Norwood School Committee Chairman Bill Plasko Jr. was charged with breaking and entering at nighttime to commit a felony and indecent assault and battery charges, and was arraigned on Tuesday morning, where he pleaded not guilty.

Norwood Police Spokesperson Kevin Grasso said a woman told police she had been sexually assaulted by Plasko. The woman claimed Plasko, 41, had removed a screen from a window and entered her home.

"He went to the residence of a person he knows," Grasso said. "They do have a relationship."

The victim alleged she awoke when she felt the defendant's hands on her, and screamed and yelled for the defendant to leave.

Westwood approves Norwood Farmers' Market move

Norwood's loss will become Westwood's gain as the farmers currently comprising the Norwood's Farmers' Market will take their talents roughly one-and-a-half miles north to Westwood in the spring.

The Westwood Board of Selectmen approved a motion to welcome Norwood's Farmers' Market farmers, approving the measure unanimously at its Oct. 4. meeting.

"There were a couple of places they were very interested in," Westwood Economic Development Officer Chris McKeown said at the group's Oct. 4 meeting. "Essentially, [Norwood is] aware and hasn't reached out to the farmers' market to dissuade them from coming to us."

The current Norwood Farmers' Market members will move from their current location at the municipal parking lot behind the Apollo Function Facility at Nahatan and Cottage Streets to the Westwood Council on Aging's parking lot.

McKeown noted the Westwood Council on Aging and Norwood Farmers' Market farmers and vendors showed interest in making the move.

"They're excited about it," McKeown said. "All the parties want to pursue it and make it work."

The Apollo Function Facility municipal parking lot has hosted the Norwood Farmers' Market for 16 years, but the Norwood Board of Selectmen voted 3-2 to move it to the Town Common next year at its Aug. 23 meeting. Selectmen Allan Howard and Helen Abdallah Donohue voted against the measure.

However, several farmers' market vendors and patrons had spoken out against the move.

"I enjoyed being here," Norwood Farmers' Market vendor Jim Cellucci said. "I've always done well [in Norwood]."

Norwood Friendly's makes the cut

Daniel Kobialka

Friendly Ice Cream Corp. and its subsidiaries, the operator of Friendly's restaurants and a nationwide distributor of ice cream products, announced 63 of its eateries will close, but the Norwood location will remain intact despite the company's economic challenges.

Friendly's, a restaurant chain offering patrons food such as sandwiches, hamburgers and ice cream, features more than 400 locations along the East Coast. The Norwood Friendly's, located at 1469 Boston Providence Tpke., has served the community for more than 30 years.

Friendly's announced it had filed a voluntary petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. As part of the filing, Friendly's will enter a 363 sale process with an affiliate of its current owners, Sun Capital Partners, as the lead or "Stalking Horse" bidder to quickly restructure the company.

Friendly's anticipates the restructuring will have no impact on manufacturing and distribution operations.

The company has secured approximately $70 million in debtor-in-possession (DIP) financing, which, along with the company's cash flow, will provide the working capital necessary to meet its ongoing obligations during the restructuring. The company expects to be able to continue paying employee salaries and benefits, meet the needs of its guests and retail customers and honor all gift cards.

The decision to financially restructure through a Chapter 11 filing was driven largely by the challenges of the current economic downturn; significantly increased costs, particularly in commodities such as cream; rents that exceed current market rates; and certain of the company's current unrelated liabilities. Friendly's CEO Harsha V. Agadi noted the filing will provide Friendly's with the tools and time to strengthen its balance sheet, close underperforming restaurants, revisit certain agreements and reposition the company for long-term success.

"We have embarked on an aggressive campaign to enhance restaurant operations, improve the guest experience, strengthen our team and expand the company's successful retail ice cream business," Agadi said. "I am particularly pleased with the enthusiastic response among our guests and employees to the recently launched 'High Five' campaign, which not only provides great meal values but is also revitalizing our brand in the marketplace."

Agadi noted the company's staff has helped it significantly during difficult economic times.

"Thanks to our dedicated employees and franchisees, we have made a lot of progress, but our company continued to face significant financial challenges," Agadi said. "This was

Selectmen to place fire truck on TM agenda

Daniel Kobialka
Staff Reporter

The Norwood Board of Selectmen agreed to insert a warrant article to next month's Special Town Meeting (TM) for a new ladder truck at its meeting Tuesday, but not before a lengthy discussion.

Norwood Fire Chief Michael Howard raised the possibility of replacing Ladder 1 at TM at the Sept. 13 Selectmen meeting, and submitted a report to the Board outlining the ongoing repairs to Ladder Truck 1, a 20-year member of the department, prior to the group's Oct. 4 meeting.

At Tuesday's meeting, Howard formally requested $1.3 million be placed on a warrant article as part of TM. The Norwood Fire Chief noted it could take between eight to 10 months to receive a new ladder truck if approved by the town.

"The Fire-Rescue Department understands that the town continues to face financial challenges, but feel that it is important for the Emergency Replacement of Aerial-Ladder #1 at this time; for the safety of the firefighters and the citizens of Norwood, that we protect," Howard said in a letter to Selectmen. "The emergency replacement of this aerial ladder is critical to the success of our day to day operations and the services we provide to the citizens of Norwood."

Howard indicated the ladder truck remained out of service for 16 days last month due to an electrical wiring problem with the engine and an aerial jack issue on the left front aerial jack.

The Norwood Fire Chief emphasized the ladder truck plays a critical role within the department.

"This aerial ladder performs crucial life safety functions at the scene of emergencies such as rescue, ventilation [and] laddering of the building for safe exit routes for firefighters and therefore needs to be replaced," Howard said.

Howard said the ladder truck returned to service last week.

"Since we placed it back in service, it has not had any problems," Howard said.

The department purchased a new ambulance earlier this year at an estimated cost of more than $275,000, according to the fiscal 2012 proposed capital project expenditure list.

Board of Selectmen Chairman Michael Lyons noted replacing the ladder truck has been discussed for more than two years.

"Obviously, we can't fund everything," Lyons said. "The ambulance was a little easier to sell because it's profit bearing. You could make the argument that it pays for itself."

Lyons noted the fire department may have maximized its use of the current ladder truck.

"They've done a great job keeping it on the road," Lyons said, "but there is no benefit to keeping it that way."

Lyons emphasized the fire department may need a replacement ladder truck sooner rather than later.

"It's overdue," Lyons said, "and obviously the [fire] department cannot function without it."

However, Selectman Allan Howard asked the Fire Chief whether he gathered sufficient input from experts involved with the Fire Department about the type of ladder truck that could be purchased to replace Ladder Truck 1.

"It is becoming apparent to me that you have not sought input on purchasing a new truck," Howard told the Fire Chief. "You're steadfast in suggesting the vehicle you want."

Selectman Howard said people within the Fire Department told him that the best vehicle to purchase would be a $995,000 truck with a 137-ft. ladder.

Chief Howard estimated the total cost would range between $1.1 and $1.3 million for a replacement ladder truck depending on the department's decision. The Fire Chief noted the department would decide which vehicle to purchase if and when it was added as a warrant article and approved by TM.

"No decision has been made as to what we are going to purchase," Chief Howard told the Board.

Howard questioned why department officers went to a Selectman regarding the ladder truck.

"It disturbs me that people are running to him like little ants," Howard said.

Selectman Bill Plasko shared Selectman Howard's view, questioning why the Fire Chief lacked input from other parties.

"I'm concerned that he wouldn't go through the process with other input," Plasko said of Chief Howard.

However, Fire Department Mechanic Michael Waters provided additional insight into the ladder truck, noting reliability remains a concern.

Waters said ongoing repairs to the vehicle could cost the town more in the long-term.

"It is not really cost effective," Waters said, noting custom parts were required to repair Ladder Truck 1's transmission mount and air tank system recently. "We're just throwing money at it."

Lyons noted the cost could continue to rise if the Fire Department continues to wait for a new ladder truck.

"The cost balloons," Lyons said. "It doesn't get any cheaper. The longer we wait, the more expensive the cost gets."

Plasko suggested moving forward with a ladder truck TM article, but noted the group should not include a potential cost for the vehicle.

The Board accepted a motion to insert the warrant article at next month's TM by a 4-1 vote. Allan Howard voted against the motion.

"I think the information is not adequate at this time," Howard said prior to the vote. "I want experts. Frankly, I don't just want the Fire Chief."

Questioning was inappropriate

There should be little doubt about this newspaper's position regarding the Norwood Fire Department. We have consistently questioned Fire Chief Michael Howard's decision making, especially when it comes to his budgets, more specifically his failure to adhere to them, and his apparent inability to work and play nicely with others in town government.

We thought Town Meeting's decision to support a "Strong Chief" was dumb, given it was obvious TM was manipulated by a few who cared too much and a majority misled into thinking that a fire chief needing to vet his major decisions through the Town Manager was placing residents in danger.

We have also been vocal in proclaiming our belief that the 24-hour shift, adopted by virtually every community in the Commonwealth after being strong-armed by unions much stronger back then than they are now, is one of the biggest boondoggles in the state's history, costing taxpaying residents unnecessary millions in ridiculous overtime and sick leave spending, Norwood's department taking full advantage of every nuance in the program whenever possible, enabled by a Chief unwilling or unable to place the interests of the residents who employ him above the staff he needs to work with.

With all of that being written, we thought the questioning by Selectmen of Chief Howard at Tuesday night's meeting inappropriate, or at least the way the questioning was conducted. It was obvious a few Selectmen are frustrated, particularly Selectman Bill Plasko Sr., who under most circumstances is a voice of reason, but when it comes to Chief Howard loses his cool and, on Tuesday, raised his voice inappropriately. In government, like in business, there are times when discussions can get overheated, but in front of a television audience is not the place to have it happen. As the saying goes, "You have a beef with a guy, take it outside."

We were even more disturbed by the questioning posed by Selectman Allan Howard. Quite frankly, we thought Selectman Howard ambushed Chief Howard with accusations of decisions being already made concerning the purchase of a new ladder truck, claiming he had Fire Department employees coming to him saying the Chief wasn't being truthful when he claims no decision has been made as to what truck to purchase.

If it is true department employees went running to Selectman Howard behind the Chief's back, then obviously there are more serious problems within the NFD than deciding what ladder truck to buy. But embarrassing the Chief during a televised meeting was flat out wrong. Asking the Chief if he is getting proper feedback from within the department is fine, but pulling "gotcha" surprises reeks of pettiness. Again, a lot can be accomplished outside the eye and earshot of a television audience. Selectman Howard could have stated his case a lot more appropriately than the show he put on Tuesday evening.

The irony of the whole situation is that the majority of Selectmen, with the exception of Howard, thought the situation with the current ladder truck was dire enough to place it on the TM warrant coming up shortly. Selectman Howard thought it could wait until spring. Therefore, since everyone agreed the town needs a new truck, what was the point of badgering the Chief as to whether or not a decision had been made as to which one? TM will decide if the Chief has stated his case thoroughly enough, and they will determine how much money to spend.

Town Meeting voted for a Strong Chief. Some Selectmen obviously don't like the decision.

MY TWO CENTS WORTH

If I was born and brought up with the greatest generation, I will be shuffling off in the lost generation. All the fuss with the politicians, Scott Brown and Elizabeth Warren, got me thinking. Those two perfectly harmless, good zingers, causing all the fuss, requesting apologies and tsk, tsking, are really sad. That includes Nancy Pelosi. The country has gotten so thin skinned and politically correct that it's hard to have any sense of humor. Politicians used to call each other outrageous things and kept right on smiling.

In school we said the Lord's Prayer, Jews, Catholics and Protestants alike, and saluted the flag. Some even sang God Bless America and no atheists cried foul. They just didn't bother to pray. Mother didn't run to the principal if children were scolded. They did even more scolding at home.

Families don't teach junior the meaning of the word "No" anymore. It might hurt his feelings. Some day it could save his life. At birthday parties everyone has to get a present. They're not taught that it just isn't their day. Everyone makes the team if they try out, and everyone gets an award because they played. Everyone HAS to play because it's in the rules. They never learned to take a disappointment like not making a team. They never learned that some kids are better athletes, but if you keep trying you might make it some day.

Physical activity is playing video games with your thumbs, or doing things on the computer keyboard. We went out early and came home late. We played games, explored, made up things to do. If we went to the ballpark there was no organized league. If only three or 20 kids showed up, we figured some kind of a baseball event to play.

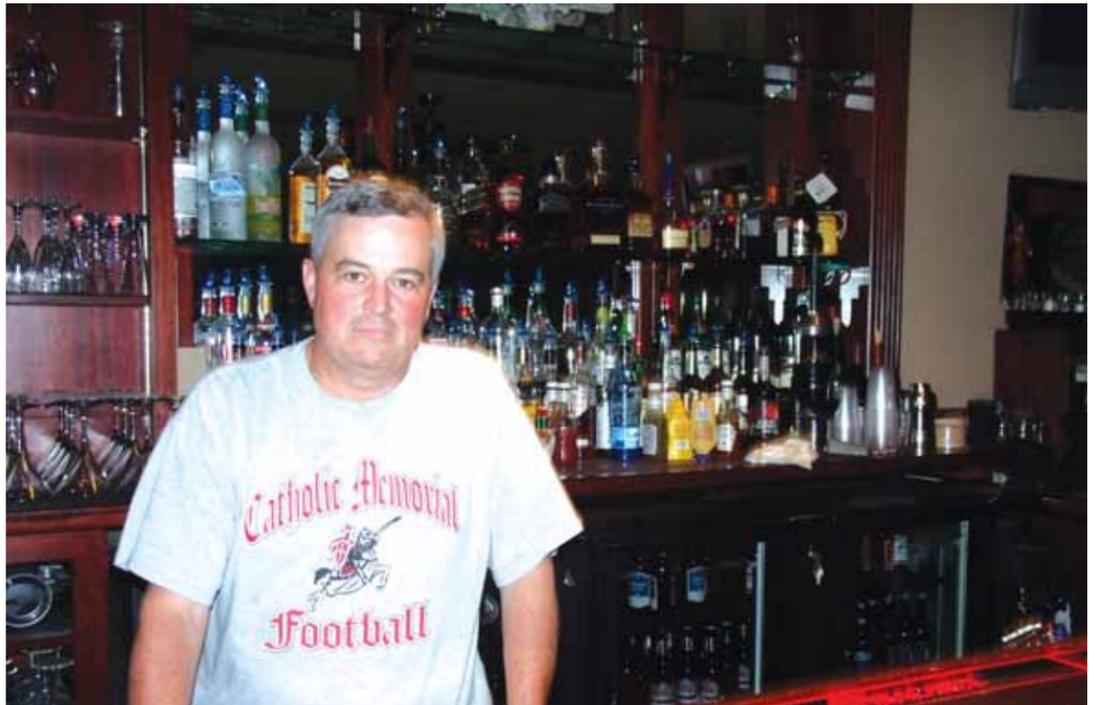

Now all kids can think of is the damage or vandalism they can do for fun.

They don't fist fight to settle an argument. They shoot or stab him. We had fights and couldn't remember who said "Uncle" because you often became good friends later on. So many stories we read about boys killing their girlfriends because the girls were breaking up with them.

Last, but not least, when an authority figure or policeman said stop, jump, or freeze, you did it immediately and without a lot of talk. Mother and father were the last two people on earth that you ever wanted to disappoint by doing something stupid. This is a lost generation.

And that's my two cents worth.

Lewis' owner disputes liquor incident report

Daniel Kobialka

Lewis' restaurant owner David W. Kelley Jr. noted he's not playing games when it comes to the Board of Selectmen's discussion of a liquor incident involving his restaurant at the group's Oct. 4 meeting.

The police reported a liquor incident at Lewis' on Aug. 19 at approximately 12:45 a.m. Norwood Police Officer Timothy McDonough responded to a call regarding a report of an intoxicated woman who was treated at Norwood Hospital due to her being in medical distress from apparent alcohol intoxication.

The Norwood Police questioned the Lewis' bartenders, both of whom denied serving the woman any alcoholic beverages.

Norwood Detective Richard Giacoppo spoke with the woman involved in the incident on Aug. 29, and indicated the woman told him she arrived at Lewis' restaurant at approximately 9:30 p.m. on Aug. 18.

The woman said she played beer pong at the restaurant "for an hour or two," consuming at least five beers and two mixed drinks.

Giacoppo's report stated the woman told him that when she switched from drinking beer to consuming mixed drinks, she said she felt that is what made her sick.

Giacoppo said he spoke with a friend of the woman involved in the incident on Aug.

Cellucci said he has operated a booth for Newton's Great Harvest Bread Co. at the farmers' market for several years. Cellucci noted the farmers have received no contact from Norwood officials following the Westwood Board of Selectmen's decision, despite the market's success.

Norwood resident Julie Barbour-Issa said she feels disappointed about the decision to relocate to Westwood next year.

"It's convenient and it's a community thing," Barbour-Issa said of the Norwood Farmers' Market. "It's a great asset in the community."

Howard said the Selectmen received more than 20 emails regarding the move to the Town Common.

"It is disappointing losing it, knowing that people enjoy it," Howard said.

Westwood Selectmen Clerk Nancy Hyde noted the farmers and vendors will be a welcome addition to Westwood as among them are three vegetable stands, one baker and a fish truck.

"I happen to go there, and it's a really nice group of people," Hyde said. "They seem to be a cohesive group that knows each other and works well together, and I guess they've expressed interest in staying together."

The Westwood Board of Selectmen accepted the motion to welcome the farmers and vendors unanimously. They could make the move to Westwood next April.

Westwood resident Ronnie Sullivan said Westwood's decision came as a happy surprise.

"Norwood made a big mistake," Sullivan said.

Sullivan emphasized she has visited the Norwood Farmers' Market for several years. Prior to the market's creation, she said she traveled to Brookline to purchase all natural goods.

However, the vendors' relocation to Westwood will make things easier for the Westwood resident.

"I'm really elated about the move," Sullivan said. "It's super!"

The Norwood Board of Selectmen will search for new sellers as it prepares to open the farmers' market in the Town Common in 2012.

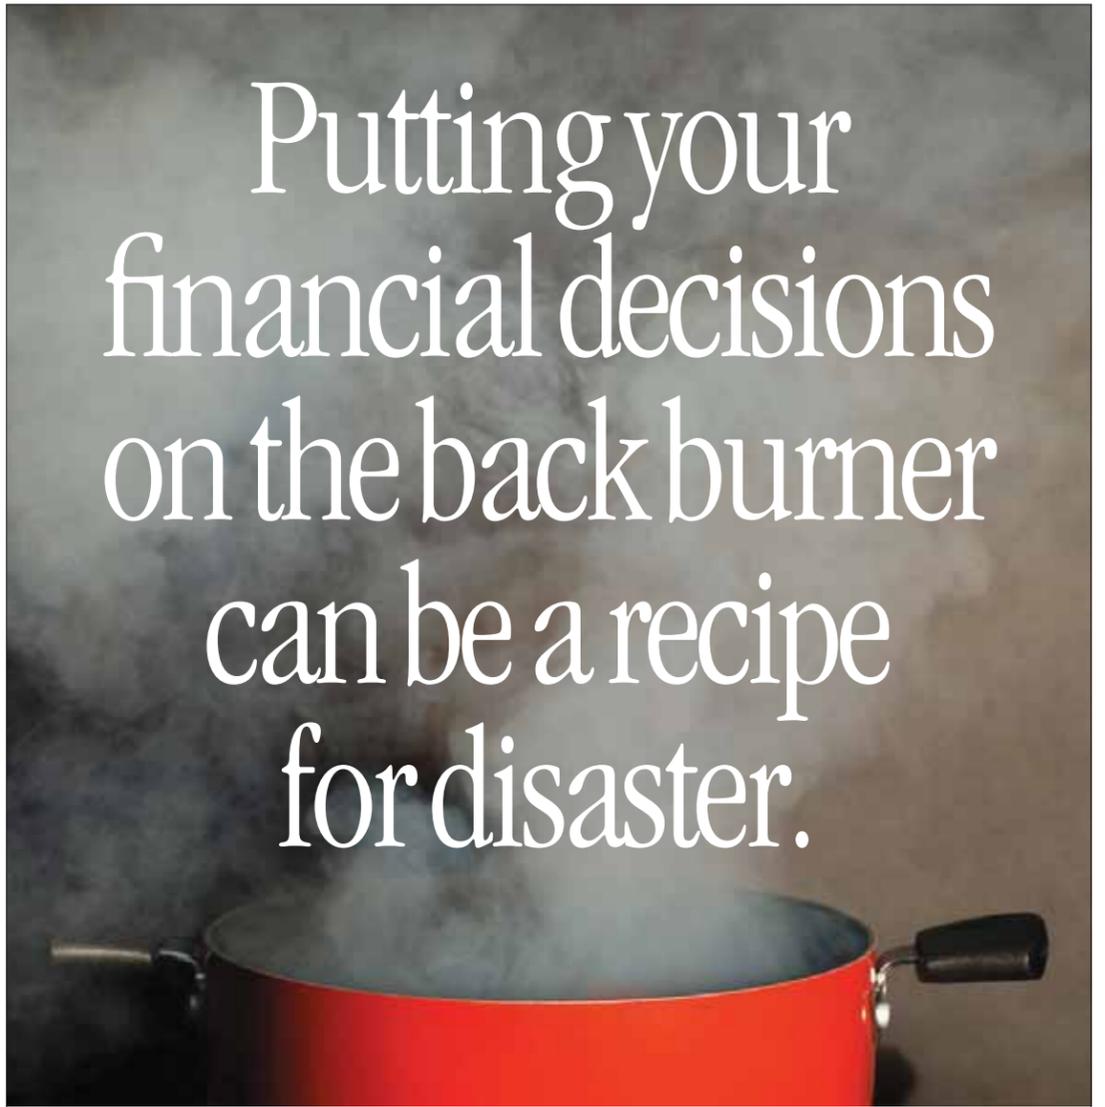

"We're looking to have more than three to four vendors," Norwood Selectman Paul Bishop said. "We want a large amount of vendors."

Bishop emphasized the Board is taking a long-term approach to the farmers' market.

"We have to envision the future of the town," Bishop said. "We have to do what's best for everyone."

Bishop said the move offers a win-win opportunity for Norwood, Westwood and the farmers' market vendors.

"It's an ideal situation," Bishop said of the farmers' decision to relocate to Westwood. "We wish them well."

The woman reported the alleged assault to the Police Station at 12:55 a.m. on Saturday, and was transported to Caritas Norwood Hospital for evaluation.

Police arrested Plasko on Saturday morning.

School Committee member Dick Kief declined comment on the arrest, but said he has enjoyed working with Plasko.

“Bill Plasko Jr. is one of the best School Committee members I have served with,” Kief said.

Plasko, a Norwood resident, joined the School Committee 12 years ago, and had served as School Committee Vice Chairman until Mark Joseph’s resignation in June.

Plasko has remained School Committee Chairman since June.

Plasko was named principal of Wareham Cooperative Junior Senior High School in July 2010 following work with the Franklin High School alternative-learning program.

Wareham Public Schools Superintendent Dr. Barry Rabinovitch said Plasko notified him of the arrest on Sunday.

“I have placed Mr. Plasko on administrative leave pending further information,” Rabinovitch said.

Rabinovitch said Plasko has been instructed by his attorney not to make any further comments on the matter.

The Commonwealth ordered Plasko to avoid and have no contact with the victim at Tuesday’s arraignment.

District Attorney’s Office Spokesperson David Traub said the Commonwealth requested $10,000 cash bail, enforced abstinence from alcohol and Plasko to have no contact with the victim.

Traub said Judge Michael Pomarole did not order the cash bail or the conditions and released Plasko on person recognition.

Plasko failed to respond to request for comment regarding the arrest. Selectman Bill Plasko Sr., Bill Plasko Jr.’s father, issued no comment following Tuesday’s Board of Selectmen meeting.

Traub said Plasko Jr. will return to court Nov. 22 for a pre-trial conference.

31. The friend told Giacoppo that they arrived together at a beer pong tournament at Lewis’ on Aug. 18, and were nearby to each other until just after midnight, before the woman needed medical attention.

The restaurant bartenders told police on Sept. 17 that they did not recall seeing the woman involved in the incident at the bar on the date in question.

“[The bartenders] informed me that the event was very well attended and that Lewis’ had people at the door and walking around supervising the room,” Giacoppo stated in his report.

However, Kelley has challenged the police report, questioning the Norwood Police’s investigation following the incident.

“The Norwood Police in my opinion did a horrible, horrible job,” Kelley said. “This young lady...there’s a very good chance she’ll get a letter of disinvite. And she’ll be the first young lady in the history of Lewis’ to get a letter of disinvite.”

Kelley said beer pong had been a staple at the establishment for two years. In addition, the Lewis’ owner noted six staff members were on hand during the night in question, each with more than five years of experience.

Kelley questioned why he had received no response to date from the Norwood Police regarding the incident.

“I haven’t talked to anybody,” Kelley said Friday. “Not once has anyone from the Norwood Police Department talked to me.”

Kelley noted the evening in question was a positive night until the restaurant refused to serve one patron after midnight.

“It was a good night all the way around until one person after last call went to the bar asking for a drink,” Kelley said, “and our guys didn’t serve her. And an off-duty cop calls an ambulance?”

Lewis’ version of beer pong involves water in the cups, not alcohol. Kelley questioned why an off-duty Norwood Police Officer called an ambulance for the patron.

“Not one person came in and said she was intoxicated on the premises,” Kelley said.

Kelley noted he has emailed Norwood Police Chief Bartley E. King Jr. and forwarded the email to the Selectmen about the incident. Kelley said Tuesday he received an email response from King, including the incident report. The Selectmen filed Kelley’s email at their Tuesday meeting.

The Selectmen accepted a motion to send a letter of concern to Lewis’ involving drinking games at its Oct. 4 meeting. The motion carried by a 4-1 vote.

Selectman Paul Bishop noted Kelley may be focused on the incorrect questions involved in the incident.

“I think we’re (selectmen) focusing on the pong instead of focusing on the intoxicated person,” Bishop said. “I think the most important thing is that she was removed from the building intoxicated.”

Kelley noted the restaurant has not hosted beer pong since the incident.

However, Kelley said he considers the incident to be closed.

“Everyone makes mistakes,” Kelley said, referring to the young woman involved in the incident. “As far as we’re concerned, it’s over.”

exacerbated by the weak economy and rapidly rising commodity costs that have impacted the entire restaurant industry. The strategic decision to pursue a financial restructuring will allow us to proactively and quickly improve our financial position and ensure we have the resources to build a better and stronger Friendly’s for our loyal guests, retail customers, suppliers and other business partners.”

Agadi noted the company conducted a thorough analysis of the profitability and contribution of all Friendly’s locations, including the lease costs involved, before making its decision to close its underperforming restaurants.

Walpole resident Linda Morell said she and her 11-year-old daughter visit the Norwood Friendly’s on a weekly basis, but have frequented the Dedham and Medfield locations as well.

However, Morell noted the Norwood location may have survived the cut because of its service.

“We’ve never had a bad experience,” Morell said. “It’s always been good.”

Morell said the Norwood Friendly’s is larger than other Friendly’s restaurants in the Commonwealth, which may have an impact on its success.

“This is one of the better ones,” Morell said. “The other locations I’ve visited seem small.”

A Norwood Friendly’s location staff member declined comment regarding the restaurant.

The closures could help the company realize important cost savings and operational efficiencies that will improve its financial foundation so it can better serve all constituencies. Friendly’s has encouraged employees from closed locations to apply at nearby operating restaurants where available.

Norwood Historical Commission Chairwoman Judith Howard said the replica Little Red Brick School House could be finished by Thanksgiving.

Almost Done!

Little Red Schoolhouse nearing completion

Daniel Kobialka

School remains back in session, but a history lesson may resume at a historic town building by Thanksgiving, thanks to the efforts of the Norwood Historical Commission (NHC).

The Little Red Brick School House will make a return appearance to Norwood as the project to replicate the historic building moves closer to completion.

The replica schoolhouse facility will rest at the Morse House, a different location from the original spot where the building was erected in 1788.

"It used to be situated at the corner of Sumner and Pleasant Streets," South Norwood Committee member Lillian Martowska said. "But we took it brick by brick to rebuild it at the Morse House."

Norwood Historical Commission Chairwoman Judith Howard said the project could be finished by Thanksgiving.

"It's almost done," Howard said. "Most of the outside is complete, and we're completing the inside this fall."

Howard said the building's completion is a win for the town and its history.

"It's a good thing for the school and a good thing for historic preservation," Howard said.

The original building was utilized as a one-room schoolhouse, serving as a one-bedroom school for 80 years.

However, the schoolhouse began serving a different purpose in 1870.

A mansard roof was installed at the schoolhouse in 1870, and the building was eventually developed for residential use.

Howard said the Historical Commission has worked hard to preserve the schoolhouse over the past two years.

The schoolhouse was slated for demolition in May 2009, but the Historical Commission managed to raise the funds necessary to replicate the building.

However, the Historical Commission faced challenges replicating the structure.

"It really wasn't movable because it was just a bunch of bricks," former NHC member Jerry Kelleher said.

Kelleher, an NHC member for more than 10 years, noted the group did what it could to help preserve a piece of Norwood's history.

Recreating a more than 350 square ft. schoolhouse required additional assistance, and Blue Hills Regional Hills School students were happy to lend a helping hand.

Howard said at least eight students helped recreate the Little Red Brick School House as part of their curriculum.

"We thought of Blue Hills because it was a teaching mechanism for students," Howard said.

Kelleher noted getting the Canton school involved proved mutually beneficial for the school and the town of Norwood.

"It's a nice project for the kids at the Blue Hills School," Kelleher said.

Morse House Committee co-chair Dale Day noted inclement weather proved difficult this winter as it delayed the project's progress.

"You can only do what you can do," Day said. "You can't control the weather."

However, the Historical Commission has kept the project on course over the two-year stretch.

"The project didn't go quite as rapidly as we had hoped," Day said, "but it's pretty much under control now."

Day noted preserving the schoolhouse will benefit the town and its residents.

"You can't save everything," Day said, "but we're trying to save as much as we can going back to the beginning of the town."

Howard noted interior work remains the final piece of the schoolhouse puzzle.

"That's the only thing that's left," Howard said, referring to the replica schoolhouse's interior.

Howard said local residents will see an authentic replica schoolhouse in South Norwood following its completion.

"You have to save the original," Howard said, noting the historic nature of the schoolhouse replication project. "It's the original that's important."

Howard said she anticipates a ribbon-cutting ceremony will be held to commemorate the completion of the replica schoolhouse.

Daniel Kobialka
Staff Reporter

The Norwood Senior Center displayed its talent as local octogenarians performed songs, dances and comedy routines at the 2011 Annual Senior Variety Show on Friday.

Fourteen acts graced the Senior Center's auditorium stage to showcase their talents for more than 75 attendees.

Event organizer Millie Farrell noted seniors enjoy participating in the annual event.

"I expect the seniors to have a good time," Farrell said. "They love the shows because they're not perfect, but everyone has a good time."

Farrell said she has organized the event for the past four years, but the event organizer participated in three musical acts during the 2011 show as well.

This year's event was dedicated to the memory of Gloria Brunt, a Norwood resident who taught square dancing at the Senior Center for 15 years.

The variety show offered participants an opportunity to display their skills in a fun, enjoyable environment.

"It's a lot of fun. They have a wonderful time," volunteer Anne Palumbo said. "They put their hearts and souls into it."

Palumbo noted she was happy to provide her support.

"I love the center. They do so much" Palumbo said. "I do whatever I can to help them out."

The variety show kicked off with a rendition of "Birth of the Blues," a song once performed by popular singers including Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby and Sammy Davis Jr.

However, the opening number was far from the only popular hit performed during the show, as participants sang and danced to songs including the Bee Gees' "Stayin' Alive" and Right Said Fred's "I'm Too Sexy."

In addition, the event featured poetry and jokes as local residents brought their best material to the stage.

"When I get the opportunity to write a poem, I do it about anything," comedian and poet Mary Capobianco said, noting she has written thousands of poems in her life.

All performers came together in a patriotic salute for the closing number as they sang "Let There Be Peace on Earth." Participants held hands as the audience showed its support with applause.

Tommy Munro (number 10) rallies his team in a recent game. The Mustangs fell short against a Walpole team ranked #13 in the state last week

Mustangs fall to Rebels in defensive battle

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

Norwood head football coach John Sarianides termed it as "David versus Goliath" the week leading into their game against Bay State Conference power Walpole on Oct. 6.

The Rebels were playing the role of the New England Patriots over the past two decades in high school football, winning league titles and Super Bowls, and ranked 13th in the state this year.

The Mustangs entered as the New York Jets, successful as of late, but still looking to get over the proverbial hump in a huge game.

Ironically enough, both games ended the same way this weekend. While the Patriots continued to be king of the AFC East Sunday afternoon, Norwood went toe-to-toe with Walpole on a chilly Thursday night for three quarters, battling to a scoreless tie with 12 minutes to play, and a potential upset and out-right first place lead in their grasp.

However, the Hanley brothers, who have been a huge factor for Walpole all year, took over in the fourth quarter. After Craig Hanley scored on a five-yard touchdown run, Cam sealed the game later on with a 25-yard touch down run of his own as the Rebels shut out the Mustangs 14-0. The Rebels moved to 5-0 overall, while Norwood fell to 3-2 this season.

Norwood's defense has been the key to their success all season, along with quarterback Tommy Munro's ability to create plays with his legs. While the defense held up its end for nearly a full 48 minutes, the Mustangs just could not find a way to score.

While the dream of a playoff berth and Bay State Conference title are certainly not out of the question, Norwood does not completely control its own fate: they will need one of their fellow division rivals to upset a strong Rebels team in one of the final six weeks of the season, while also taking care of their own business in every game if they want to have a shot at postseason football.

Both Natick and Weymouth stand at 4-1, while Walpole sits atop the Bay State Conference's Herget Division. Norwood holds the head-to-head tiebreaker over Natick after their big home victory a few weeks ago, and will take on Weymouth on the road on Oct. 21.

The Mustangs will take on the Newton North Tigers in Newton at 2 p.m. on Saturday. The Tigers enter the game at 2-3 after recently losing a 35-29 shootout to Weymouth on the road. Newton North has put up over 20 points in each game they have played this season, while scoring 34 and 35 points respectively in each of their last two games.

Clearly, with defense being the priority for Swimming finally handed first loss

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

While the unbeaten streak ended last week with a 98-86 loss to Needham on Oct. 4, the Norwood Swim team quickly picked themselves back up and improved their record to 6-1 with a 95-83 win over Brookline on Thursday, Oct. 6.

With more record setting performances in the pool from top to bottom, the Mustang swimmers and divers are continuing to make huge waves around the state this fall season, surpassing any and all expectations they had entering the year.

Along with the win came additional sectional and state cut times. Norwood won nine of 11 events during the meet and even got the 1-2 sweeps in seven of those events.

Alex Metta qualified for sectionals in both the 200 individual medley and 100 backstroke. Metta was also one of three double winners in the meet. (Patricia Lee and Will Higgins were the other two).

Anthony Rodriguez qualified for states in the 100 freestyle while Marguerite Lee's personal best time in the 100-yard breaststroke earned her a trip to the sectional meet. Diver

Kristen Folan came out on top in diving, breaking her own team record.

Higgins then did the same in the 100-yard freestyle. Personal best times were also swum by Meaghan Shaughnessy in the 200-yard free, Kyle McLaughlin for her 50-yard freestyle, and Brianna Whelan in the 100-yard breaststroke.

With these accomplishments and records comes a responsibility of not losing focus on the task at hand. The Mustangs still have several meets left in the season, and improving on the overall team record will be more important than any of the individual accomplishments that so many of these young men and women are obtaining.

With two meets scheduled this week (Thursday against Weymouth and Friday at Braintree) the Mustangs have a chance to be 8-1 heading into the final two weeks of October, something that Norwood head coach Kim Goodwin would have least expected early in the year.

"They've completely exceeded my expectations and I think their own as well," said Goodwin. "I ask them to just keep trying to get better and they keep rising to the occasion. I'm very proud of them right now."

Golf remaining steady

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

Sitting at 4-4 entering last Friday's match with Natick, the Norwood golf team had seen some major improvements over the course of the year so far.

Now, with four matches this week, head coach Slava Heretz is happy with what he has seen so far, and is still looking for some improvement, and is hopeful that the team's playoff fate can take a turn for the best with strong showings this week. Perhaps the most encouraging thing is his team's ability to win on the road.

"The fact that we now have three of our four wins away is a really great achievement for this team," he said.

On Thursday, Oct. 6, the team played in the Bay State Conference event at "The Country Club" and had a strong showing.

Three Mustang seniors played in the event: Mark Maggio, Jake Ranalli and Greg Gillis.

Rinalli came in third with an 80, while Maggio tied for 4th with an 81. Both are now Bay State League All-Stars for their top-10 performance. The three combined scores put Norwood

Cross Country making progress

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

There are very few programs in the state that can compete for a state title regardless of the sport.

The better part of high school athletic teams are simply teaching athletes how to improve every day.

The Norwood cross-country program is in that category.

Despite being a combined 1-11 (0-6 boys, 1-5 girls) record, the Mustang runners are extremely young and can only continue to get better.

Joe O'Connor, Owen Smith, Kelsey Colbert and Alanna Keady lead a group of 31 runners, including 24 underclassmen, as captains.

"They are all improving on a weekly basis," said Norwood head coach Geoff Zini. "Our key goal this year is to continue to try and grow in numbers and build a strong program."

As for the highlight of the year so far for Norwood, it was the lone win against Braintree delivered by the girls' team.

The top four runners for the Mustangs finished first, second, fourth, and fifth. Colbert, Keady, Rebecca Dyckes and Sam Baturin led Norwood with freshman Caitlyn Lee rounding out the five varsity finishers.

According to Zini, Colbert delivered the best individual performance to date as well.

"In a meet with Brookline and Walpole, she was in the 7th or 8th position a mile into the race and came back to take first place overall against two excellent girls teams," he explained.

Zini said the Mustangs are growing quickly despite the standings. The future is bright...but it is also tough.

Norwood hosts the Bay State Conference Meet on Oct. 29 at 10 a.m. Last year, more than 500 runners participated in the meet.

Zini said he is hoping for a big day, and a big step forward for the entire program.

The Norwood offense couldn't get it going against a stout Walpole defense last week.

Norwood, last Thursday's loss to Walpole after so much hype may lead to a trap game of sorts against a talented Tiger team that is seemingly just hitting their offensive stride, which is something Sarianides is hoping his senior leadership can help take care of and avoid.

With just over a month left in the season and such a clustered conference behind the Rebels, anything can happen and the Mustangs are still very much in the thick of things. However, there is no denying that the disappointment of not getting the now 10-year monkey off their back that is Walpole could sting for a while. On the other hand, it could make Norwood a very dangerous team going forward: an angry football team is often a great one.

in a tie for sixth (260 points) in the team standings, with Needham taking the Gallo trophy this year (247 points).

Again, playing on the road in any sport is tough, but for golfers, playing a course you may have never seen before is even tougher, which is why the recent victories for the Mustang golfers are so big.

As for the match against Weymouth on Monday October 3, Norwood went to Weathervane Golf Club and came out with a 60-48 victory. Ranalli shot an even par 36, Maggio had a 1-over 37, and sophomore John Galvin had a 3-over 39.

"One of the things that I really stressed this year was our need to improve at away courses," said Heretz.

The Mustangs have had their work cut out for them this week in what could be the biggest test of their season.

A home and home with Walpole on Tuesday and Wednesday was followed by a road match Thursday against Needham. The team returns home to take on Weymouth again Friday.

Athlete of the Week

Cortese keeps it simple, puts team first

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

Despite being 3-4-1 heading into this week's slate of games, the Norwood field hockey team is still in the thick of things for a playoff spot with a quarter of the season complete.

A large reason for that is because of our Athlete of the Week, senior Elisabeth Cortese.

Cortese is a defensive back and one of the leaders on her team. Defense can win championships in many sports, and because of that, Norwood head coach Allison Parks said she has nothing but praise for one of her upper class leaders.

"She stepped into the starting lineup against Natick and has just been a stalwart on the defensive line," said Parks. "In our past few games she has been one of our best and most consistent players on the field. She is great at stepping up into the play, is strong on her tackles and does a tremendous job of drawing an opponent so she can dish the ball to her open teammates."

Part of being a senior leader is making the game simpler for your teammates. Cortese has done an excellent job of slowing things down and trying to make it infectious to the rest of her team as well.

"She keeps things simple and never tries to do too much with the ball, which as a defender is essential," Parks explained.

With three games this week, including two on the road, the Mustangs will need Cortese to continue being the leader as well as defensive catalyst if they want to have any chance of being a playoff team at the end of this month, something that Parks said will be vital.

"Our defense is key," she said. "And because of that Elisabeth is an integral part of our team being successful."

NORFOLK COUNTY RR CLUB MONTHLY MEETING

The world famous historical mountain railroads of Colorado are the colorful subjects of a PowerPoint program by Foxboro rail photographer Gordon Cochran, at the Wednesday, Oct. 26, meeting of the Norfolk County Rail Road Club in the Morrill Memorial Library Simoni Room beginning at 7:00 p.m. Photo highlights of many restored and operating standard and narrow gauge railroads built in the 19th Century to climb the rugged Rockies transporting lumber, gold and silver, are seen in the program, which is free and open to the public. Included are the Georgetown Loop Railway, Cripple Creek & Victor Narrow Gauge RR; Durango & Silverton; Leadville, Colorado & Southern RR, and the San Luis & Rio Grande RR. All are familiar to tourists and rail fans alike and are living examples of railroad engineering that helped develop the West. The meeting is the second in the Norfolk County Rail Road Club's 2011-2012 program season of monthly meetings running from Sept. to May. Anyone interested in railroads and trains is welcome at the programs held on the last Wednesday of each month. For details, contact Ed Sweeney, program organizer, at 781-762-5587.

FOOD PANTRY NEEDS PASTA, PEANUT BUTTER AND OTHER BASICS

Think of a meal that's wholesome, inexpensive, and delicious, and you'll probably come up with something that involves pasta and tomato sauce. Yet right now, the Norwood Food Pantry has only a very limited supply of these basics to distribute to neighbors in need. We're running extremely low on dry pasta, canned pasta, spaghetti sauce, mac and cheese, canned tomatoes, paste, and sauce, and almost out of baked beans, canned and jarred fruit - even peanut butter. We urgently need donations in all these categories.

In the fall, food pantries often find themselves short of important staples, as supplies from the Postal Workers' Drive in May are depleted and holiday giving is still months away. Because of the economy, the need is especially critical this year as the families in need have grown from about 250 to over 350 families have come to us for help. Anyone wishing to make a donation can drop it off at the food pantry, located at the rear entrance of Grace Episcopal Church, 150 Chapel Street, Thursday mornings between 8:30 and 9:30 or Saturday mornings between 7:30 and 11. Plentiful parking is available, and volunteers are on hand to assist in carrying bags and boxes. For those who prefer, convenient drop-off boxes are located in the Morrill Memorial Library and Hannaford's Supermarket, both on Route 1A/Walpole Street; Shaw's on Nahatan Street; and Stop & Shop on Route 1/Providence Highway. Checks and cash donations are always greatly appreciated, as well. Checks should be made out to "Ecumenical Community Food Pantry of Norwood" and sent to 150 Chapel Street, Norwood, MA 02062.

HOME COMPOSTING BINS

Earth Machine compost bins are available at the Norwood Health Department for $20. Residents can reduce waste and gain supply of free compost. The organic portion of the waste stream contains yard waste and kitchen waste, each representing 25 percent of total waste generated (with geographic fluctuations). The average waste generated per household in North America is approximately 2,000 lbs. per year and it is estimated that about 50 percent of the total waste stream could be composted. On average, residents who compost at home can divert a minimum of 650 pounds per year from the solid waste stream. The Earth Machine is made of tough high-density polyethylene with UV stabilizers for all season strength and weatherability. It is made of high-density injection-molded polyethylene with a minimum of 50 percent post-consumer recycled materials. Unit dimensions when assembled are 33" diameter by 33" high, and weights 15 lbs. with a volume of 10.5 cubic feet. For more information on the Earth Machine visit www.earthmachine.com. The bins can be viewed in the Town Hall. Payment for the compost bins should be by check, made payable to the Town of Norwood. Norwood Record, 10/6/11, 10/13/11

Norwood Municipal Light Department M.D.P.U. No. 230

Rate R-18 General Purpose Rate – With Renewable Energy Buyback Provision

Availability - This rate shall be available to all general service Customers (the Customer) that generate electrical power and energy using renewable energy generation technologies. For purposes of this rate, renewable energy technologies shall include wind, solar photovoltaic, solar thermal and hydroelectric. The Norwood Municipal Light Department (NMLD) reserves the right to determine if the generation technology utilized by the Customer meets the eligibility requirements of this rate.

All electricity produced shall be for the exclusive use of NMLD and shall not be resold or transferred to others. Service taken under this rate shall be electrically separated from the Customer's generating facilities or provided with sufficient protective devices to prohibit such facilities from causing disturbances on the NMLD's system consistent with the NMLD's Terms and Conditions. The NMLD reserves the right to refuse service to facilities where the NMLD reasonably determines that the protection provided is inadequate.

All electricity supplied to the Customer by the NMLD shall be measured through one meter, except that where the NMLD deems it impractical to deliver electricity through one service, or where the NMLD has installed more than one meter, then the measurement of electricity may be by two or more meters. The Customer shall furnish, at its expense, necessary facilities for metering equipment including a dedicated voice grade telephone circuit for remote reading whereby the NMLD can meter the output of the Customer's generating facilities.

Any Customer receiving service under this rate will be required to execute a Service Agreement setting forth the specific provisions of service to that customer, including but not limited to the service location, generating facilities, metering installation, protection systems, term of agreement, and any upgrades required to the NMLD distribution system to accommodate the customer's interconnection. All such upgrades will be at the sole discretion of NMLD and at the sole cost of the Customer.

Limitations - All electricity consumed by the Customer shall be billed at the Applicable Service Rate for that customer classification.

All electricity generated by the Customer's generation equipment shall be purchased by NMLD at the rates set forth in this Schedule.

Billing Period - Billing shall be done on a monthly basis.

Norwood Municipal Light Department M.D.P.U. No. 230

Monthly Charges - The monthly charge shall be the General Service Charge, minus the Energy Credit.

Definitions

General Service Charge: the total charge for the Customer's demand and energy usage, including the discount and the Purchase Power Adjustment, exclusive of any energy generated by the Customer's generating equipment, under the Applicable Service Rate.

Applicable Service Rate: the rate under which the customer would be eligible to receive firm service from the NMLD where no renewable energy was being generated.

Energy Credit: is equal to the product of the Generation Energy and the Energy Buyback Rate.

Generation Energy: the amount of energy, in kWh, produced by the Customer's generating equipment during the billing month.

Energy Buyback Rate: is equal to $.075 per kWh.

Estimated Bills: When an actual meter reading cannot be taken on the normal meter reading schedule for the Billing Period, an estimated bill will be rendered based on usage data provided by the Customer or estimated by the NMLD.
