen students exchanged letters with their senior pen pals throughout the school year. In May, the students and seniors met each other at the center. The Little Mustangs and the senior center share a building. This enables us to make visits back and forth between the senior center and the preschool by walking through the hallways. The students have walked over to entertain us and the seniors have walked over and done a few performances for them.

The Norwood High School Student Council

hosted a senior prom here in May. Approximately 30 students, along with their teacher Kate Curtin, organized our first senior prom. Over 80 of our seniors spent the afternoon dancing, enjoying refreshments, and having their prom picture taken. The seniors had so much fun. They shared the laughs and memories for days after the prom!

The Norwood High school junior class walks over to the center to view our Memorial Day exhibit. Each year, Dolly Parker and her dedicated group of volunteers line our big room with memorabilia from our nation's wars. Many of our veterans are on hand to share with the students their personal experience while serving our great nation. We just completed our third year of having this event.

The LEAD program students are great helpers on Wednesdays when they collect for our weekly Bingo game. On Thursdays, they ride with our bus driver, Ellen, assisting the seniors with their groceries.

Another great program we have here that comes to an end each June is the culinary arts program with the Phoenix Tech Academy. Chef Andrew and Diane teach a group of students the skills needed to get a job in the food service industry. The seniors enjoy wonderfully prepared lunches four days a week and cater many large gatherings throughout the year.

Our seniors find a strong sense of purpose and companionship through the variety of programs they share with the students. We hope the students are gaining a deeper understanding of the extraordinary lives of older adults.

Thank you.

work over the course of this and last year," he said. "We had a successful spring and we're still moving forward; a few teams are in the tournament."

Longley went over the numbers for transportation to and from away games for all of Norwood's school sports teams. He said the costs came in at about $120,000.

"It's a significant amount of money, but it's less than last year by about $2k," he said. "We're still contracting with the same company, so a lot of the traveling is very similar."

Thomson also brought in several members of the Norwood Public Schools who are retiring this year.

"I'd like to mention Ted Thomas, who is the Senior Custodian at the Savage Center; he's the one who keeps me in line," he said.

Thomson said he started at the Callahan in 1989 and moved all around the district. Thomas said he was retiring to Maine once he was done in Norwood.

"We wish you all the best in your retirement," Thomson said.

Thomson also said they will be saying goodbye to Norwood Public Schools Director of Student Services Paula Alexander. He said she came to Norwood six years ago from the North Providence Rhode Island Public School System.

"She made the trip every day for six years from Rochester Massachusetts," he said. "She started the LEAP Program, sought ways to keep students in the district and enhanced resources for struggling learners."

Oldman School's Wesley Manaday also announced he was leaving after 12 years as principal. Thomson said he came from a high school in the City of Boston which had closed in 2006 and said he was an amazing asset to the students of Norwood.

Those three stood with the committee for a photo and members congratulated them on their accomplishments in the district. Thomson said five other faculty and staff members were also retiring after faithfully serving the Norwood Public Schools.

Food Services members Judy Bowman and Paula Olsen served notice. He said Olsen had personally served more than 3 million meals in her time in Norwood, and that Bowman started at the Coakley Middle School in 1993 and worked her way up to head cashier.

He said Elementary Music Teacher Tom Duggan would be retiring as well, and that he taught in every school since he joined in 1988, with the only exception being the Cleveland.

Special Education Teacher Charlene Sand is also leaving Norwood after 15 years of working with the Little Mustang Academy.

"She is a funny and thoughtful and caring educator," Thomson said.

Lastly, NHS Math Teacher Richard Simon is also leaving his post to hopefully, Thomson said, finish the house he has been building down on the Cape.

"He will be remembered for the caring he provided to his students, both in and out of the classroom," Thomson said.

invasive species without using "nasty pesticides."

Board member Joseph DiMaria made a motion to cooperate with the Town Planner to choose a pilot property for an invasive species control program to help restore the natural beauty of the area. It was approved unanimously.

In other news, the NCC approved a Notice of Intent unanimously by Solitude Lake Management, regarding Ellis Pond. A second Notice of Intent was approved 2-0 regarding 1261 Washington St. These dealt with weed and vegetation control at Ellis and Willett Ponds, as had been done in past years.

Doyle announced that an orchard of 50 apple trees of various varieties was planted at the Endean rotary this week.

In a case continued from Apr. 17, representatives from Goldman Environmental Consultants, Inc. sought and received approval for an ANRAD (Abbreviated Notice of Resource Area Delineation) for the Boston/Providence Turnpike. They represented Central Auto Team. The ANRAD confirms the delineation of a bordering vegetated wetland.

Goetz said he surveyed the property on May 28 and made a couple of changes to the flags. He noted that one of the best ways to determine a wetland is by its scent.

"There were only a couple of places that didn't have a sweet, earthy smell," he said. "You can't depend on the color of the soil."

He noted that it is an odd-shaped wetland area, and that the new wetland lines were mutually accepted.

In old business, a two-year extension was granted to David and Paige Martin for a project at 22 George Willett Parkway.

Also, Goetz said that the basin at the Wendy's/BJ's property is still full of water.

He was unsure if it was because of a change in the groundwater table, or if the area should be changed from a dry basin to a wet basin.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 19 at Town Hall.

Everett St. plan suddenly increases by 400 spaces

Jeff Sullivan
Staff Reporter

The Norwood Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) met on Tuesday, June 3rd and discussed a change to a proposal regarding a vehicle storage lot in Town.

Development Attorney James Hilliard, representing Peter Catanese, came in to amend the plan of record on a nonconforming use at 347 Everett St. The use is for open lot storage, and the ZBA already approved a special permit for that use. The problem, according to members of the ZBA, the Board only saw plans for 200 spaces and now, Hilliard said Catanese is planning to use the lot for car storage up to 600 spaces, for which he felt no additional applications or meetings are needed because it is not “an extension” of a nonconforming use, but rather a “continuation” of a nonconforming use.

He said the definition of open lot storage, found on page 138 of the Norwood Town Bylaw, states it is “The storage of goods, equipment, materials, supplies, tools, or any other commodity on a lot open to the air and not within a weather tight building or structure.” He argued that since the definition does not specify limits on the number of any particular thing one wishes to store, his client does not need another special permit for the increase from 200 spaces to 600 spaces.

ZBA member Philip Riley said his problem with that assessment is that of public opinion on the matter. He said the plans that have been on display and available to the public state 200 spaces.

“Any interested party could come in and look at the plan and only see 200 spaces and say, ‘I have no objection to that,’ and then they come back later on and the Board has allowed 600 spaces and they, perhaps legitimately, say, ‘what in the devil are these people doing? What about the notice? Why is it now 600 spaces?’” Riley said.

Members of the ZBA and the representative for 347 Everett St. disagreed about what the Zoning Bylaw states and how it pertains open lot storage.

COURTESY PHOTO

Hilliard said the number of spaces does not affect the use of the property, and he read the Zoning Bylaw to state “The Board of Appeals may award a special permit to change a nonconforming use in accordance with this section only if it determines that such change or extension shall not be substantially more detrimental than the existing nonconforming use to the neighborhood.”

Hilliard argued the lot can fit more than 700 cars and it would not be noticeable to residents, since there will be fencing to obstruct the view. He said he doesn’t believe this to be a “substantive change,” and would not need a public hearing. He argued that this was not an “extension” of an existing nonconforming use, which wouldn’t need additional approval, a public hearing or a separate special permit.

Riley asked if Hilliard also needed to go before the Norwood Planning Board for a change of more than 100 spaces for a new special permit, to which Hilliard said no.

“A preexisting nonconforming use doesn’t equate with anything specific; it’s a use for open lot storage of anything, it says what the any-

Trails talks trailblazing with scouts

Jeff Sullivan
Staff Reporter

The Norwood Trails Advisory Committee met on Tuesday, June 11, and discussed two plans from local boy scouts.

One scout came in for the meeting, Adam Gorine, and the other, Ryan Larson, will be presenting his plan at the next meeting. Both are planning their Eagle Scout projects with the Trails Committee, with Gorine looking to trail blaze at Pezwick Park and Larson looking to put at least two trail head kiosks at the head of Norwood's existing trails.

Gorine is a member of Troop 49 out of St. Catherine of Siena School.

"I heard about your group in the newspaper back in October, and I heard you were looking for help with trails," Gorine said. "I came to (Chair Joseph) Greeley and his recommendation was that there is a path over by the William Pezwick Park and the mill pond there that he was interested in and we went over there a couple of times... I've gone over it myself and I think I've come up with a trail plan that would be best suited for the location."

Gorine said he wants to use the existing truck path to start with and said he is looking to cut about 200 feet worth of bushes and shrubbery to make the trail happen.

"The truck path is a nice, but I didn't find it to be that much of a walk and it's very exposed to residential areas. That's not necessarily bad, but some people might find it's a better walk if they feel like they're more in the woods," he said.

Greeley said that Gorine should start up conversations with the Conservation Commission on the project. Gorine said he's working with his scout troop and should have plenty of additional labor. Member Lee Leach pointed out another potential problem. He said part of the land is owned by the Town of Norwood and part of it is owned by the Neponset Valley Watershed Association, and Gorine would have to work with them as well. Leach also pointed to another potential conflict, that the watershed association may be removing the dam at the mill pond, which would essentially remove the pond as well. Leach also said there might be contaminated soil there that the Association would have to remove and that might interfere with Gorine's plan. He did say that on June 24, at 7 p.m. at the Morrill Memorial Library, there will be a public meeting on the plan held by the Association.

thing is," he said. "The point is under the statute and under the Town Bylaw, if we didn't extend a preexisting nonconforming use, we could do it as a matter of right regardless of what was in there."

The ZBA was unclear on whether or not the approved Town Meeting Moratorium on Open Lot Storage Facilities would affect this special permit. Hilliard argued it could be grandfathered in since the application for it was filed well before the moratorium was enacted, but that it would be up to Norwood Building Inspector Mark Chubet. Riley said he still had a problem with the increase, since it wasn't on the original plan.

"You filed for an extension of a nonconforming use or whatever it was, and the notice that goes out to the public says accompanying this notice is a plan, and Joe Juice comes down and looks at the plan and says 'hey, 200 cars, that's okay by me, I'm not going to show up and object to this extension,' and suddenly and mysteriously it's 600 cars," he said. "And Joe Juice says 'what the devil is going on down there.'"

The Board agreed they will wait on a determination from Chubet and Town Counsel on whether or not Hilliard has to come back for a public hearing, which would advertise the change to 600 spaces, or if his assessment is correct. Hilliard withdrew the amendment pending Chubet's decision.

Also, the ZBA had a letter from Magno Capelli informing the Board that the company is withdrawing its request for a 1,200 square foot high-end beauty salon at 61 Endicott St.

BRAIN HEALTH WORKSHOPS

Representatives from Cogniciti, Inc.—affiliated with Tufts University Medical Center—will present two Brain Health Workshops at the Morrill Memorial Library on Friday, June 14 at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. to help older adults assess their current brain health. Researchers at Baycrest Hospital have created an online memory assessment for adults ages 50-85 that includes a variety of cognitive games and exercises. Participants will take a 15- to 20-minute Brain Health Assessment on a laptop provided, after which they will receive a print-out indicating where they stand relative to others their age and meet one-on-one to discuss their results. Handouts will also be provided. Each workshop is limited to a maximum of 20 people, and no computer experience is required. To register for either the 10:00 or 11:00 session, please call

BOOK GROUP TO READ "THE CHAPERONE"

Laura Moriarty's novel "The Chaperone" is the selection for the next Turn the Page Book Group at the Morrill Memorial Library on Wednesday, June 19 at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. The New York Times bestseller and the USA Today #1 Hot Fiction Pick for the summer, "The Chaperone" is a captivating account of the woman who chaperoned an irreverent Louise Brooks to New York City in 1922 and the summer that would change them both. It was recently made into a feature film starring Elizabeth McGovern by the creators of Downton Abbey. Patty Bailey and first-time guest host Geri Harrold will lead the discussion. Copies of the book in a variety of formats are available to pick up at the Circulation Desk, and refreshments will be served. To register for either the morning or evening session, please go to the events page at norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, x110, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

BASEBALL IN CUBA AND THE U.S.

The Friends of the Library will host José Ramírez, author of "Cuba and the 'Last' Baseball Season," at the Morrill Memorial Library on Thursday, June 22 at 7:00 pm. Ramírez's 2018 book features a foreword by Red Sox Hall Fame member Luis Tiant, Jr., and explores the impact of the Castro takeover in Cuba, including the abolishment of professional baseball at the end of the 1960-61 season.

Join us to learn more about the little known story of baseball players in Cuba and in the U.S. minors who learned that their dream of playing professional baseball in their home country would go unrealized. Players were faced with a difficult choice: leave family, home, friends, and their beloved homeland, in order to play professional baseball or, stay at home and pursue a different and uncertain way of life. This is a story of the personal struggle these men and their families endured, and the heart-wrenching judgement they had to make.

Ramírez was among the 14,048 unaccompanied minor children sent to the United States from Cuba by their parents through the fabled Pedro Pan Program between 1960 and 1962. A lifelong fan of Los Leones de La Habana (Havana Lions) and a member of the Society of American Baseball Research (SABR), in his retirement he writes and lectures about Cuba, baseball, Operation Pedro Pan, and his family. Copies of his book will be available to purchase at the program.

To register for this event, please visit the library's events calendar at www.norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200 x110, or visit the Reference or Information desk.

DR. HYLANDER TO DISCUSS THE DOOLITTLE RAID

Popular historian Dr. Gary Hylander will present "The Doolittle Raid" at the Morrill Memorial Library on Monday, June 17 at 7:00 p.m. Planned by Admiral King and Lieutenant Colonel Doolittle, the bombing of Tokyo gave a tremendous boost to American morale after Pearl Harbor. In April 1942, the aircraft carrier Hornet launched sixteen B-25 bombers against the Japanese capital. While the Doolittle raid did little military damage, it stunned Japanese military strategists. As a result of the raid, Japanese military leaders planned to establish a broad defensive perimeter in the western Pacific to prevent future American air attacks against the Japanese home islands. To register for this program, funded by the Friends of the Library, go to norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, x110, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

SPECIAL SUMMER CONCERT

Musical artist Maitreyee Chakraborty will be returning to the Morrill Memorial Library on Saturday June 22 for a special 2:00 pm concert, "Within me, within you: The universal spiritualism in Tagore's music." The songs composed by the early 20th century Bengali Nobel Laureate poet Rabindranath Tagore explore our multi-faceted relationship with spiritualism outside the boundary of religion and rituals. The songs in this concert are for folks from all religions or with no religion at all. The concert will be presented in a lecture-demonstration style with live instruments. Translations of songs and descriptive photos will be shown on a slide show. Maitreyee will lead the group with vocals, accompanied by Subho on guitar, Mona on harmonium, and Subhankar on percussion.

To sign up for this concert, please visit our online calendar at www.norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call the library at 781-769-0200 x110, or visit the Reference or Information desk. Back by popular demand, Norwood resident Aron Greenfield will return to the Morrill Memorial Library on Wednesday, June 26 at 7:00 p.m. to talk about his experiences as a Holocaust survivor during World War II. Greenfield, longtime owner of Brenner's Children Shop in Norwood along with his wife Martha, will speak for about an hour, give a short slide show, and answer questions from the audience. To register for this event, please go to www.norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, x110, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

WHO DOESN'T LIKE (CARILLON) BELLS?

Meet the musicians who play the Norwood Carillon and are featured in this summer's 34th annual Carillon Concert Series during an informal evening at the Morrill Memorial Library on Thursday, June 27 at 6:30 p.m. Over the last several years, a number of accomplished carillonneurs have moved to Eastern Mass. and have performed on the fine set of 50 English bells in the tower of the Norwood Town Hall. There will be an opportunity to hear about each person's carillon background, learn how Norwood's carillon provides unique challenges and experiences, and to ask questions. Hosted by Lee Leach, Norwood's carillonneur since 1995, this event is sure to be an enriching and enlightening experience for all. To register, please go to our calendar of events page at www.norwoodlibrary.org/morrillcalendar, call 781-769-0200, x110, or stop by the library Reference or Information Desk.

MOVIE MUSICAL MONDAYS ARE BACK!

The Morrill Memorial Library's popular summer film series, "Movie Musical Mondays," will be offered again this year, featuring a total of seven musicals or music biopics shown on most Mondays in July and August at 6:30 p.m. The series will begin on July 1 with the 1943 classic, "Yankee Doodle Dandy," based on the story of George M. Cohan and starring James Cagney and Walter Huston. The remaining films are: "Mamma Mia! ## Ask The Doctor Junior Damato began servicing vehicles in 1969. He owns a 10-bay auto repair service center in Hyde Park and an 8-bay center in Middleboro. Junior is an ASE-certified Master Technician, ASE-certified L-1 and ASE-certified Natural Gas.

2019 Toyota Avalon XSE Hybrid

A few years back, my wife wanted a Toyota Camry. I asked, "How about an Avalon?," and she said the Avalon was not sporty like the Camry. So, she ended up with a V/6 Camry XSE that had a MSRP of over $36,000. Compare that, five years ago, to today's loaded Hybrid Avalon MSRP at $40,492. The 2019 Avalon Hybrid is powered by a 178 horsepower, 4-cylinder gas engine and 215 horsepower Hybrid electric power. In my opinion, Toyota is the leader in Hybrid vehicles. I service 20 plus vehicles a day and the keyword is service, not repairs, and Toyota is on the service list of normal maintenance.

The Avalon has a more aggressive front grille and very modern rear style. The look is not the typical Avalon. It now looks more like a high performance four-door sedan. Open the door and touch the seats and find high quality soft leather with suede inserts. A large center display is very clear and very easy to navigate. Sport-tuned suspension that, unlike the older tuned suspension, does not give a harsh ride. There are 18-inch tires and alloy wheels, and all safety, driving and accident avoidance features. LED lights are everywhere, including headlights, with heated front seats with power adjustments.

There is dual zone electronic climate control, push-to-start and lots more. The heater comes to temperature quickly. The engine combination has instant power and is very quiet under all driving conditions. On the back roads there is very little swaying or leaning when cornering. The suspension absorbed all the bumps I could throw at it. Base price starts at $39,000 (destination fee: $920). Our test car did have a few options, including the carpeted mat package at $248; illuminated door sill plates at $379; and paint protective film at $395. EPA: 43 city and yes, 43 highway MPG. My thoughts are that the Hybrid is a car I can live with in any driving condition and the Hybrid option is now affordable.

Boston's own Junior Damato, "The Auto Doctor" has agreed to field auto repair questions from Bulletin and Record readers. Please forward your questions to news@bulletinnewspapers.com and we will do our best to get your questions answered.
