“Warning” status finally ends for high school

Vinaya Saksena
Staff Reporter

After weeks of tense budget discussions, the School Committee received some good news last week, as it was learned that Norwood High School was out of the woods with respect to accreditation.

“Accredit” to the schools

In a March 23 letter to NHS Principal George Usevich, Janet D. Allison, Director of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges’ Commission of Public Secondary Schools, said the decision had been made in late January. Superintendent of Schools James Hayden and members of the School Committee requested last week that details of the news be released to local media, noting what a positive development it was for Norwood.

“The Commission on Public Secondary Schools, at its January 22-23, 2012 meeting, reviewed the Two Year Progress Report of Norwood High School and continued the school’s accreditation,” Allison said in her letter. “Citing the resolution of all identified concerns following the opening of the new Norwood High School, the Commission removed the school from warning for the Standards for Accreditation on Curriculum and Community Resources for Learning. The Commission commended the completion of the new state-of-the-art Norwood High School, which fully supports a 21st century learning environment and the school’s educational services and programs.”

“We’re very proud of your accomplishments,” Hayden said, noting the hard work of Usevich and his staff. “It’s not just the building. It’s your attitude.”

In her letter, Allison said the

Low turnout, few surprises, in election

Vinaya Saksena

The results of Monday’s election generated little by way of surprises, as incumbents retained seats and others ran unopposed.

A total of just 2,393 votes were cast in the election- a 14.12 percent turnout. At their meeting on Tuesday, members of the Board of Selectmen lamented the apparent lack of interest, which Chairman Michael Lyons attributed to people assigning less importance to local issues than national ones, given the much higher turnout typical in presidential elections.

“To vote is a freedom that many people die for in this country,” added Selectman Paul Bishop. “So, I implore you to get out there and vote in the future.”

School Committee members Paul Samargedlis and James Gormley were each elected to serve on the Committee for another two years, garnering 1,420 votes and 1,335 votes, respectively. Long-serving School Committee member Dick Kief lost the race for one of those two seats, garnering 865 votes. The late Joseph “Mitch” Pentowski, who had Commission had been pleased to learn that the school's mission had been posted in all classrooms, and that it was being used "to guide decision-making in the school." Other positive developments cited by the Commission included a new teacher evaluation system and new course offerings in English, visual arts, world language and technology education.

Allison noted that Norwood High School's accreditation would be reconsidered when the Commission reviews the school's Five-Year Progress Report, which is due on March 1, 2014. She said that report should include detailed responses to recommendations made by the Commission, which included evaluation of "the impact of course leveling on students' self-esteem and achievement" in order to "ensure that all students have sufficient opportunity to practice and achieve each of the expectations for student learning," and that time, personnel and resources be devoted to "curriculum development, evaluation and revision." The school is also being asked to "expand the assessment of the civic expectations beyond the completion of community service."

The Commission also requested that a Special Progress Report be submitted by February 1, 2013, documenting use of school-wide rubrics to assess student progress, and high expectations of all students with regard to high order thinking, problem solving and other related activities. Documentation showing that each student's educational experience was being personalized with the help of an adult leader in the school community other than their school counselor would also be required at that time, Allison said.

A touch of (new) class
 In other High School-related news, Usevich and Foreign Language department Chairman Cindy Derrane told the School Committee that new foreign language and social studies course offerings had been implemented despite budgetary constraints. They said the new offerings did not require any new hires and did not have any budgetary effect at all.
 Usevich and Derrane said Spanish 4 will be offered at the advance placement level. The course was previously offered at the college and honors levels, but offering it as an AP course would allow students to take two years of AP Spanish courses, enabling them to take both Spanish AP exams. Derrane said she also wanted to offer an AP French course, but could not do so without an additional staffer.

Meanwhile, Usevich said a new course, titled "Civics, Citizenship and the Constitution," would be offered to seniors. He added that four social studies courses - sociology, psychology, international issues and American government - would be expanded from half-year courses to full-year courses, allowing students to have a more in-depth learning experience on each subject.

Works of art
 The School Committee also recognized Norwood High School student Rebecca Leanos, who had recently won a National Gold Key Medal in the 2012 Scholastics Art and Writing Awards. Art teacher Elizabeth Mullaney proudly noted that Leanos had also won a Silver Key Medal, having entered a total of three pieces of her art into the competition.

"I've been teaching Rebecca for four years," Mullaney said. "This is an amazing culmination of a student-teacher relationship."
 "It felt like such an [accomplishment] to win this," Leanos said. "Especially when there [were] threats to cut the arts."

New Planning Board member picked

Vinaya Saksena
Staff Reporter

Alfred P. Porro Jr.

For the second time this year, the Board of Selectmen held a joint meeting with the Planning Board on Tuesday, at which they appointed an interim member to serve on the latter board in place of the late E. William Bamber.

The boards considered two candidates for the position: Alfred P. Porro Jr. of 7 Elks Parkway South and Michael Sheehan of 6 Old Farm Road. After two attempts to reach a consensus, they voted to appoint Porro, with Board of Selectmen Chairman Michael Lyons casting the deciding vote.

The first vote on the matter was a tie, with Porro receiving the votes of Selectmen Paul Bishop and Helen Abdallah Donohue, plus Planning Board members Paul Donohue and Ernie Paciorkowski. Supporting Sheehan were Lyons, Selectman Allan Howard and Planning Board members Debbie Holmwood and Joseph Sheehan.

Shortly after that evenly split vote, a second vote of the two boards was taken, and this time Porro came out ahead by one vote. The only vote that had changed was that of Lyons, who said afterwards that he had been convinced to vote for Porro after listening to the opinions of the Planning Board members.

Michael Sheehan, along with Holmwood and Joseph Sheehan, had been considered as possible replacements for Marco Brancato on the Planning Board at the beginning of the year, with Joseph Sheehan ultimately winning that appointment. In a scenario that was mirrored this week, that decision was made after the two boards had been unable to reach a consensus the first time around, with Paciorkowski being the deciding vote the second time around.

In explaining his decision to change his vote Tuesday night, Lyons said he had initially supported Michael Sheehan - as he had the last time he was considered for appointment - but was convinced to change his vote after hearing what he sensed was a leaning towards experience over freshness on the part of the Planning Board members who had served the longest. He said he changed his vote "out of respect for their wisdom."

"He [Michael Sheehan] has a very strong resume," Lyons said. "I voted for him straight through last time."

Holmwood had been the most vocal advocate for a fresh face on the Planning Board, and thus threw her support behind Michael Sheehan - Right of Way Agent at the Massachusetts Highway Department, owner of y3k Realty Advisors and former Malden City Councilor - both times. Paciorkowski voted for Porro both times, but noted that he did not come to that decision easily.

"I think we have two outstanding candidates," Paciorkowski said. "I appreciate both of them."

When asked, Porro said he would run for a position on the Planning Board when the interim term expires. When asked why he did not do this after not getting appointed on his last try, Michael Sheehan said he respected the qualifications of Holmwood and Joseph Sheehan, adding that he had not sought the appointment to be "in competition with capable people" like them.

Porro, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Bentley College, is Director of Real Estate Development and Asset Management at Northeastern University, and a partner at Porro and Carvalho Accounting and Tax Services. He previously served on the Planning Board between 1981 and 1987.

THROWING STONES IN A GLASS HOUSE

We will make one thing abundantly clear: we have zero tolerance for elected officials who betray the public trust. From Sal DiMasi to Dianne Wilkerson, those who seek profit from their power deserve harsh punishment.

Nevertheless we are having a hard time finding much to gloat about given the indictment handed down this week against former State Treasurer and gubernatorial candidate Tim Cahill. Frankly, the attacks on him reek of hypocrisy.

Sure enough, we suspect that Cahill knew darn well what he was doing when he decided to plaster his mug all over advertisements for the state lottery. His accusers say he used that agency's budget to bolster his prominence and recognition throughout his campaign. In essence, Attorney General Martha Coakley says, he used public funds for campaign purposes by promoting himself alongside the gaming he oversaw.

Of course Cahill knew there would be a benefit to the lottery advertisements. To prosecute him for it so vigorously, well, color us skeptical.

Several years ago, our Suffolk County Sheriff opened a can of worms by plastering her face all over public service announcements released - less-than-coincidentally - amid a reelection bid. She got a slap on the wrist delivered by the media. Cahill may get jail time.

The conspiracy theorist in us wonders if Cahill's transgression would have passed by unnoticed had he continued to be a party stalwart, and not continue the audacity of running against the Governor as an Independent. It's amazing what troubles can disappear by staying in line, doing as you are told and taking a political oath of fealty.

And so, we ask: Did Martha Coakley make sure to scrub her image from her official website as she ran for Congress? Did she bypass the podium; letting a subordinate handle in-

FNC HAS THINGS MOVING

To the Editor:

The Norwood Record's opinion column "The Center of Things," March 29, 2012 addressed issues about Norwood Center. Similar to many downtown business districts in towns with similar demographics, Norwood Center is reinventing itself. The need was recognized by the Downtown Steering Committee and confirmed by the Revised Master Plan. In accordance with the suggested Master Plan directives, the non-profit organization "Friends of Norwood Center (FNC)" was created.

The FNC has been working to establish itself as a positive influence for Norwood Center. Merchants and residents have been receptive to the new organization, which has been laying foundations in its inaugural year. Specifically the FNC hired Kim Weineck to be the Downtown Manager, a part-time position, and then FNC established a blog, www.norwoodcenter.blogspot.com, Facebook page: facebook.com/norwoodcenter, and Twitter account: @norwoodcenter. Through these free social media outlets, FNC got to work creating a new buzz about downtown, and it's been a busy and visible first three months.

On Feb. 22 the FNC held a "Community Input Meeting" at the OCC, offering stakeholders of Norwood Center an opportunity to share opinions. FNC has been meeting merchants, prospective business prospects, and concerned residents. Going forward, on April 21 the FNC is launching the monthly event "Spending Saturdays" an initiative to drive people downtown for various events, specials, and discounts in Norwood Center on the third Saturday of each month. The weekend of April 21-22 FNC and TogetherYes are holding a series of events celebrating Earth Day.

With new initiatives, campaigns, and fundraisers in the works, FNC is asking for more stakeholders to take part in our efforts: visit our blog, join our organization, volunteer to assist with our campaigns, attend our fundraiser. Whatever you do, we invite you to reinvent downtown Norwood Center with us. Make it a relevant space for you today. Have ideas you'd like to share, let Kim know: norwoodcenter@gmail.com or call 781-269-9967.

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Friends of Norwood Council on Aging and all the seniors, we like to thank Westbury Farm's Mike Reaney, Steve Flaherty and their staff for a wonderful evening on March 26, 2012. This was the 11th year that Steve and Mike have put on this wonderful dinner for the seniors. We really are ever so grateful that you worked so hard for the 96 seniors that were there. You are another great asset this town should be proud of. Again, thank you.

Peers remember Pentowski

Vinaya Saksena
Staff Reporter

Former School Committee member Joseph "Mitch" Pentowski was a dedicated member of the Norwood community and a good friend, according to town officials who knew him.

Pentowski died on Friday, March 30 at the age of 83. A Korean War veteran, he had been a Town Meeting member for forty years, as well as being a member of American Legion Post 70, the Norwood Knights of Columbus, Disabled American Veterans and the Metropolitan Life Veterans Association.

Pentowski was a member of the School Committee for 37 years, serving until 2010. Those who served with him on the Committee remembered him as a kind man who always had the best interests of the community and its children in mind.

"He was a fantastic guy, great School Committee member," said Town Manager John Carroll. "He was a good friend of mine, personally."

"Mitch to me, first and foremost, was a dear friend," said School Committee Chairman Paul Samargedlis. "He was a great American, as a Veteran. And he was a person that the community could trust. Family and community were everything to him."

Samargedlis said he knew Pentowski as both a colleague and a friend. As a result, he said he came to appreciate both Pentowski's commitment to the town and his commitment to baseball, a subject the two of them used to talk about extensively when not occupied with school affairs.

"Mitch was 42 years older than me, but it didn't stop us having a strong bond between us," Samargedlis said. "I learned a lot from him."

In reflecting on Pentowski's contribution to the School Committee specifically, Samargedlis described his elder colleague as "a strong advocate for backing the educator's opinion." He remembered that in one instance where Committee members could not reach a consensus, Pentowski defused the situation by asking for the superintendent's opinion. In ways like this, Samargedlis said, Pentowski often reminded the rest of the Committee that they were elected officials, and thus there to serve the will of the voters, with the advice of those they had appointed.

Pentowski was also fondly remembered by the selectmen for being committed to the town, despite his Vermont origins. It was noted that he often brought Vermont maple syrup back for friends after visits to his home state.

"For a man who was not born and raised here, Mitch gave thirty-seven years of service to this town- more than many people who were born here," said Selectman Paul Bishop.

In Pentowski's obituary, it

HOLY WEEK AND PASCHAAT SAINT GEORGE

Orthodox Christians around the world will be celebrating Easter (called Pascha, the Greek word for Passover) on Sunday, the 15th of April. This year Roman Catholics, Protestants and other Christians will have celebrated the Resurrection one week earlier. The next common celebration will be in 2014.

8 April: Palm Sunday, Liturgy and Procession - 10:00 am.

12 April: Holy Thursday, Reading of the Passion Gospels - 7:00 pm.

13 April: Great and Holy Friday, Lamentations at the Tomb - 7:00 pm.

14 April: Holy Pascha (Easter), Rush Procession and Divine Liturgy, beginning at 10:30 pm.

15 April: Paschal Vespers, 12 noon (At this service the Resurrection Gospel will be read in many languages.)

For times or information about other Holy Week services, Confession etc., call Saint George Orthodox Church at 781-762-4396 or stop by the parish at 6 Atwood Avenue (off Washington) in South Norwood. Complete scheduling information is also on our web site: www.StGeorgeNorwood.org

FEAST OF SAINT GEORGE

Just days after Pascha (Easter), Saint George Orthodox Church celebrates the feast of the patron, the Great-Martyr George. His Grace Bishop John, the newly consecrated bishop of Worcester & New England will be in Norwood for the celebration. Great Vespers on Saturday, April 21 is at 6:00 p.m. On Sunday the 22nd, the bishop will serve Liturgy at 10:00 a.m.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES AT EMMANUEL LUTHERAN

Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 24 Berwick St., Norwood, MA, 02062, 781-762-9457, welcomes everyone to worship during Holy Week. Services are as follows:

On Holy Thursday, April 5, Emmanuel will have two worship services. There will be an afternoon service at 2:00 p.m. and an evening service at 7:30 p.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated at both services. The 2:00 p.m. afternoon service will end with a solemn reading focusing on the passion of our Lord. The 7:30 p.m. evening worship will conclude with the stripping of the altar and removal of all the chancel decorations. Worshippers will leave the church in silence.

Good Friday, April 6, two very different worship services will be held, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The 2:00 p.m. worship will focus on the Stations of the Cross. The large cross will be present in the chancel area as a focal point for our devotion. The 7:30 p.m. worship will follow the form of the traditional "Tenebrae" service of deepening darkness. Seven candles will be extinguished as the death of Jesus the Son of God is marked. The service closes with the sound of the earthquake and the last light of Jesus life being snuffed out.

Saturday evening, April 7, at 7:00 p.m., Emmanuel will join Grace Episcopal Church in the Great Vigil of Easter. The service this year will be held at Grace. We will light The "New Fire" of the resurrection and process into the still darkened nave of the church. Then, as the liturgy unfolds before us, we will experience the beautiful and moving transformation from the darkness of sin and death to the brightness of the new life in Christ. Join us as we "keep vigil" for the first word of the resurrection to reach our ears.

On Easter morning, April 8, Emmanuel will have two worship opportunities. The 8:45 a.m. worship will feature a traditional formal liturgy including the Easter Procession with the new light of Christ, Easter message from our pastor and the sacrament of Holy Communion. All are welcome to the Lord's Supper at Emmanuel Church. The 11:15 a.m. Contemporary Easter Worship will follow the style of worship that has become so much a part of Emmanuel's weekly schedule. With a blend of traditional and contemporary hymns we will welcome the "Happy Morning" of Jesus' resurrection, hear a message from our pastor and share in the Holy Meal of Communion.

FIRST BAPTIST ANNOUNCES HOLY WEEK SCHEDULE

On Maundy Thursday (Holy Thursday) the traditional Stone Soup Supper will be served at 6 p.m. followed by a Service of Communion at 7 p.m. All who believe in the Lord Jesus Christ are invited to take part. On Good Friday, First Baptist Church will join with the Anglican Church of the Redeemer from 12 noon to 3 p.m. in the Baptist Church sanctuary in remembering the seven last words of Christ on the cross. People are welcome to come in at any time and leave at the end of any one of the seven sections. Easter Sunday will be celebrated with a joyous Alleluia, Christ is Risen! at the 10:30 a.m. service in the beautifully decorated sanctuary. There will be special music by the choir and guest soloist Judith Fitzgerald. When so many individuals and groups are trying to remove God from our world's activities, this is a very special time for all Christians to stand and be counted, showing our faith in the risen Christ. All are welcome at any or all of these services throughout the week.

PRAY THE STATIONS OF THE CROSS AT GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

This year's Lenten Study series at Grace Episcopal Church centered around the Stations of the Cross and distinguished British artist Chris Gollon's renditions of the fourteen stations. In 2000, Gollon was commissioned by the Church of St. John on Bethnal Green in London to paint the fourteen Stations of the Cross for this beautiful historic church designed by Sir John Soane. These renditions of the Stations of the Cross were reviewed and praised by the London Times and the Bishop of London. The paintings were unveiled at the 2008 Good Friday service and in March 2009 this powerful series of paintings were permanently installed. This historic London church has become a major visitor attraction in East London.

Grace Church has been granted the rights to bring reproductions of these stirring paintings to Norwood and Gollon's fourteen Stations are making their North American debut on Tuesday evening, April 3, 7:00 p.m., at the church. Those attending may pray together the Stations of the Cross. In addition to the debut of the paintings, newly composed music for organ (played on Grace's 100-year-old Hutchings pipe organ) and voices have been written especially for these paintings. The public is cordially invited to view this beautiful display of the Stations that will be placed around the nave of the church and participate in prayer and music.

On Good Friday, April 6, at 3:00 p.m. children will be led along the fourteen Stations of the Cross telling them the story of each Station. Although Friday's prayers are directed for youth, everyone is welcome. Grace Episcopal Church is located at 150 Chapel Street.

Grace Episcopal Church Celebrates Easter

Grace Episcopal Church will celebrate with Emmanuel Lutheran Church the Great Vigil of Easter on Saturday, April 7 at 7:00 p.m. at Grace Church on Chapel Street. The new fire will be lit on the steps of the church as the congregation processes into the church to celebrate "passing over" from darkness to light with candles, music and more.

A Festival Holy Eucharist on Easter Day will be celebrated at both 8:00 and 10:30 a.m. services at Grace Church on Sunday, April 8. Celebrate the resurrection through favorite Easter hymns and holiday music played on the 100-year-old George S. Hutchings pipe organ. The children will "flower" the cross with spring flowers. An Easter egg hunt will be held after the service at 11:30 a.m.

Questions regarding any of the Holy Week services or events can be directed to the church office at 781-762-0959.

GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH BEGINS HOLY WEEK WITH

On Thursday, April 5 a special Children's Last Supper begins at 6:00 p.m. with a family-friendly dinner and Eucharist reenacting the Last Supper. Families will bring matzo bread, Charoset - an apple and nuts mixture-, hardboiled eggs, grape juice for wine and kid-friendly chicken nuggets for sharing at the dinner. The traditional Maundy Thursday Liturgy and the Stripping of the Altar will begin at 7:00 p.m.

On Good Friday, April 6, at 3:00 p.m. Father John Brockmann will lead the children along the fourteen Stations of the Cross telling them the story of each station. Pictures of the fourteen Stations have been placed around the inside of the nave. (Although directed for youth, everyone is welcome). The Good Friday Liturgy service will be held at 7:00 p.m.

The Great Vigil of Easter will be held on Saturday, April 7 at 7:00 p.m. and will be celebrated jointly with Emmanuel Lutheran Church. This year's vigil will be held at Grace Church. A Festival Holy Eucharist on Easter Day will be celebrated at both 8:00 and 10:30 a.m. services. Celebrate the resurrection through favorite Easter hymns and holiday music played on the 100-year-old George S. Hutchings pipe organ. An Easter egg hunt will be held at 11:30 a.m. Questions regarding any of the Holy Week services or events can be directed to passed away three days earlier but whose name was still on the ballot, received 249 votes.

"Last night was a good night," Samargedlis said on Tuesday. "I think the most important thing is that the community had their say, and they showed us their confidence. It's given me a lot of resolve to continue working for the community."

Susan McQuaid, who had served on the School Committee previously, was elected to the lone three-year Committee seat on the ballot, garnering 1,427 votes. Another 253 votes were cast for write-in candidates, with 239 of those going to Lisa Igoe Kelleher, who had announced her write-in campaign towards the end of March.

The only other contested race was for a pair of seats on the Library Board of Trustees, which was won by incumbent Sarah Begg and newcomer Patricia Reardon, with 1,119 votes and 970 votes, respectively. Linda Thomas received 699 votes, while 543 votes were cast for and Paul Ward.

Town Moderator David Hern Jr., who faced no opposition, was re-elected with 1,723 votes. Other candidates re-ected in uncontested races included incumbent Selectman William Plasko, Board of Health member Kathleen Bishop and Finance Commission members Joseph Greeley and John Hayes. Deborah Holmwood and Joseph Sheehan were elected to two separate seats on the Planning Board, having previously been considered to temporarily fill the vacancy left on that board by the resignation of Marco Brancato. Sheehan won temporary appointment to that seat, for which Holmwood and Michael Sheehan had also been considered.

Vocalists and instrumentalists from the Norwood Public Schools excelled in a competition with several other districts this weekend, part of which was hosted at the new Norwood High School building for the first time.

On the weekend of March 31 and April 1, students from Norwood High School, the Coakley Middle School and the town's elementary schools participated in the Massachusetts Instrumental and Choral Conductors (MICCA) Concert Festival, garnering several awards at competitions in Bellingham, Hopkinton and Wrentham, as well as their home town. A vocal-oriented portion of the event was held at Norwood

High School.

Norwood's performance groups fared well in the event, garnering a total of five gold awards, six silver and one bronze. Fine Arts Director Catherine Connor-Moen said she was quite pleased with the results, particularly given the severe cuts her department had nearly suffered in the school budget for the coming year.

"It went very well," Connor-Moen said. "We were thrilled with our results, especially in light of the budget stuff this year. The new school worked beautifully."

Awards won by Norwood ensembles in the event were as follows:

Choral Ensembles NHS Madrigal Choir, director Ashley Nelson - GOLD NHS Concordia (Men's Chorus), director Ashley Nelson - GOLD NHS Concert Chorale (Mixed Chorus), director Ashley Nelson - GOLD NHS Muses (Women's Chorus), director Ashley Nelson - SILVER CMS 8th grade Mixed chorus, director Christopher Martin - SILVER CMS Honor Chorus, director Christopher Martin - SILVER Elementary Honor Chorus, director Constance Cook - SILVER

 On Good Friday, April 6, Warner Chapel will be open from 12 pm to 3 pm for reflection and prayer. At 7:30 p.m. on Good Friday, we will again gather in the sanctuary for a contemplative service with the cross we have constructed interviews and press conferences for fear that her position would give her an unfair advantage versus Scott Brown?

Does the Governor, so "troubled" as he is by Cahill's actions, lay low during his campaign? Or, perhaps, apply duct tape to the hundreds and hundreds of signs throughout the state that bear his name?

Did Secretary of State William Galvin refrain from paid TV ads that did little more than offer back-patting for his fraud-busting efforts, even though that is, of course, what he is paid to do?

Does the President, flying on taxpayer jets, decide that there is no need for expensive "speeches" that always seem to be held in swing states?

Cahill was reckless and we don't aim to minimize his actions. But has he really done anything that other incumbents, time and time again, haven't done?

Those who hold office will always have an advantage over those who seek it. It is a sad fact of political life. What's even sadder is when a blind eye is cast upon those on the "same team," while upstarts get the book thrown at them. We'd suggest that "he without sin cast the first stone," but good luck finding an elected official who meets that description.

The boys' lacrosse team opened the season with a thrilling 8-7 overtime win over Mansfield on Monday afternoon.

Boys' Lacrosse opens the season with a thrilling win

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

If this past Monday afternoon is any indication of what is in store for fans of the Norwood boys' lacrosse team, many, many people could lose years off their lives.

In a game full of sloppy play and some plain and simple poor lacrosse from both teams, Norwood found a way to pull out an 8-7 win in overtime on Andrew Alty's hat trick-clinching goal. The game winner came just 14 seconds into the extra four-minute period.

Head coach Anthony Roman breathed a huge sigh of relief following the victory.

"Wow," he said with a grin after the celebration was over and the field was being picked up. "We really didn't need to make that as difficult as it was."

"We started off really sluggish and had some really bad turnovers with a lot of poor decision making. But in the end we got some outstanding senior leadership from Alty, our defense really stepped up and (Nick) Nardelli was huge in between the pipes for us."

Nardelli finished the game with 16 saves, some of them of the large variety in key situations. Mike Murray and Pat Clifford each had two goals for the now 1-0 Mustangs. Alty also added three assists to his hat trick performance.

The slow start was an understatement for Roman's team as they trailed 3-0 after the first quarter. Mansfield scored goals at the 3:30, 1:05 and 28-second marks of the first quarter, getting the majority of their chances on poor decisions from Norwood in the offensive zone and failed clear attempts between Nardelli and his defensemen.

The second quarter was a much stronger one for Norwood, as they picked up their intensity in all aspects of the game, especially their ride.

"We're not the smoothest team offensively," joked Roman. "That ride is going to be a key point of emphasis all season. We're pretty good at it, so we need to continue to execute in that area in order to try and force some of the cheap goals."

After Mansfield was called for a push just under five minutes into the quarter, Eric McNamara got his team on the board with 9:51 to go in the half. Mansfield quickly got it back but Norwood showed some resiliency, as Clifford finished a nice feed from Alty minutes later to cut the deficit to 4-2.

Mansfield had trouble staying out of the box all day, and Norwood continued to make them pay for it. Clifford and Alty again hooked up with an easy goal after an original attempt at a set play during the man up broke down, making it 4-3. The Mustangs completed the comeback and tied the game at four apiece with just 2 min-

Harrington leads girls' lax in year one

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

Entering this season, first year girls lacrosse head coach Caitlin Harrington wasn't exactly sure what to expect, but she knew her team was talented.

Before the actual season started, her squad took part in a scrimmage at Mansfield high school that she said "went well."

As someone who has played the game at one of its highest levels, Harrington knew the scrimmage would be beneficial, she just wasn't sure exactly how beneficial.

"It was the first scrimmage with officials, which was good because there were significant rule changes this year," she said. "We got our first experience with the way our games will be officiated over the course of the season. Lacrosse is always evolving and teams need to adapt early on in each season in order to be successful."

"The first half was great. A lot of communication on D and patience on the attack," Harrington continued.

"Allison Ryan, Amy Moynihan and Kelsey Colbert were notable in the midfield and settling down the offense. Defender Alayna Fogg and goalie, Leah Murphy had great games as well. We definitely know what we need to work on before our first game against Oliver Ames."

Once the Mustang girls got the regular season under way this past Monday in that game against Oliver Ames, it was clear that some of the extra attention to details may have paid off as Norwood opened the season with a resounding 19-13 victory.

Led by an absurd eight-goal performance for junior Allison Ryan, Norwood found themselves in a back and fourth game until the end of the first half when they were able to begin pulling away with a 9-7 lead at the break.

O.A. had a quick goal in the second half to put a scare into the 'Stangs but composure was key and the girls quickly started to gain a

Boys' Track downed in first meet

Kevin Stone
Staff Reporter

Its been written in the pages of this paper countless times now. The Norwood track programs are a work in progress. An elite program is not built in one day, no matter what the sport.

Boys' coach Russ Booth has stated numerous times that he and his staff are "trying to recruit and establish a certain level of consistency within the program."

And despite not having an extremely established core group of veterans, success was still expected entering this spring season based on many of the efforts produced during the winter season. And although opening day was not a successful one for the Mustangs, it was a step in the right direction. Last week's meet score of 107-28 in a loss to Brookline may look ugly to the eye, but there were indeed positives to come out of the event.

"We had wins from Jake Ryan in the 100, Osato Izeko in the 110 hurdles, and Dan DiTomasso in the shotput," noted Booth.

Ryan also placed second in the 200 while DiTomasso also placed second in the discus.

The Mustangs next have a meet against Bay State rival Natick on April 24. It is a home meet, which means responding to a heavy opening day loss should be a key motivating factor in a young, hungry squad looking to make a name for itself.

The Norwood boys' volleyball team opened up their season with a loss to Bay State Conference rival Newton North this past Friday, losing three straight games to the Tigers. Despite the loss, the more significant development of the less-than-a-week-old season was how they responded to that loss.

On Monday afternoon the Mustangs defeated Brookline 3-2 (25-9, 20-25, 25-20, 15-25, 15-2).

Perhaps the most encouraging thing for Norwood coach Lauren Coville was the fact that her team got contributions from up and down the lineup and from all classes.

"Our captain and senior outside hitter Tommy Bartucca contributed 10 kills, We had a big day from junior libero Colin Gearty, who played solid defense and had two serving streaks at some critical moments. Sophomore middle hitter, Charlie Crockett also contributed 6 kills and 6 blocks. And our other captain senior setter Steven Martinez assisted the team all around with his setting and service," she explained.

While often overlooked during baseball and lacrosse season, volleyball is actually one of the most team oriented sports you will ever see, with precision and unbelievable timing being key contributors to a team's overall success. Whether it is a server directing traffic from the back line or the people upfront at the net "protecting the house" so to speak, everyone must be on the same page. It is one of the ultimate "no I in team" sports that exists.

The fact that the Mustangs have already shown that they will be a team capable of dealing with adversity after a loss this season, especially when everyone in the lineup is involved in creating that quick turnaround from a losing atmosphere to a winning atmosphere, is an extremely positive sign moving forward for the Mustang volley-ballers.

commanding lead with four rapid goals from Brianna Saad (junior), Ryan, Brittany Sullivan (junior), and freshman Kacie Smith.

Harrington's squad was then able to maintain the lead until the final horn sounded. Leah Murphy had 13 saves in goal.

Needless to say, Harrington was pleased with the first few results of the young 2012 spring, but things won't get any easier as rival Walpole visits today (Thursday, April 5), a challenge Norwood must be ready for.

"So far it's a great start to the season. This team is really looking forward to the big rivalry on Thursday against Walpole for our first game on the new turf," she said.

Boys' Lax continued from page 9

utes to play in the half, after Alty scored his first of the game on a fast break following a big faceoff win from Joe Civiattone.

The teams went into half-time with the score still 4-4.

Murray got Norwood on the board first early in the third quarter to take the 5-4 lead, but some careless possessions on Norwood's part allowed Mansfield opportunities to stay in the game, which they capitalized on.

Mansfield actually ended up taking the lead with 1:03 to play in the frame after a fast break developed off another bad turnover for Norwood. The visitors led 6-5 entering the final 12 minutes of the game.

For the first two minutes of the fourth quarter each team literally just threw the ball away on bad decisions and poor executions on simple passing and catching mistakes.

Norwood finally tied the game at six with 9:19 to play on a goal from Murray. Mansfield then gave Norwood two separate man up opportunities but couldn't convert, which eventually led to the team in green re taking the lead over Norwood at 7-6 with just 4:17 to play.

To their credit, a refusal to go down seemed to be the mantra of the Mustangs all day, as they again tied the game at 7-7 with 2:14 to play on another Alty goal. Each team had plenty of chances to close out the other team in regulation, but as was par for the course on this day, they couldn't convert.

Overtime was over if you blinked. A faceoff win from Civiattone rolled directly into the stick of a streaking Alty, who found a lane as if he was following his blockers from the backfield back in October and November, stepped up and ripped a bounce shot that ripped the twine and sent his teammates streaming onto the field to celebrate.

The first win of the season is clearly big for this senior-stacked team, but Roman knows it needs to be much, much better.

"We' will be getting right back to work." he said. "We obviously need to clean up a lot of the mistakes and keep trying to get better. It was nice to see our seniors deliver us a win when we were not at our best today though. That's encouraging."

The Civil War, the abolitionists, new immigrants, the filling in of the Back Bay, medical advances, the 1872 Great Fire, and the opening of America's first subway station (Park Street) in 1897 propel the city rapidly forward. By 1900 Boston had been transformed into one of America's leading cities. This program is partially funded by a generous grant from the Norwood Cultural Council. The program is in the library's Simoni Room. A copy of the book "A City so Grand" will be available for purchase. Registration is required at 781-769-0200 x100.
