Special Ed, perceptions and efficiencies discussed at meeting

Sam Nickerson
Staff Reporter

The Committee of 21 that is examining school budgeting in Norwood met with newly hired consultants, the Abrahams Group, during a meeting on Oct. 20.

Chairman Bill Plasko said a selection committee of nine members from the Committee of 21 had been “overwhelmingly in favor of hiring” the Abrahams Group of Framingham over Gibson Consultants Group from Austin, Texas when they made the final decision some weeks ago.

Plasko reiterated the Committee’s mission since it was created at the suggestion of the town-wide Budget Committee in light of “significant problems” in the budgeting process in funding the schools.

A walk to Breathe Deep

Jeff Sullivan

Norwood resident Pamela Scafati will be walking with Team Trish at the ninth-annual Breathe Deep 5K in South Boston.

Scafati said she is walking to help raise awareness, but she said there is a personal motivation as well.

“My mom was diagnosed with lung cancer in 2013,” she said. “She got a clean bill of health last September.”

Scafati said she and her family found out about the walk when the doctors and nurses who treated her mother were talking about it during her check-up. She said she was so thankful for their work.

“She was treated at Beth Israel, and a group of the doctors and nurses who took care of her were talking about it,” she said. “My mom wasn’t in any position to do the walk with us. We found out a little late and we didn’t want to do it without her.”

South Norwood Committee debates beer and wine licenses

Sam Nickerson
Staff Reporter

Voices were raised more than a few times during the South Norwood Committee meeting on Oct. 15 at the Morse House, as attendees debated over the idea of requesting additional beer and wine licenses for the neighborhood, though the committee did not yet take a formal stance.

Acting chairperson for the Committee Olga Abdallah moderated as those in favor of pursuing the licenses and those against it took turns making their case to the rest of the committee.

“When we have a discussion, we’re talking about Norwood. It’s very important because of the fact that we want to maintain the beautiful town that we have,” Abdallah said.

Paul Eysie was the first to speak on behalf of the petitioners requesting additional beer and wine licenses for South Norwood.

Eysie said that he was aware that the neighborhood struggled with the presence of the now-closed Krayzee Horse Pub and Grill and said the request was not to have more bar rooms in South Norwood, but to provide family restaurants with the ability to serve beer or wine with dinner.

A RUNNING START

As runners know all too well, their favorite form of exercise is a weight-bearing activity that has the potential to cause back pain. Each time the running foot hits the ground, which occurs between 80 and 90 times per minute for each foot, the body absorbs the shock of two to four times its body weight. While the feet, ankles, knee joints, and surrounding muscles and tendons absorb the initial impact, these forces transmit directly to the pelvic and spinal area. Injury avoidance involves selecting good running shoes, maintaining an erect posture, improving flexibility in the lower back, stretching regularly, and running on soft surfaces. Following a chiropractic maintenance regimen also helps to ensure a healthy back.

how the body functions and its ability to heal itself. We provide quality, principled chiropractic care with professionalism, efficiency, and integrity. We will help you find relief and set you on a path to correcting the problem without the use of drugs or surgery. Study after study confirms that chiropractic care can be beneficial to all family members. Please call us to schedule an appointment and let us help you and your family maintain healthier lives free of pain. We offer both chiropractic care and physical therapy. All major insurance accepted.

P.S. Runners with underlying lower-back problems may find that running/jogging makes their pain worse or leads to additional types of pain such as sciatica (leg pain, weakness, or numbness).

“Let’s give merchants in South Norwood the same tools that you’re giving the merchants uptown,” Eysie said. “I don’t see a distinction there. It’s one main street and we’re all in this together ... The empty storefronts do not help anyone in this room.”

Eysie is the cousin of Helen Eysie Pavloski, a commercial landlord in the neighborhood who first brought the request for the licenses to the Board of Selectmen.

Representatives from Minas Cafe, a Brazilian restaurant that is seeking to expand its business in South Norwood, spoke about their business and ties to the neighborhood.

“We’re very happy with what we have, we just hope that we can expand a little towards the nighttime, when we could offer the same tools that other restaurants have,” said Gustavo da Silva, who grew up in South Norwood and runs Minas Cafe with his father. Silva said that the restaurant survives on its lunch business and that residents who would be dinner customers are now going to other towns.

Helen Abdallah Donohue said that the Krayzee Horse liquor license was available, but the petitioners said they did not want to purchase a full liquor license. Silva’s brother Diego, who is also a Norwood Police officer, said that the full liquor license that is available would cost upward of $100,000, which his family was not prepared to acquire.

“I’ve been away for four years in the service and when I returned to town, I see half of the town shut down. That’s pretty sad for me to see,” Diego Silva said.

Some attendees rebutted that South Norwood is first and foremost a residential neighborhood.

“It is extremely important that we listen to the people in the neighborhood because this affects them the most,” Abdallah said.

“They changed Krayzee Horse to apartments because retail doesn’t survive in Norwood ... We’re 100 percent against it,” said Michael Saad, who mentioned that noise and public urination on fences by Krayzee Horse patrons was the final straw.

Donohue said that the businesses uptown were only able to secure additional beer and wine licenses because they had a zoned central business district first and that South Norwood doesn’t have a distinct zone.

Eysie contested that according to a vision plan study done several years ago, a South Norwood Business district was formally identified in November of 2003, which had a border going from Short Street north along Washington Street to Lenox Street.

Donohue suggested that the petitioners have Town Council examine the plan to determine whether it was definitive.

Dale Day said that South Norwood’s residential character and the uptown business district were too distinct to talk about in the same conversation.

Patty Bailey said that residents were “still raw around the edges” from what happened with the Krayzee Horse.

Bailey did, however, open the door for compromise, saying that in order for her to support the request, there would have to be “very strict restrictions” in place.

Brian Hardiman, who is not a South Norwood resident but mentioned his membership on the Downtown Steering Committee, said he attended the meeting in hopes of better understanding the issue, and saw room for both sides to come to an agreement.

“I do think there’s a compromise here. Done correctly, I do think there could be a benefit to South Norwood,” Hardiman said.

Hardiman said that the beer and wine licenses that the uptown businesses have are a privilege and are not for the businesses to sell on their own. He said that only the full liquor licenses were assets of the businesses.

When some residents asked why the request was for a maximum of four additional licenses, Eysie said that it was illegal for them to ask for only one and Helen Eysie Pavloski said that Town Manager John Carroll had suggested they ask for several, which could be reduced at Town Meeting.

Eysie said that a petition drawn up for Town Meeting to discuss the issue had probably already reached the threshold of 100 signatures for the Oct. 21 deadline to get on the agenda for the November Special Town Meeting. He said that Town Meeting was where the community should be debating it.

“I really want all the districts in Norwood to come up with a two-thirds vote. Vote it up or vote it down ... let’s all speak as a town,” Eysie said.

Abdallah said she was concerned that there were not many abutters or residents who lived near Minas Cafe at the meeting, and wanted to hear more from members of the South Norwood Community.

She said she would meet with the Board of Selectmen to report what happened at the meeting, including the zoning issue and whether the beer and wine licenses would set a precedent in the neighborhood.

“We respect everybody who lives around this piece of property,” she said. “I don’t want the residents to open up their eyes tomorrow morning and say, ‘how did that happen?’”

Abdallah said that for the next meeting on Nov. 12, members should plan on bringing nominations for Committee officers that could be put to vote.

A good reason to vote for Tim Hempton for State Representative

Lower your Tax Burden

Did you know for the second year in a row the state has a surplus? They did not need to raise our taxes!

Tim Hempton knows you work hard for your paycheck. He wants you to be able to keep your paycheck and savings. As our next State Representative, Tim Hempton will work to implement common sense policies that restore fiscal responsibilities and lower our tax burden.

Hempton’s Plan to Lower Your Tax Burden

- ✓ Stop automatic tax hikes by repealing the gas tax being linked to inflation
- ✓ Lower the sales tax back to 5%
- ✓ End wasteful spending
 - Require more oversight and an annual audit of the Department of Transitional Assistance (welfare)
 - Stop illegal immigrants from obtaining taxpayer funded benefits
 - No more government giveaways such as the Boston Convention Expansion sweetheart deal for a hotel
 - Fight frivolous spending such as $9 million to makeover the Governor’s Office

After 21 years, it’s time for a

Regal Press delayed by parking issues

Sam Nickerson
Staff Reporter

The approved Regal Press 40R development on Guild Street has hit another snag and could potentially be headed back to the drawing board, as questions have arisen about the viability of the 40 unit development's parking arrangements.

Regal Press had been approved as a Chapter 40R development, creating a smart growth Overlay District, which allows developers to bypass some zoning laws to accommodate more dense and affordable housing. In this case, 10 of Regal Press' units would be affordable.

Previously, developer William Duffy maintained that Regal Press would include 40 on-site parking spaces, or one for each unit. According to Town Meeting member Madeleine Eysie, this was a condition of approval for many members of Town Meeting.

Brian Hardiman pointed out during an August 25 Planning Board meeting that 14 of the 40 proposed parking spaces were on property owned by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA). Regal Press is next to the Norwood Central stop on the MBTA commuter rail.

According to the developer, they were currently in the middle of a long term lease with the MBTA to use the property that had been initiated with the previous owners and transferred when Duffy purchased the property in the 1970's.

However, during a Planning Board meeting on October 20, one of the developer's attorneys, Adam Costa, said that they have been unable to locate the transferred lease or identify the use terms of the transfer.

"We approved it with understanding that part of parking was on MBTA property with understanding that they had a lease," said Planning Board member Ernest Paciorkowski.

In addition to a registry of deeds search, Costa said they had reached out to the MBTA and were in the process of a public records request to locate the document.

"Your counsel has agreed to provide us with some sort of period of due diligence we'll call it," Costa told the Planning Board. "We're hoping to either find the document or to enter into discussion with the MBTA to get some sort of confirmation from them bestowing upon us the right to use the land in extension of lease agreement from 1977."

Costa also said that he did not believe any payments had been made on the lease, and that it was possible that none had been required.

The Planning Board opted to give Duffy a grace period to continue searching for the document and report back on November 24. Costa said that they were not prepared to move forward with any development until the issue was resolved.

Town Planner Paul Halkiotis said that other revisions would prevent them from moving forward until then as well.

"There's also a plan that has not been signed by the Planning Board yet...(it was) revised to include signature block. (It must be) endorsed by the Planning Board and recorded at the Registry of Deeds," Halkiotis said. "I won't recommend that the board endorse that plan until this has been resolved to Planning Board satisfaction."

Over a dozen Town Meeting members attended the October 20 meeting-including Hardiman, Denis Drummey, and Kevin Pentowski - and many expressed concern that the project now appeared different than what the Town had voted on and therefore could not be built as such.

Reached after the meeting, Kevin Pentowski said that "this

Thornton to retire

Sam Nickerson
Staff Reporter

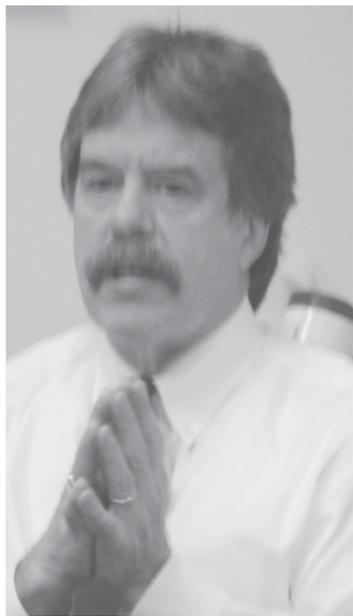

The Board of Selectmen announced the retirement of Town Clerk and Accountant Robert Thornton in February after over three decades at the post during a meeting on October 21.

According to Selectman Helen Abdallah Donohue, Thornton said that there have only been four people to hold this post since the town received its second and official town charter in 1914.

"I feel that it's the right thing for him, but when he told me...I said 'what are we going to do without you,' because he's so intelligent and he's so rational about everything," Donohue said.

Chairman Michael Lyons said a search committee would shortly be established to find Thornton's replacement.

Selectman Bill Plasko suggested that the committee include two selectmen, two Finance Commission members, the Town General Manager, the town treasurer, and the human resources director. The Board discussed the option to add one or two residents or town meeting members to the selection committee.

Just a few tidbits...

Williams, Russell, Orr, Bird and now Thornton? The announcement on Tuesday that longtime Town Clerk and Accountant Bob Thornton has handed in his retirement papers is a bombshell. He is to Norwood what the above mentioned icons are to Boston sports. No one, repeat no one, has had a bigger positive impact on this town in the last 30 years than Mr. Thornton.

His dossier of accomplishments is so extensive this newspaper will need to dedicate a future special section to the man and his legacy (okay, we're really not going to do that, but we could!) From commandeering the Town's retirement account early on so that Norwood, unlike other towns, is not currently finding itself choked by it, to manipulating and finessing state reimbursements to maximize the town's returns, to finding ways to fund projects near and dear to residents when conventional wisdom assumed it couldn't be done, to assisting each and every department with their budgets to avoid layoffs and much needed social services, the guy's fingerprints are indelibly marked on virtually everything Norwood.

Thornton will be stepping down in February and town officials need to conduct a search to replace him, which is a herculean task. Though Thornton is a born and raised Norwood son, nothing says his heir apparent needs to be, which is why the process should not be rushed and needs to include an evaluation of candidates beyond Norwood's borders. The job is too important.

The reason(s) for Thornton's retirement announcement is not clear, but we have no doubt his decision was reached after thoughtful consideration of every factor, both personal and professional, which is exactly how he conducted his business affairs over the more than 30 years of service to this Town...

Moving on to the newest Committee of 21, this editor, after reading everything written about the first few meetings and after sitting with my reporter and reviewing in depth his notes and observations, still has no idea what they have accomplished to date. Their mission seems clear enough, which is to fund Norwood schools, and they hired a consultant to help in the cause, which was smart. But a consultant is only as effective as the group hiring them. To date it seems all that has happened is identifying talking points, then reducing the talking points, and then subdividing said talking points into different groups, but emerging with nothing concrete to share with the consultants. It shouldn't be incumbent on the consultants to suggest areas of concentration to the Committee of 21, which is a waste of time. The School Committee should already know what the problem areas are, have already shared them with the Committee of 21 and identified specifically what they have historically struggled with, and let the group gnaw on the numbers and procedures a bit before speaking with the consultants. It doesn't appear any of that has really happened. This newspaper loves the concept of this Committee; we're just not thrilled with the execution to date...

And regarding the South Norwood Committee and its recent discussions regarding additional beer and wine licenses, the wish here is that more neighbors to the whole Washington St. area in South Norwood would be more vocal in their opinions on the matter. Plenty is said by those who will benefit the most by the licenses, which is the real estate landlords and business owners, but the real valuable input can only come from those who live there and will need to deal with the aftermath when all is said and done. There is a petition with enough signatures that will most likely put the question of additional licenses before Town Meeting, which isn't a bad thing. It just seems a shame if a decision is made by outsiders without significant input from residents living in the affected areas. And it isn't really fair to equate what is happening in the downtown area of Norwood with the proposal in South Norwood. That area of Washington St. is central to all residents. South Norwood is not...

MEETING TO DISCUSS QUESTION 5

To the Editor:

On the Nov. 4 election ballot, Question 5 would instruct our state legislators to pass a law requiring any non-hospital facility performing more than 10 abortions a year to be licensed and inspected by the Mass. Department of Public Health. At the present time, there are about 16 unlicensed and uninspected abortion facilities in this state, and a woman died during an abortion at one of them in 2007.

Abortion is one of the most common surgical procedures in this state, and it is not unreasonable to expect facilities doing abortions to guarantee the safety of their patients. After all, tanning facilities and nail salons are subject to licensing and health inspections, so why not abortion facilities.

There will be a meeting to explain this question at the Norwood K of C Hall, 570 Nichols St., next Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

If you are concerned about the safety and health of women, please come to this meeting. And please vote yes on Question 5 on Nov. 4. This is not a political or partisan issue. It's about protecting women's lives and health, and all of us should be able to agree on that.

LET'S CLEAR THE AIR

To the Editor:

The buzz around town is that hundreds of Norwood Records were recently stolen from various sites around town, and that the police have identified the culprit via video surveillance. The front-page story of that particular edition was titled "Rogers Withdraws from Debate with Hempton."

Before pointing fingers, voters should let the investigation take its course. The facts will eventually come out, and appropriate action will be taken.

Jim MacPherson
Norwood

Editor's Note:

It is true many newspapers were stolen from various locations throughout town on a Wednesday evening. The papers were reprinted and distributed by Thursday afternoon. Due to terrific police work by the NPD, a suspect was identified and is now being processed through the court system. This newspaper has not drawn any conclusions as to the motivation of the suspect, regardless of the content of that week's edition.

RETIREMENT OF OFFICER MILT VEGA

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention that officer Milt Vega is retiring after many years of public service to the Town of Norwood. Over the years I have witnessed firsthand and on great many occasions Officer Vega's response, profile and character in handling of public safety and police matters. What has most impressed me over the years was not just Officer Vega's professionalism at all times and in all matters, but more importantly the understanding and concern I have seen him show our residents and the public, sometimes in some very trying and most delicate of situations. Not only has and does officer Vega's character and conduct exemplify the Norwood Police department at all times they also exemplify the spirit and intent of Community Policing, i.e., being not only a visible presence in the community, but also being a caring and responsive presence when citizens and the public are in need. Office Vega has been a true asset to the Norwood Police Department and the town at large. With the most kind and lasting regards I wish Officer Vega, his family and his loved ones God speed for a warm and truly enjoyable future.

KEEP ROGERS WORKING FOR US

To the Editor:

No one can deny that Representative John Rogers has delivered the goods for our community. Norwood's native son has paved roads and fixed bridges, brought back local aid for schools, and secured economic development grants. I want to highlight some of the lesser known accomplishments of John's, which every day safeguard the health and well being of families here at home and across our commonwealth.

John, from the moment he was first elected, has been a crusader against domestic violence, abuse and neglect. Early in his career in the legislature John created the Norfolk County District Attorney's Domestic Violence Unit, which was successfully copied and funded in every District Attorney's office across the commonwealth. He carved out funding for the statewide domestic violence hotline, created the Sex Offenders Registry Board, authored the law that imposed lifetime parole on sex offenders who had served their sentences and created the statewide sexual assault nurse examiner program for the care of victims of sexual assault.

I use the term created multiple times because these programs did not exist until John led a coalition of his colleagues, both democrat and republican, to make these programs a permanent budget priority in Massachusetts. When John had control of the state budget as House Chairman of Ways and Means he doubled the funding for domestic violence prevention, family reunification services and women at risk shelters, and that priority continues to this day. The most recent domestic violence prevention bill, which John fought for and passed in the legislature this year, stands on the shoulders of all of his previous work.

This past term, John's work continues. He worked with Norwood Police Chief Bill Brooks to pass a $5 million budget amendment, which funded the training of 17,000 police officers in detection and prevention of domestic violence. He created a task force, to detect and combat elder abuse and neglect in long-term care facilities. He passed the substance abuse law, which makes it harder for people to abuse prescription drugs, and the Puppy Doe Law, which punishes those who abuse animals.

Franklin Roosevelt in his Four Freedoms speech described a world where Americans would have "freedom from fear." John Rogers has given his entire life in public service working towards the day when citizens across our commonwealth have freedom from fear. We need to keep John working for us. Please join me in voting for John Rogers on Nov. 4.

Thousands of Massachusetts residents, and some out of state participants, line up at the starting line of the 2013 Breathe Deep 5K.

Nov. 1 kicks off Lung Cancer Awareness Month, and the LUNgevity Foundation has organized more than 2,000 walkers and runners with the aim of raising $250,000 to support the foundation in funding cancer research and awareness. The Boston event has raised over $1 million in such funding since its inception.

“It’s the deadliest of all the cancers by far and it kills more people annually than breast cancer, prostate cancer, pancreatic cancer and colon cancer combined,” Scafiti said. “And it receives the least amount of funding. Breast cancer is up around $24,000 spent per death, as opposed to lung cancer which is about $1,400 per death.”

Scafiti said she doesn’t want to diminish anyone suffering from these other types of cancer, but she does feel there is a stigma attached to lung cancer that other such diseases do not carry.

“It’s a cancer that people are blamed for, they’re not blamed for other cancers,” she said. “I think that people who are in the know, the doctors and nurses, the people who are caring for the patient, we found those people are doing what they can do...Our family has also been touched by breast cancer and I’m happy that people are getting all this support for the month of October. That being said, you don’t see that for lung cancer and yet the statistics are screaming in your face.”

The Boston Breathe Deep 5k is part of a national effort with more than 80 events nationwide. LUNgevity has raised over $16 million, which has been spent on 110 research projects at 57 institutions in 23 states. According to the foundation, a scant 6 percent of federal funding for cancer research is spent on lung cancer, even though it is the biggest killer.

Scafiti said she feels amazing that her mother was able to beat the disease, a prospect not many people have.

“We’re all walking to celebrate our mom’s good health,” she said. “She was able to beat this, and most people are not so we feel very blessed.”

The event will also feature a performance from the group Voices of Hope, a nonprofit whose members sing to raise awareness and funds for cancer research. There will also be a silent auction featuring a Bruins jersey autographed by the team.

Two lung cancer survivors, Rich Kaufman and Geri Norris, founded the 5K. To register, visit longevity.org/Boston.

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin

(Never known to fail!)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you.
Grateful thanks. —M.C.

St. Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world, now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 9th day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude. My Prayers were answered.
In gratitude for helping me. —M.C.

Crafty residents shine

Each fall, the Norwood High School gymnasium plays host to dozens of makers selling their handcrafted goods as part of the Craft Affair at Norwood, a fundraiser for the Post Prom Party held each May.

This year, the Craft Affair took place on Oct. 18, when 60 vendors peddled their wares to over 800 shoppers from around the region. Craft Affair Committee chairperson Amy Campbell reported that the event raised over $7,500 for the Post Prom Party and several other Norwood High School organizations.

Admission to the event cost $3 for adults and $2 for children, which, along with the cost to rent a table and donations from crafters, covered the donations. There were also several raffles, the proceeds of which went towards Norwood High scholarships.

"The reviews from the crafters and the shoppers were overwhelmingly positive," Campbell said.

The Craft Affair is a juried event that must be applied for and attracts crafters from all over the area, though several Norwood makers also set up shop during the Affair.

Among them was the Zig Zags: Selling Crafts to Help Others table, which is run by Alex, age 12, Maggie, 7, and Olivia, 10.

The girls make and sell bracelets, key chains, and goods made from braided paracord, with the proceeds going to various local charities. This is their third year at the Craft Affair.

"Our cousin taught us how to make them," said Olivia. "We give money to Fisher House, that's a place where people can stay if they have a veteran in the hospital. We also Dental Screening a SUCCESS!

The Elder Dental Program, a project of Community VNA in cooperation with the Neponset Valley Community Health Coalition, hosted a FREE Dental Screening Clinic at the Norwood Senior Center on Oct. 18, 2014. Local volunteer dentists Dr. Mark Stone, DMD, MScD along with Dr. Raymond Martin, DMD, MAGD, and Dr. Timothy Hempton, DDS examined 49 patients for problems with their teeth, gums and dentures. Dr. Michael Kahn, DDS and Dr. Michael Hall, DDS, local specialty dentists, screened patients for oral cancer.

This screening clinic was the 31st clinic held since the Elder Dental Program was instituted in 2002. This free screening clinic is supported by a grant from the Norwood Senior Center and by donations from the Bank of Canton and Walpole Cooperative Bank. The clinics are hosted as part of The Elder Dental Program, a free service that connects low-income older adults with local dentists who provide care at drastically reduced rates.

The clinic is designed to screen for dental problems and oral cancer. In addition participants have the opportunity to talk one-on-one about taking care of teeth, gums, and dentures, discuss nutrition choices, have dentures cleaned using a specialized machine, label dentures to prevent loss and to learn more about eligibility for the Elder Dental Program. The free screening clinics are open to anyone aged 60 years and over.

give money to Matt Brown, an injured hockey player, and for breast cancer.”

Linda Murbach, another Norwood crafter who tabled at the Craft Affair, sells handmade note cards at the event every year.

“There’s usually a large crowd and such diversity in all the exhibits,” Murbach said.

Lifelong Norwood resident and custom laser cutter Ron Wiik has had a table at the Craft Affair for around 10 years. And while the Craft Affair isn’t always a big moneymaker, he said that he uses the event to get the word out about his services.

Of course, Wiik is also proud to support Norwood students through the event.

“That’s one of the reasons I keep coming back,” Wiik said.

Campbell said that many of the other student organizations that receive donations from the Craft Affair at Norwood help out in different ways over the course of the day.

“What crafters like most about our fair ... is the help they receive unloading and loading their crafts. They say that no other craft fair offers this service,” Campbell said.

This year, the freshman football team, the cheerleaders, the swim team, the girl’s tennis team, the golf team, the gymnastics team, the marching band, and the boy’s basketball team all volunteered during the event, as well as during set-up and break down.

“The crafters rave about how great the kids are and how they are always polite,” Campbell said.

Campbell said that the Post Prom Party Committee provided the crafters with breakfast and the Spirit Club was responsible for the Country Raffle, which includes donated items from each of the crafters at the event. The money from the Country Raffle is used for scholarships. Students Against Destructive Decisions hosted a bake sale, which they do each year.

Campbell said that one crafter with a medical condition would have been unable to attend the Craft Affair if it hadn’t been for the students who helped her move her goods into the fair.

Campbell also highlighted the work of the parents who collected entrance fees, assisted with the raffles, and wandered through the fair to assist crafters.

The Craft Affair dates back over 20 years, when it was founded by former Norwood art teacher Margo Mancinelli.

Applications for next year’s Craft Affair at Norwood, which will be held on Oct. 17, 2015, go out in January.

The Committee has developed an initial list of 20 discussion points to address as part of its mission, which had then been subsequently reduced to 11-12 items, and at the end of the last meeting, had been placed into 7-8 broader groups.

Plasko said that the Committee needed “to provide a clearer focus and some direction to the topics we want (the consultant) to concentrate on” because of the limited financial parameters with the Abrahams Group.

Plasko introduced Mark Abrahams and his team, which included former administrators in the Waltham School District.

Abrahams said that there were three primary areas that his team was built to address already. The areas were identified during preliminary research done when the Abrahams Group was interviewing to get the contract.

They included educational programming, support services-including food services, transportation, and buildings and grounds-and potential shared functions between the town and schools, such as facilities and information technology.

“As we see the challenge for us collectively...is how do we get you focused on let’s say four areas, where collectively you as a committee can agree that those areas would most likely produce either greatest cost savings or greater effectiveness in school, school-town operations,” Abrahams said.

When asked for suggested areas, Abrahams said it appeared that out of district costs for special education in Norwood are much higher than the statewide average and this could be a possible area for the Committee to make a focal point.

Alan Slater said that as far as support and shared services, it could be worth looking at other towns and gathering data regarding options such as a town-wide facilities manager.

The Committee discussed the value of comparing Norwood to other towns and school districts and tried to come up with several suggestions-such as Stoughton, Walpole, Natick, Dedham, Canton and others-but disagreed over which communities provided more meaningful comparisons.

Abrahams said that benchmarking such as this could be done on a number of levels and the Committee could end up producing even more questions. He said it was helpful to see why a district performs the way it does, but the comparisons were not every-thing.

Town Clerk and Accountant Robert Thornton, who proposed the Committee of 21, said that a Department of Secondary and Elementary Education audit lauded the town’s budgeting process as open and transparent.

Thornton then said he wanted to ask the School Committee what the problem was and what the Committee of 21 was to address. Despite disagreements and “fingers pointed,” he said, the budget still gets done each year.

Thornton also said that the general government is still able to get through the budgeting process, but that it’s becoming more difficult now to present a balanced budget proposal on the school side.

Courtney Rau suggested that they were dealing with a revenue problem that required examining the “whole revenue picture.”

Superintendent of Schools James Hayden said that an issue was the costs associated with trying to provide the school system with appropriate tools for its top learners given mandated programs that also require funds, so that there were opportunities for everyone with minimal cuts.

Other members discussed perception of the district, in terms of getting teachers to stay and advertising what the district does well to parents and families who want to move to the area, as an area to address.

Slater suggested that the Committee, after two hours of deliberation, had likely given the Abrahams Group with plenty to work with, and made a motion to have them review the information and come back to another meeting with a suggested scope of services that could be quickly voted on.

Abrahams said that special education, perception of the schools, and efficiency in terms of things like technology were all valid concerns, as was examining the issue of municipal revenue and finance. He said they could be prepared to return with their review in a week.

The Committee voted in favor of the motion and decided to meet again in two weeks.

Rotary stepping up to help

The Norwood Rotary Club met on Wednesdays this summer and early fall for a variety of interesting programs and the comradeship of fellow Rotarians. The Club received a warm welcome from the manager and staff of Byblos Restaurant, as the Club met to plan several community projects in keeping with the Rotary motto "Service Above Self." One highlight of the summer was the dedication of an Information Screen and Plaque in memory of George Ruboy, a 33 year Library Trustee and Past President of the Norwood Rotary Club. It was held in the Simoni room of the Morrill Memorial Library with Rotarians, family members and Library personnel in attendance. In early August, the Club welcomed District

7950 Governor Valerie Perry. The Governor spoke about the Rotary International goals for the year, to address health concerns and promote global literacy and education. Gov. Perry also gave a report that was enlightening and encouraging for continued progress in the goal to eradicate Polio. The club celebrated the news that Southeast Asia is now Polio free, as Rotary has been dedicated to the International Program of Polio Eradication since 1985. Gov. Perry also congratulated Club members on their timely project: collecting the necessary Back to School items for the children of the Military Family Support Group. The items were distributed under the Direction of the Director of Veteran's Services, Ted Mulvehill.

The most recent project was the collection of food items for the Ecumenical Food Pantry. On Sept. 25, non-perishable food items were delivered to the Food Pantry, in memory of our past members who often shared memories of their holidays with fellow Rotarians. The Club is looking forward to welcoming the Superintendent of Schools, James Hayden as a guest speaker on Oct. 15. For more information about Rotary, please contact Membership Chair Miriam Nijo, Norwood Rotary Club, Post Office Box 763, Norwood, MA, 02062, or email rotarynorwoodma@gmail.com. Please visit our web site at www.norwoodrotary.org. All are always welcome to attend our meetings held on Wednesday evening at 6 p.m. at Byblos Restaurant, Washington Street, Norwood.

project from Mr Duffy should be dismissed and sent back to Town Meeting ... Any other application after that, we can certainly resolve the situation."

Pentowski shared the sentiment of other attendees that they would certainly be willing to work with a new plan that included less units at Regal Press and all parking could be on property owned by Duffy. This was suggested by Planning Board member Debbie Holmwood as well.

Also of concern to some residents is Regal Press' status as a 40R development.

The property's .57 acres currently count towards Norwood's 1.5 percent of developable land dedicated towards affordable housing per the states 40B and 40R laws. This 1.5 percent is a requirement before the town can indefinitely have more say in whether large developments are built in Norwood.

Opponents of the recent larger 40B and 40R developments in town - Upland Woods and Plimpton Press, for example - had seen Regal Press as a "lesser of two evils" in comparison with the proposed Plimpton Press development, Kevin Pentowski said.

But now that the town has achieved another year of safe harbor through the Upland Woods project and had established a 1.5 percent Task Force to purchase land for the town to fulfill the required quota, Pentowski said he isn't as concerned with Regal Press' 40R status.

"That .57 acres that we had, that can be more than made up for with the 1.5 percent commission study. There's plenty of space as far as I'm concerned," Pentowski said.

"(As for) the 1.5 percent, We're not as concerned if this Duffy thing is or isn't found. We don't mind him having that agreement," Drummey said. "If not, we'd say 'You better reduce that number of units you have in that development.' It comes down to 14 spaces where he can't produce a lease."

Duffy, who was not in attendance on October 20, was unable to be reached for comment.

Norwood Golf falls just short at sectionals Successful season culminates with sportsmanship award

David Saad takes a chip shot during Norwood High School's sectional match. The team finished out the season with a winning record.

The 2014 season has come to an end for the Norwood Mustangs golf team after failing to advance beyond the Division II south sectional tournament.

Only the top two teams, Catholic Memorial and Oliver Ames, moved on from the 13-team tournament with scores of 300 and 303, respectively. Norwood fell short, compiling a score of 325. Bay State rivals Milton, Walpole and Wellesley also participated in the tournament, in addition to Bishop Feehan, Canton, Foxboro, Holliston, Medway and Norton.

Unlike the modified version of the Stableford scoring system used in Bay State Conference play, scores were calculated by taking the total number of strokes from the top four golfers on each team over 18 holes. Senior co-captain Chris Ciriello had a team-best 78 for the Mustangs, followed by junior Paul Galvin with 80, senior co-captain Mike Murphy with 83 and junior Nick Naumann with 84. Junior David Saad and his cousin, sophomore Mike Saad, each shot a 90.

Norwood didn't come away empty handed, however. The team won the South Division II South Shore Boys' Fall Golf Sportsmanship Award, an honor which coach Jim Sweeney is extremely proud of.

Mustangs can't keep pace with unbeaten Walpole

Jake Levin
Staff Reporter

Norwood football continues to chase its first win of the season after dropping a 33-14 decision to Walpole last Saturday at Norwood High School.

The loss to the No. 9 Rebels (6-0) was Norwood's sixth consecutive defeat to open the season. The Mustangs lost their first eight games a year ago before emerging over Bishop Feehan on Nov. 9, 2013.

"Our game plan was to stay between the tackles and just run right at them," said coach Jim Tighe following the game. "They're fast. I think you play to their strength trying to run wide, I think you play to their strength trying to throw the ball. I thought we could move the ball inside. At times we did, at times we didn't."

"I think we got a much more spirited effort out of the kids today," said Tighe. "One of the things that we're battling, is if we get down early, they think it's the end of the world. So we get down early, and all of a sudden the walls are crumbling. Today, that didn't happen."

Despite the game plan, Mustangs quarterback Jake Vail was able to air the ball out a bit, too, completing 6 of 16 passes for 108 yards, one touchdown and one interception. Tyler Berkland, his Walpole contemporary, was 9 for 15 with 127 yards, three touchdowns and an interception.

Although they never led, Norwood was very much in the game until the very end. A scoreless first quarter was plagued by monsoon-like conditions, which affected both teams' ability to move or hang on to the ball. The Mustangs fumbled the ball six times in the game, but only lost two. Neither team had a first down until 1:14 left in the first, when the Rebels reached the milestone.

Walpole scored the game's first points on a Steve Cuqua 25-yard touchdown run a little over a minute into the second quarter, capitalizing off a lost fumble by Norwood, and led 7-0.

The teams traded scoreless series until there were 36 seconds left in the first half. On a third-and-10 from the Walpole 11, Vail connected with Zack Pungitore on a touchdown pass to pull within one. For the first time all season, Norwood's special teams unit connected on the extra point, tying the score at 7-7.

The Rebels responded to the Mustangs score with a Jack Lavanchy touchdown catch to end the half, although the PAT was blocked, making it 13-7 at the break.

Lavanchy reeled in another Berkland pass from 32 yards out on Walpole's first possession of the second half to make it 20-7.

The teams exchanged turnovers for much of the third quarter. Richie Watson had an interception for the Mustangs, who promptly gave it right back to the Rebels with their sixth fumble of the afternoon. Vail, playing defense, got in the act with a fumble recovery of his own, before his offense took over and stalled out.

Cuqua added a 5-yard touchdown run to open up the fourth quarter for Walpole,

Mustangs and Raiders battle to rain-soaked tie

Junior goalkeeper Beth Tobio prepares for a shot during a competitive game against Wellesley. The team remains undefeated with a record of 13-0-2.

Jake Levin

Staff Reporter

As the regular season winds to a close, the Norwood Mustangs field hockey team still hasn't lost a game.

At 13-0-2, maintaining their No. 6 ranking in the Boston Globe Top 20 poll this week, the Mustangs are on a short list of teams that have realistic aspirations of raising a state championship banner when all is said and done.

But the Mustangs had just their second non-win of the season last week, a 3-3 tie in a rain-soaked affair at Wellesley. Despite the Raiders' rather modest 6-5-4 record, Norwood coach Allison Doliner knew it would be a tough game on the Sprague Field turf.

"Wellesley's a great team. We knew to expect a lot coming into today," said Doliner. "They've already tied Walpole, too."

The Walpole Porkers (12-0-3), ranked No. 3 in the Globe poll, tied Norwood 1-1 back on Sept. 23.

"I feel like we're always a little rusty on their turf," Doliner said. "But they're a great team, you have to give them credit for it. Wellesley played a great game today."

Norwood had a 2-1 lead after the first half, with a pair of goals from Kacie Smith, who leads the state of Massachusetts with 32 goals on the year. She is also tied for the lead in points, with 43. The senior captain had the game's first tally just 1 minute, 46 seconds into the contest on the Mustangs' first shot of the afternoon. The Raiders tied it up about four minutes later, a score which held until the 10:53 mark, when Smith unloaded a rocket, top-shelf, giving Norwood the 2-1 advantage heading into the break.

Each team traded opportunities early in the second half. Norwood had a pair of corner plays roughly five minutes in, being denied by the Wellesley defense both times. Wellesley had a power play with 19:21 to go in the game, after Hannah Benson received a green card for a 5-yard infraction, but couldn't capitalize.

Sammy Hayes gave

Norwood a 3-1 lead with 12:05 to go, a goal assisted by Smith off a corner. Smith did an excellent job setting up the corner in the first place, stealing the ball around midfield and running deep into the Mustangs' offensive zone.

With the game seemingly under control for Norwood, Mimi Connors flipped the script for Wellesley less than a minute and a half after Hayes' goal, beating Mustang goaltender Beth Tobio to make it 3-2. At 6:25, Caroline Bradley had the equalizer, knotting the game at 3-3, a score which held for the final.

"We'd rather do it now than the post-season," said Doliner when asked if she was disappointed blowing a two-goal second half lead. "We still don't have anything in the loss column."

There's no question the team has the firepower to finish the job. Doliner added that it would be nice to finish the season unbeaten, but insists the mentality is still "one game at a time." Beyond Smith, who leads the Bay State Conference in scoring by a whopping 17 points, Benson and Maura O'Neill are third and fourth in the league in scoring, with 21 and 20 points, respectively. The goaltending tandem of Tobio and Nikki Nuygen has combined to allow just 21 goals through 15 games, 1.3 per contest.

Norwood faced Natick on Tuesday, in a game held after the Record's deadline. Their final regular season game is today against the archival Porkers, this time at home at 3:45 p.m. It is also Walpole's regular season finale. Barring any upsets earlier in the week, the outcome of the game will determine the Bay State Herget Division champion, which will affect seeding in the south sectional tournament.

Swim Team looks to finish season on positive note

Jake Levin

Staff Reporter

Jennifer Rodger can't believe her first season at the helm of the Norwood Mustangs swim and dive team is almost over.

"The season has gone by so fast. It feels like it just started," said Rodger, who became coach of the program she was a member of in high school from 2004-2008 prior to the season.

The Mustangs are 2-8, with a pair of dual meets left this week before the conference meet and states or sectionals. Both victories have come against Bay State Conference opponents: a 115-73 win over Weymouth on Oct. 2, and a 97-83 triumph over Braintree on Oct. 7.

As of now, senior captain Charlotte Rivard is the lone swimmer who's qualified for states in any events. She'll be competing with a 27.02 time in the 50 freestyle, beating the qualifying mark of 27.10 seconds. Rivard will also have a chance to race in the states meet in the 100 free. Needing a time of 58.95 seconds, she's currently at 59.20. As Rodger points out, the miniscule time amount could come down to a simple start or a flip turn. Her 59.20 is good enough to place her in sectionals.

Manny Escobar has also qualified for sectionals in the 200 IM with a time of 2:29.48, which he attained in the team's most recent meet vs. Walpole. The qualifying time was 2:30.14.

On the diving side, Marissa Gillis, a senior who had never dived competitively prior to this season, has scores that are good enough for sectionals. She currently has nine dives that meet sectional standards, but needs two more to get to the required minimum of 11 such dives. Rodger points out that Gillis's level of difficulty and types of dives have improved throughout the season.

Rodger said her favorite part of her first season has been how well her team has bonded.

"Seeing each athlete work toward their goals and seeing results at meets," she said. "Seeing them work hard at practice, and seeing them be together as one unit, one team.

"It's a really tight knit unit," she continued. "It's a very positive atmosphere, and everyone's very supportive of one another."

Looking toward the future, Rodger believes she'll be even better prepared for next season because she now has an idea of how it all works.

"This season, I didn't know the swimmers' ability levels as well, so it took some time to evaluate, and push them how they needed to be pushed," she said. "Now that I've seen the skill set of the underclassmen, it'll be working with them to improve their current skill set."

With just two regular season meets remaining, Rodger can already tell how much she'll miss her captains, Rivard and Caitlyn Sullivan.

"Having them as such strong leaders has been a huge advantage to me being new as well," she said. "They've been absolutely phenomenal as communicators. Such dynamic leaders throughout the whole season."

The Mustangs had a meet on Tuesday vs. Dedham at Westwood High School, in a meet held after the Record's deadline. The regular season finale is on Friday, also at Westwood High, vs. Newton North.

like a big part of the reason that these guys qualified [for the tournament] was not just what they did on the course and what showed up on the scorecard, but how tight-knit a group that they were," said Sweeney. "In terms of developing a great camaraderie, I think that was as big a factor as any. They spent a lot of time together and they've always pulled for one another."

"Moving forward, all the other teams that come after this team, in terms of a team chemistry standpoint, they've really set the bar high. And they're going to be kind of a measuring stick for years to come," he said.

The Mustangs final record was 7-6-1, qualifying for the post-season for the first time in Sweeney's three years as coach.

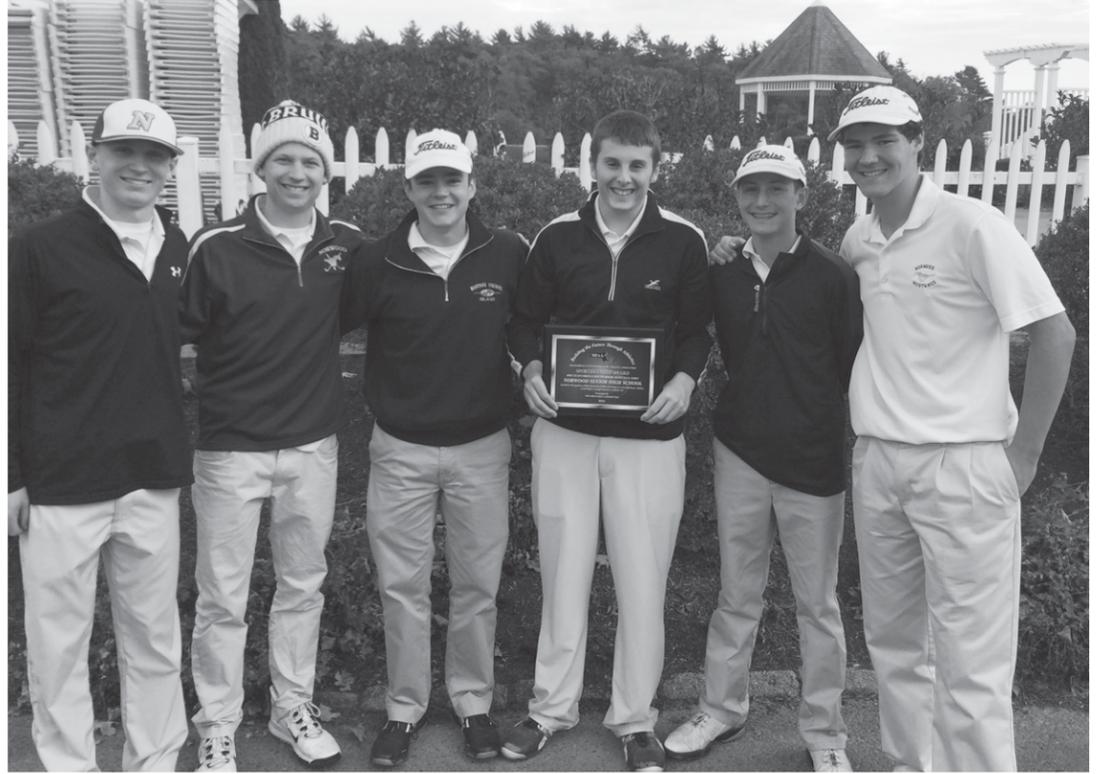

Sweeney said there were several highlights of the season for him, including the first match, when the Mustangs routed Milton, 117-87. The best feeling, he said, was when the team beat Weymouth on the road to clinch the post-season berth.

"We had been struggling on the road. We beat Natick on the road to get our first road win, and then the match after that, we beat Weymouth over there," said Sweeney. "That got us to 7-4, and into the tournament."

Looking ahead to next season, Sweeney is ready for the three juniors who played in Monday's match, Galvin, Naumann and David Saad, as well as junior Brian Curley, to be leading the way next year.

For the outgoing seniors, including Murphy, Ciriello and Andrew Bernazini, Sweeney is happy with the legacy they're leaving behind as drought-busters. That is, ending Norwood golf's postseason drought.

"All three of those guys have been playing all three years I've been coaching," said Sweeney. "So I think, same as me, the first two years that they were playing, we missed the tournament by a match. So in that third year, being able to get over that hump is something I'll always think about with that group."

seemingly pulling away, up 27-7.

However, Vail and the Mustangs put together their finest drive of the afternoon on the following series. He completed passes to Pungitore, Aaron Cockrane and Sean Mellen on the drive, totaling 73 yards on that series alone. Joe Mazzotta capped the 3 minute, 56 second drive off with a 2-yard TD run. The PAT was good again, and Norwood trailed 27-14.

That was about it for Norwood though, as Lavanchy sealed the deal for the Rebels on their next possession with his second 32-yard touchdown catch of the afternoon to make it a 33-14 final. It was a monster afternoon for Lavanchy, who caught all three of Berkland's touchdown throws, and added an interception in garbage time just for good measure.

Up next for Norwood is a trip to Brookline on Sunday at 5 p.m. A team out of the Bay State Conference's Carey Division, the Warriors (2-4) are giving up a conference-high 37.5 points per game. They lost last weekend at Needham, 42-7.

Norwood did not face Brookline last season.

Junior Joe Mazzotta, far right, and other members of the Mustangs defense did their best to slow down a dynamic Walpole offense.

FRIENDS OF THE MORRILL MEMORIAL LIBRARY FALL BOOK SALE

Friends of the Morrill Memorial Library Fall Book Sale Oct. 31 - Nov. 2. Special Friends Preview: Friday, Oct. 31 from 1 to 4:45 p.m. General Public: Saturday, Nov. 1 from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Bag Sale: Sunday, Nov. 2 from 2 to 4:45 p.m.

LIBRARY SHOWS "SYMPHONY OF THE SOIL" FILM

You are invited to an evening of film and discussion at the Morrill Memorial Library on Wednesday, Nov. 5 at 7 p.m. with a screening of the award-winning documentary, "Symphony of the Soil." It takes between 700 and 1,500 years to generate a single inch of topsoil, and 90 percent of the cropland in our country is losing soil faster than it can be replaced. This important film addresses concerns such as how we can help conserve this vital resource and what others are doing to preserve our precious soil. The film is sponsored by Together Yes, a non-profit organization dedicated to sustainability and the community building necessary to it. A debt of gratitude is owed to the Jerry Hopcroft family who purchased the DVD, having first seen it at the Museum of Science in Boston. Please sign up for this program at the Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222.

SWING FEVER TRIO PERFORMS AT THE LIBRARY

Get your toes tapping when the Swing Fever Trio returns to the Morrill Memorial Library on Sunday, Nov. 9 at 3 p.m. as part of the fall Musical Sundays concert series. Norwood's own pianist/vocalist Steve Rudolph will be accompanied by Ralph Pepe on bass and Gary Spellissey on drums. The trio will apply its distinctive jazz stylings to the music of George Gershwin, Cole Porter and Duke Ellington, among others. Join them for a joyous sampling of the best of American popular music of the past century. The remaining concerts in the Musical Sundays series will feature Hungrytown on Nov. 23 and Spook Handy on Dec. 7. Please sign up for these concerts, made possible through the library Endowment Fund, at the Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222.

SUNFLOWERS: PASTEL WORKSHOP

Award-winning pastel artist Greg Maichack will return to the Morrill Memorial Library on Monday, Nov. 3 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. to present a free workshop on painting sunflowers. "Sublime Sunflowers: How to Pastel Paint like the Masters," is open to all adults from beginners to advanced artists. In this fun workshop Mr. Maichack will provide insights into the lives of the old masters that painted the sunflower: van Gogh, Monet, and Georgia O'Keeffe. A beautifully structured sunflower drawing of one of O'Keeffe's paintings will be the focal point for participants as they learn to create their own pastel painting. All professional-grade materials including pastels, colored paper, and white charcoal pencils will be provided. The artist earned an MFA from the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. He teaches pastel at the Springfield Fine Arts Museum School and has received numerous national awards. Please sign up for this workshop, generously funded by the Norwood Woman's Club, at the library Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222. Class size is limited to 28.

TROMBONE TRIO TO PERFORM

The Morrill Memorial Library's fall Musical Sundays concert series begins with a stellar performance by the Solstice Sackbuts on Sunday, Oct. 26 at 3 p.m. This renowned chamber trio will take a musical tour through the centuries starting with Medieval and Renaissance music, continuing with Baroque, Classical and Romantic music and evolving into pop and jazz. They will also share some interesting anecdotes about life during those periods and give a brief history of the trombone. Formed in 2010, the Solstice Sackbuts include David Lindsey, Alan Johnson and Leslie Havens who will perform on soprano, alto, tenor and bass trombones. The Musical Sundays series continues with a concert by the Swing Fever Trio on Nov. 9, Hungrytown on Nov. 23, and Spook Handy on Dec. 7. Please register for these programs, made possible through the library Endowment Fund, at the Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222.

DEATHS

CARCHEDI

Mary E. (Cullinane), 86, of Norwood, on Oct. 18. Beloved wife of the late Pietro F. Carchedi. Devoted mother of Paul F. Carchedi and his wife Ellen of Bellingham, David R. Carchedi and his wife Karen of Charlestown, R.I., and Nancy A. Carchedi and Richard Green of Pelham, N.H. Sister of Pearl Cullinane of Concord, Loretta Oliva of Worcester and the late Edward Cullinane, Eleanor Adams, Nancy Cullinane and Clarence Cullinane. Cherished grandmother of Michael, Heather, Callie and Nicholas. Great-grandmother of Ember. Also survived by many nieces and nephews. Daughter of the late Edward and Loretta (Shattuck) Cullinane. Mary worked for 35 years as a nurse at Norwood Hospital, followed by 20 years volunteering, also at Norwood Hospital. Mary leaves many, many friends in both Massachusetts and Florida where she vacationed for the winters for the last 30 years. Mary loved her crafts and often donated her time and talent to make Chemo hats and baby blankets for new moms. Her friendship and warmth will be missed by those whose life's she touched. Funeral arrangements by the Kraw-Kornack Funeral Home, Norwood. Burial will be at Highland Cemetery Norwood. In lieu of flowers donations may be made in her name to the American 20 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701.

HYNES

Norman G., 69, on Oct. 13. A loving husband for 40 years, he is survived by wife Donna M. (Dolan) Hynes of Norwood. He was preceded in death by his parents Robert and Lillian Hynes, his late sister and brother in-law Phillip and Dorothy Goding and late father in-law John Dolan Sr. In addition to his wife, he is survived by his son Eric Hynes and Eric's husband Scott Robbins of Norwood, his daughter Kerrie Hynes and boyfriend Curtis Packer, and supportive mother in-law Lorraine Dolan, fond uncle to MaryLou Beckler and Maynard Goding, along with many more family members. Norman, or as he was commonly called, "Storming Norman," was passionate about life. Originally born in Boston, Mass. Norman retired from the Mass Financial Services as a Supervisor for 30 years. He loved doing yard work and taking the occasional trip to Foxwoods and to The Chateau. But, more than anything else in the world, he loved and adored his family and was a great, loving, kind and gentle husband, father and gentleman who will be missed more than words can ever say. Funeral arrangements by the Brady & Fallon Funeral Home, Jamaica Plain. Interment at Knollwood Memorial Park. In lieu of flowers, donations in Norman's memory may be made to Dana Farber Cancer Institute 10 Brookline Place West, 6th floor, Brookline, MA. 02445.

JACKSON

Robert "Bob," 88, of Norwood, on Oct. 14. Beloved husband of the late Judith (Bittrolff) Jackson. Devoted father of David Jackson of Key West, Fla., and Jonathan Jackson of Boston, Mass. He also leaves behind his grandchildren. In lieu of flowers, donations in his memory may be made to the of Eastern MA, 311 Arsenal St., Watertown, MA 02473. Arrangements by the Stanetsky Memorial Chapels.

REMY

Claire Y. (Charette), 93, of Norwood, on Oct. 14. And joined her beloved husband "Regi" Reginald J. Remy, who died eight months ago. Married 65 years, their relationship began when she volunteered to write letters of support to Fall River men stationed overseas during World War II. They married when he returned home. They raised three boys, Paul of Sharon, Mass., who was born with cerebral palsy, Robert of Houston, Texas and Roger & his wife Susan (Lockett) of Canton, Mass. Claire was a devoted wife, mother, friend and grandmother, who thoroughly enjoyed her two granddaughters, Julia Claire and Sophia Marie of Canton, Mass. She also leaves several nieces and nephews. Claire loved to cook, share recipes, shop for her family and read popular novels. Claire was born in Fall River to the late Thomas and Clara (Laferriere) Charette. Her mother died at childbirth and Claire was raised by her aunts and uncles, as was the practice at the time. She graduated high school and worked as an accounts manager before marrying and starting life as a homemaker. Funeral arrangements by the Boule Funeral Home, Fall River, Mass. Interment will be in Notre Dame Cemetery, Fall River. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Camp Jabberwocky, a summer camp for people with disabilities, P.O. On Nov. 5, at 6:30 p.m. Located at the Morrill Memorial Library. FOVA Norwood (Friends of the Visual Arts, Norwood) will hold their monthly meeting in the Trustees room of the Morrill Memorial Library. All are welcome to attend.

TOUR OF OLD PARISH CEMETERY

On Saturday Nov. 1, at 5 p.m. Washington Street Entrance. The Norwood Historical Society invites you to learn all about "Murder and Mayhem" through an evening visit to Old Parish Cemetery. Join us for a guided tour of the cemetery's most notorious occupants, led by Patricia Fanning. Hear about the first recorded murder in South Dedham, among other mishaps and misdeeds of the 19th century. We will offer light refreshments and prepare a lighted path to follow, but to ensure your own safety please bring a flashlight. The entrance is located on Washington Street, opposite Howard Street. Advance tickets are available for purchase at the Norwood Civic Center, and at the entrance: $5 per person. All revenue will benefit our efforts to maintain and restore the Day House. For more information, please write to info@norwoodhistoricasociety.org or call 781-762-9197.

HIGH SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT AT THE DAY HOUSE

On Saturday and Sunday Nov. 1 and 2, from noon to 3 p.m. Located at 93 Day St. Norwood High School art and photography students will display their work created after their tour of the mansion. Engaging with Fred Holland Day and his significance as a pioneer in the American Fine Art Photography movement, students then create their own artwork inspired by one of the three primary themes of Day's work (Portraits, Allegory, and Historical sites) or the Day House itself. Using varying media and styles, each piece of student artwork is a distinctive interpretation of these themes. The exhibit will also include the works of high school photography students who will develop and display one photograph each pertaining to the house or its contents. Please come enjoy their work! For more information, please write to the society at info@norwoodhistoricasociety.org or call 781-762-9197.

QUESTION 1: Law Proposed by Initiative Petition
ELIMINATING GAS TAX INDEXING

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 6, 2014?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would eliminate the requirement that the state's gasoline tax, which was 24 cents per gallon as of September 2013, (1) be adjusted every year by the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index over the preceding year, but (2) not be adjusted below 21.5 cents per gallon.

A YES VOTE would eliminate the requirement that the state's gas tax be adjusted annually based on the Consumer Price Index.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the laws regarding the gas tax.

QUESTION 2: Law Proposed by Initiative Petition
EXPANDING THE BEVERAGE CONTAINER DEPOSIT LAW

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 6, 2014?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would expand the state's beverage container deposit law, also known as the Bottle Bill, to require deposits on containers for all non-alcoholic non-carbonated drinks in liquid form intended for human consumption, except beverages primarily derived from dairy products, infant formula, and FDA approved medicines. The proposed law would not cover containers made of paper-based biodegradable material and aseptic multi-material packages such as juice boxes or pouches.

The proposed law would require the state Secretary of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) to adjust the container deposit amount every five years to reflect (to the nearest whole cent) changes in the consumer price index, but the value could not be set below five cents.

The proposed law would increase the minimum handling fee that beverage distributors must pay dealers for each properly returned empty beverage container, which was 2¼ cents as of September 2013, to 3½ cents. It would also increase the minimum handling fee that bottlers must pay distributors and dealers for each properly returned empty reusable beverage container, which was 1 cent as of September 2013, to 3½ cents. The Secretary of EEA would review the fee amounts every five years and make appropriate adjustments to reflect changes in the consumer price index as well as changes in the costs incurred by redemption centers. The proposed law defines a redemption center as any business whose primary purpose is the redemption of beverage containers and that is not ancillary to any other business.

The proposed law would direct the Secretary of EEA to issue regulations allowing small dealers to seek exemptions from accepting empty deposit containers. The proposed law would define small dealer as any person or business, including the operator of a vending machine, who sells beverages in beverage containers to consumers, with a contiguous retail space of 3,000 square feet or less, excluding office and stock room space; and fewer than four locations under the same ownership in the Commonwealth. The proposed law would require that the regulations consider at least the health, safety, and convenience of the public, including the distribution of dealers and redemption centers by population or by distance or both.

The proposed law would set up a state Clean Environment Fund to receive certain unclaimed container deposits. The Fund would be used, subject to appropriation by the state Legislature, to support programs such as the proper management of solid waste, water resource protection, parkland, urban forestry, air quality and climate protection.

The proposed law would allow a dealer, distributor, redemption center or bottler to refuse to accept any beverage container that is not marked as being refundable in Massachusetts.

The proposed law would take effect on April 22, 2015.

A YES VOTE would expand the state's beverage container deposit law to require deposits on containers for all non-alcoholic, non-carbonated drinks with certain exceptions, increase the associated handling fees, and make other changes to the law.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the laws regarding beverage container deposits.

QUESTION 3: Law Proposed by Initiative Petition
EXPANDING PROHIBITIONS ON GAMING

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 6, 2014?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would (1) prohibit the Massachusetts Gaming Commission from issuing any license for a casino or other gaming establishment with table games and slot machines, or any license for a gaming establishment with slot machines; (2) prohibit any such casino or slots gaming under any such licenses that the Commission might have issued before the proposed law took effect; and (3) prohibit wagering on the simulcasting of live greyhound races.

The proposed law would change the definition of "illegal gaming" under Massachusetts law to include wagering on the simulcasting of live greyhound races, as well as table games and slot machines at Commission-licensed casinos, and slot machines at other Commission-licensed gaming establishments. This would make those types of gaming subject to existing state laws providing criminal penalties for, or otherwise regulating or prohibiting, activities involving illegal gaming.

The proposed law states that if any of its parts were declared invalid, the other parts would stay in effect.

A YES VOTE would prohibit casinos, any gaming establishment with slot machines, and wagering on simulcast greyhound races.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the current laws regarding gaming.

QUESTION 4: Law Proposed by Initiative Petition EARNED SICK TIME FOR EMPLOYEES

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 6, 2014?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would entitle employees in Massachusetts to earn and use sick time according to certain conditions.

Employees who work for employers having eleven or more employees could earn and use up to 40 hours of paid sick time per calendar year, while employees working for smaller employers could earn and use up to 40 hours of unpaid sick time per calendar year.

An employee could use earned sick time if required to miss work in order (1) to care for a physical or mental illness, injury or medical condition affecting the employee or the employee's child, spouse, parent, or parent of a spouse; (2) to attend routine medical appointments of the employee or the employee's child, spouse, parent, or parent of a spouse; or (3) to address the effects of domestic violence on the employee or the employee's dependent child. Employees would earn one hour of sick time for every 30 hours worked, and would begin accruing those hours on the date of hire or on July 1, 2015, whichever is later. Employees could begin to use earned sick time on the 90th day after hire.

The proposed law would cover both private and public employers, except that employees of a particular city or town would be covered only if, as required by the state constitution, the proposed law were made applicable by local or state legislative vote or by appropriation of sufficient funds to pay for the benefit. Earned paid sick time would be compensated at the same hourly rate paid to the employee when the sick time is used.

Employees could carry over up to 40 hours of unused sick time to the next calendar year, but could not use more than 40 hours in a calendar year. Employers would not have to pay employees for unused sick time at the end of their employment. If an employee missed work for a reason eligible for earned sick time, but agreed with the employer to work the same number of hours or shifts in the same or next pay period, the employee would not have to use earned sick time for the missed time, and the employer would not have to pay for that missed time. Employers would be prohibited from requiring such an employee to work additional hours to make up for missed time, or to find a replacement employee.

Employers could require certification of the need for sick time if an employee used sick time for more than 24 consecutively scheduled work hours. Employers could not delay the taking of or payment for earned sick time because they have not received the certification. Employees would have to make a good faith effort to notify the employer in advance if the need for earned sick time is foreseeable.

Employers would be prohibited from interfering with or retaliating based on an employee's exercise of earned sick time rights, and from retaliating based on an employee's support of another employee's exercise of such rights.

The proposed law would not override employers' obligations under any contract or benefit plan with more generous provisions than those in the proposed law. Employers that have their own policies providing as much paid time off, usable for the same purposes and under the same conditions, as the proposed law would not be required to provide additional paid sick time.

The Attorney General would enforce the proposed law, using the same enforcement procedures applicable to other state wage laws, and employees could file suits in court to enforce their earned sick time rights. The Attorney General would have to prepare a multilingual notice regarding the right to earned sick time, and employers would be required to post the notice in a conspicuous location and to provide a copy to employees. The state Executive Office of Health and Human Services, in consultation with the Attorney General, would develop a multilingual outreach program to inform the public of the availability of earned sick time.

The proposed law would take effect on July 1, 2015, and states that if any of its parts were declared invalid, the other parts would stay in effect.

A YES VOTE would entitle employees in Massachusetts to earn and use sick time according to certain conditions.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the laws regarding earned sick time.

QUESTION 5:
THIS QUESTION IS NOT BINDING

Shall the state representative from this district be instructed to vote in favor of legislation that requires all non-hospital facilities performing more than 10 abortions a year to be licensed as "clinics" and to be inspected at least every two years by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health?

Hereof fail not and make return of this warrant with your doings thereon at the time and place of said meeting.

Given under our hands this fourteenth day of October, A.D. 2014.
