

Override the underlying theme of Budget Committee

Matt MacDonald

The Budget Balancing Committee (BBC) met on Monday, June 4 in its first post-Town Meeting session.

It ran just under an hour and a half and drew an audience of about 10 people ranging from other committee/board members to several Town Meeting members.

Major items on the agenda included a review of a five-year financial projection for the Town, a preliminary discussion regarding the possibility of combining Town/School services, and other possible efficiencies in the Town and School budgets.

A loose timeline was established, in terms of long-term budget goals.

With the emphasis in the months leading up to May's Town Meeting on Norwood's current structural deficit, one that is present even when an economy is operating at its full potential, the BBC – comprised of members from both the Town and Schools – made the decision at that time to focus on the long-term budget, rather than for the next fiscal year (FY20).

In preparation for this, Town Clerk and Accountant Tom McQuaid prepared a draft of a five-year financial forecast for the Town, which he went over with the group.

The five-year projection was based on the FY17, FY18, and FY19 budgets, with the percentage changes between them used to form a basic trend analysis from FY20 through FY24.

Before McQuaid had even begun reviewing his forecast, there was an extensive discussion about it as Committee members sought to reach a consensus regarding what the forecast was and what some wanted it to be.

Particularly, items left out of the current budget – and, therefore, McQuaid's forecast – were addressed.

"We can't project unless we know everything that we want to include in a budget," Committee member Anne-Marie Haley said. "There have been some things in the General Government budget and in the School Department budget that were left out because we needed to balance the budget so, if we're looking at this as a five-year projection, those things need to be included in that five-year projection."

Chairman Alan Slater responded to Haley. At the conclusion of his introduction to the five-year forecast, he'd triggered the discussion with his statement that the projection's assumptions would be what a five-year financial plan would be based on.

"What we're trying to do is agree on, just basic principles of numbers," he explained. "We can add those things later. It's very easy to add those to this document once you have the fundamentals, the basics of the document agreed upon."

Myev Bodenhofer also alluded to her own goals while asking about the Committee's.

Vacations are typically a time for kicking back, relaxing, and not doing much of anything.

Every so often, however, a vacation can prove to be significant and memorable, leaving a lasting and vivid impres-

This past April, eight Norwood High School (NHS) students – all girls – traveled to the Dominican Republic, not so much to go to the beach, but to spend most of

The School Committee gathered on Wednesday evening, June 6 in the Coakley Middle School (CMS) library for its last stop on the 2017-2018 "Traveling School Committee" circuit.

The meeting came in at just over an hour and a half, establishing a new 2017-2018 speed record.

Teresa Stewart was absent

due to a family emergency.

The main item on the evening's agenda was Superintendent Dr. David Thomson's report on the Athletic Program Committee (APC).

This Committee, comprised at full strength of 22 members taken from youth and Norwood High School sports, School administration, the School Committee, community members, and parents, was formed at the beginning of the academic year and is focusing on three areas:

successful programming in other districts, financial considerations, and student engagement.

The APC, which will continue its work over the next several years, was represented at Wednesday's meeting by four members: NHS Athletic Director Jon Longley, NHS football coach Jim Tighe, Youth Soccer President Chris LoPiccolo and NHS field hockey coach

Selectmen hear more alcohol violation cases

Matt MacDonald
Staff Reporter

The Board of Selectmen met on Tuesday evening, June 12, in Town Hall for the first of its bi-weekly summer sessions. It featured five appointments and ran two hours before going into executive session regarding the Town Accountant contract.

Two of the appointments were show cause hearings having to do with the sale of alcoholic beverages to persons under the age of 21.

These represented the latest in a growing list of violators to appear before the Board since this particular compliance operation began at the end of last summer.

The first of these hearings had the Percival Brewing Company (83 Morse St.) – represented by its owner Filipe Oliveira – before the Board.

The craft brewery has been open at the site since last October. It began distributing kegs last month. It also bottles its product and will begin canning operations next month.

The business was cited for serving alcohol to a minor at one of its events and Selectman Allan Howard expressed confusion at so much on site consumption at a brewery.

Oliveira explained that – as a new business without investors and just starting its distribution operation – the on site events “provide us a lifeline. It gives us an opportunity to – essentially – generate additional revenue...until we get to the point where we can begin doing distribution on a regular basis rather than on a retail side.”

Aside from offering the expected responses of training and TIPS (Training for Intervention ProcedureS) certification for on site staff, Oliveira also put forward the business’ change in security methods (the underage visitor had accessed the site through an unmanned entrance), and event closing hours pulled in from 10 p.m. to around 8 p.m.

The second show cause hearing had Paradise Biryani Pointe (1200 Boston-Providence Turnpike) before the Board for the same offense. It has been in business two years and held a liquor license for one year.

In both cases, this was the first offense of this kind and – in both cases – Howard motioned for a written warning to be issued. Both motions were approved unanimously.

Chairman Thomas Maloney – speaking of the ongoing compliance check as “an eye opening experience” and addressing the audience at large as much as the people at the appointment table – closed the hearing with this statement:

“Please be mindful: this initiative is going to continue.”

In New Business, several items led to discussion, with the Town Hall renovation project – currently being coordinated by the Permanent Building Construction Committee (PBCC) – generating the most.

According to Town Manager Tony Mazzucco, the PBCC – in its meeting last week – has been discussing moving forward with a renovation plan estimated at $5 million. Consequently, he directed the Finance Office to stop incurring any further costs on the project, which is in the mechanical, electrical, and plumbing (MEP) study stage.

Town Meeting’s appropriation for the Town Hall renovation project was $900,000.

In his update, Mazzucco expressed some frustration at a $14,000 space needs study that “got about two minutes of discussion” before the PBCC approved it over his objection.

“I still don’t think that money was effectively spent. So we need to take a pause on this project, and we’ve stopped any more funds being expended on the project until the Board can have time to review where we’re going with this and come to a consensus, and talk with the

Allison Doliner.

Although the APC is in its early stages of development, it did submit three general recommendations to the School Committee: to start a CMS athletics program, to build and expand community athletic partnerships, and to develop a culture of pride in Norwood athletics.

Longley spoke of starting a CMS sports program, mentioning that there is a middle school sports league – the Bay Valley League (BVL) – that the APC intends to look into during the next academic year.

This would include surveying student interest in a sports program, as well as the current state of youth sports programs in the Town in order to, according to Longley, "maybe identify areas where there aren't sports offered through the youth sports offerings in Town and look at offering those through a Middle School program."

In considering the possibility of joining the BVL, the APC is considering sports such as volleyball or cross country, neither of which are offered in youth sports programs but which are offered in the BVL.

Tighe followed, noting some of the benefits to participating CMS students, using cross country as an example.

"There are so many kids walking around the building that don't have an opportunity to participate in that," Tighe said.

Doliner spoke next regarding community and school athletic partnerships.

She emphasized continuing to encourage building a strong relationship between youth sports – particularly those with less of a following – and the community. Similarly, she also spoke of building relationships between youth sports coaches and their counterpart NHS coaches.

Doliner also emphasized NHS sports clinics offered through youth sports or the Civic Center, or the NHS teams somehow getting youth athletes involved with what they're doing. # Of parking spots and weed

On Monday, June 18 and Tuesday, June 19, two noteworthy applications will go before the Planning Board and the Zoning Board of Appeals, respectively.

The first, a major project special permit application for the open lot storage of cars, concerns the Morse Street property behind the school bus yard and across the Neponset River on the same side of the street. It is under agreement with Boch Automotive.

The undeveloped portion of the property, which is bordered by the bus yard, the Neponset, the dead ends of the "Saint" streets, and the Balch ball field, was the cause of a recently resolved issue brought about by a citizens' petition to change the land's zoning – against the owner's will.

The petition, debated in a long Planning Board Town Meeting Article hearing, was ultimately not recommended by the Board and at last month's Special Town Meeting was defeated: the result of which became moot when Attorney David Hern, representing Boch Automotive, filed an Approval Not Required (ANR) plan for the property on April 24, taking advantage of a state law freezing the zoning for three years from that date.

Subsequently, the special permit application was filed on May 4.

Advised by Town Counsel that it would lose an appeal if it voted against the ANR, and with an unsigned ANR eligible for endorsement by the Town Clerk after 21 days, the Planning Board signed off on it at its May 7 meeting.

As part of the filed special permit application, a proposed site plan was also submitted showing parking spots for 863 vehicles in three different sections: the undeveloped area, the site of the current bus yard, and across the Neponset River behind the warehouse.

A bridge crossing Hawes Brook from the bus yard is also proposed.

As described by Town Planner Paul Halkiotis, the proposed bridge will be for individual cars to cross, while car carriers will unload in the area behind the warehouse.

Because of the low clearance of the Morse Street Bridge, car carriers will have to approach the site via Washington and Short streets.

Halkiotis has asked the applicant to provide documentation demonstrating that car carriers can negotiate turns at key intersections, such as Washington and Short.

Additionally, he was advised by Hern that the applicant "will commit to not utilizing any of the residential streets to access that site for vehicle storage."

PBCC and decide where we're going with this moving forward."

Mazzucco tentatively estimated the amount already spent on the Town Hall renovation – in engineering and studies – at over $100,000.

"I could be wrong on that," Mazzucco qualified. "We spent $14,000 on a space needs study, out of all that money."

"We already had a study," Maloney replied. "We had a plan."

"They insisted on doing it," William Plasko – who had attended, along with Mazzucco, the PBCC meeting at which the space study was approved – added.

The Board backed Mazzucco and the Town Hall renovation will remain on hold until the Selectmen discuss the matter further amongst themselves and with the PBCC.

In other inter-board business, Zoning Board of Appeal Chair Patrick Mulvehill submitted a letter requesting an amendment to the by-law regarding "area variance of substantial proportion," having to do with a recent zoning case that was similar to an older case, where a similar letter had been sent out. This led to Plasko's comments on it.

"I'm not sure if this is requesting us to simply once again push that same issue – that same particular by-law change – or revisit that issue, which may take a different form."

He suggested that the Selectmen and the Planning Board could meet to discuss the matter, with the Zoning Board included, as well, with an August date suggested for this meeting.

Mazzucco also requested a second quarter reserve fund transfer of $30,000 for the upkeep and maintenance of the Forbes Mansion. It was approved unanimously and will cover costs on the house through the end of the fiscal year.

In Unfinished Business, Plasko recommended Assistant Town Clerk MaryLou Folan for appointment as Town Clerk, effective July 1.

He also recommended that – given her qualifications and length of service (29 years) – her pay grade be at the highest step, requiring Finance Commission approval of a reserve fund transfer to cover the $8,000 amount that the budget would increase by.

In two last items of note, Police Chief William Brooks – in his monthly appointment – introduced the newest member of the NPD, Adam Osowski, on the job for two days.

The Chief also announced the retirement – effective at the end of June – of Detective Paul Giacoppo – later present at the two show cause hearings – after 29 years on the job.

“We talked at Town Meeting about how we’d like to at least be able to provide some sort of update about what we have done in terms of long term projections, and in terms of possibly considering an override and what we might ask for,” Bodenhofer said. “I’m wondering what our goals are as this group in terms of what we hope to get done by November Town Meeting.”

Responding to Bodenhofer, Town Manager Tony Mazucco approached the five-year projection as a budget balancing exercise to determine just what would need to be cut in order to even the books, with an emphasis on where the Town is financially, and where it’s going.

“And then, if people do want to look at an override, you then say, ‘Okay. What would that look like to get us here, to here and to here?’”

Mazucco’s mention of the possibility of an override was mentioned several times during the meeting but was present throughout, informing everything that was discussed. It also played a role in scheduling, with next year’s April election a possible target date for the question.

Slater made clear that the forecast was only a start, with his goal to have a good idea of the Town’s financial needs and their distribution between Town and Schools by the end of the year.

His end of the year timeline was revisited later in the meeting by Maura Smith, who advocated for BBC consensus by the November Town Meeting.

Both Slater and Mazucco came down against having a specific deadline, with Mazucco offering that notifications and public meetings could be scheduled for whatever time the BBC wanted to offer its findings to the Town. Slater also raised the possibility of another outcome.

“It could possibly be by the end of the year we may not have a consensus on a way to go,” he said. “I think I’d like to use it as a time frame and let the chips fall as they may.”

In other agenda business, the possibility of combining Town and School services was preliminarily discussed, with pros and cons brought up by Committee members.

School Department Superintendent David Thomson commented at length about his concerns regarding “promises of savings” in combined services and the caution necessary in doing so.

“We need to be very, very smart because Schools and Town Government and their needs – especially around IT – it’s Greek and Latin,” he said. “They are not the same. They do not serve the same purpose.”

He went on to note the 5,000 computer users in the School Department, and its additional federal and state rules and laws regarding computer access, guidance, and data.

“So it is not the same conversation,” Thomson continued. “We need to slow down, understand what the needs are, look at it very succinctly, and march through and do it wisely and smartly.”

Town Meeting member Kelly Newmie, raising her hand after Thomson’s remarks and allowed to speak from the audience, put forward the idea of increased automation as a significant method of savings, while making sure to state that she was in favor of positions being eliminated with retirements rather than layoffs.

“That’s where the real savings is, because not only do you save the money now, you don’t pay insurance for a software program,” she said. “You don’t pay retirement for a software program.”

Newmie continued by bringing up her own experience and how it could be improved.

“The fact that I call the Town Hall and I talk to three different people before I get to where I’m going... That could be automated by a simple piece of software that costs $30,000 a year.”

By the conclusion of the meeting, consensus was reached on at least one matter: the Budget Balancing Committee will be meeting every three weeks until further notice.

The next meeting will be on June 25 at 5:30 p.m. in Rm. 24 of Town Hall.

Although the Town does have traffic rules and regulations, with protections for specific streets close to commercial traffic, none of the finger streets leading to the site are included on that list. Town Counsel, however, is looking at case law regarding this.

The proposed open lot storage area is partially framed by the Neponset River and Hawes Brook. As a result, on the site plan the parking spaces in the undeveloped section are pushed considerably back from the banks of the two waterways.

However, in order to stay out of that riparian zone, those proposed parking spaces are close enough to the ends of the “Saint” streets to encroach into the 50 foot vegetated buffer zone that is required by Section 6.3 of the Zoning Bylaw.

As a result, the applicant has applied for a special permit that would instead provide a 25-foot buffer strip that would include a fence, a 3-foot landscaped berm, and evergreen trees.

The hearing is at 7 p.m. on Monday, June 18 in the Police/Fire Station Community Room.

The Zoning Board of Appeal (ZBA) meets the next evening when it will hear another noteworthy application that has taken a little longer to develop.

Middlesex Integrative Medicine, Inc. (MIM) has filed a special permit application to obtain a license to operate a registered marijuana dispensary (RMD) that it has proposed for the property located at 76 Astor Ave.

This is the latest development in MIM’s efforts to open a dispensary in the Town, with the Board of Selectmen granting it a letter of non-opposition in 2013 and then another in June of 2016 when the company re-applied with the state for a dispensary.

It also approved a Community Host Agreement with the company that same month.

In September of 2016, Leominster granted MIM a letter of non-opposition regarding a cultivation center.

This was followed, in December 2016, by the state issuing a provisional certification for MIM to open both a dispensary and a cultivation center.

Astor Avenue is located within the Medical Marijuana Overlay District (MMOD) for the Vanderbilt Avenue area, and the proposed dispensary would be for medical cannabis only, with MIM’s representatives having repeatedly stated that it has no plans to go retail.

If the outcome of MIM’s ZBA hearing is successful, and its meetings with the Board of Selectmen (scheduled to begin on July 10) go well, the path would be cleared for its dispensary and cultivation center – now in the detailed planning stage – to be built.

The ZBA hearing is scheduled for Tuesday evening, June 19, at 7:15 p.m., also in the Police/Fire Station Community Room at 137 Nahatan St.

Purchased Power Adjustment

There shall be added or credited to each monthly bill an amount equal to the total kWh billed during the month multiplied by the Purchased Power Adjustment determined as follows:

A) The total Purchased Power Cost including transmission expense estimated to be charged to Accounts 555 and 565 for the period of usage MINUS:

B) The total revenue estimated to be recovered through application of the Purchased Power Charge from all customers for the period. ALL DIVIDED BY:

C) The estimated kWh to be sold during the period.

Normally the Purchased Power Adjustment will be calculated for billing for a six-month period beginning January 1st and July 1st of each year using the best information available to the Department at the time regarding the cost of purchased power and the amount of kWh to be sold during the six-month period. An adjustment shall be made each time that the Purchased Power Charge is calculated to reflect differences between estimated and actual kWh sold as well as to reflect differences between estimated and actual purchased power costs for the most recent six-month period for which actual data is available. This adjustment will be utilized in the following six-month Purchased Power Charge calculation to recover/credit any under collection/over collection of purchased power charges resulting from the previous months’ billings.

The Department reserves the right to adjust the Purchased Power Charge more frequently if purchased power costs or kWh sales deviate significantly from the estimates used to set the Purchased Power Charge.

their time working at the Mariposa Center for Girls, which houses a before and after school program providing fun learning activities for school-age girls designed at its core to educate and empower them as they grow to adulthood.

This was the idea of NHS Spanish teacher Jessica Kaplan who, when looking into coordinating a trip, had been presented with this service option, which “seemed like it would be really awesome to explore.”

Inspired by NHS’s Global Citizenship, a club and certificate program encouraging global awareness and involvement, Kaplan asked, “What more could we be doing?”

Answering her own question, she arranged the Dominican trip and made it available to interested or curious students. Some heard about it through Global Citizenship, others through their Spanish teachers, and still others by word going around.

For many in the eight person group, the decision to sign up was more or less immediate.

In the year leading up to the eight day journey they met regularly to prepare. Yet no matter how much one may prepare for anything, it goes only so far.

“It didn’t really hit me, what I was doing, until the night before the trip, when I was packing at 10 o’clock at night,” Jasmine James said. “You can’t really prepare for something like that. None of us really knew what we were getting ourselves into.”

“And what we expected was totally different,” Gretchen Sandstrom added.

“Yeah,” James agreed. “Everything was so different.”

The group of 29, comprised of the NHS students, students from Norton High School, and Springfield’s Chestnut Accelerated: Talented & Gifted (TAG) Middle School, arrived at the compound to be met by a big circle of Mariposa girls.

“I was scared that I was going to be really uncomfortable the first day: that none of the girls would want to come and hang out with me and that I’d have to go to them first,” Lauren Gregorio recounted. “But as soon as I got off the bus, I was comfortable, and I was like, ‘Okay. This is how it’s going to be all week.’ I wasn’t nervous. I wasn’t uncomfortable. They welcomed us right away and we were, like, best friends after that.”

Girls in the program participate in diverse learning activities such as swimming, art, math, and sewing that are also designed to be active and fun, and their American guests participated, helping out where they could, learning, and having fun, too.

“There was never any pressure to make a good headband or anything,” Dagny Overbey said. “Like, I don’t think any of us stressed out if we didn’t know how to sew.”

This lack of stress carried over to the more manual aspect of their service.

The Mariposa Compound was in need of extensive repairs, including a protective wall and a ditch... and apparently some members of the group hadn’t gotten the memo.

“They pointed to a big stack of, like, cinderblocks and were like, so we need to move these back there,” Gregorio said. “I did not know we were actually going to be doing manual labor, but once we started doing it and we were all working together, it wasn’t even a burden.”

As for the ditch digging – which along with the wall building, went on during the hot afternoons between before-school and after-school groups – that was embraced, too.

Informed of the things could be worse adage, “You could be digging a ditch,” and that they had been in that proverbial ditch made real, the responses were quick and surprising.

This manual work, combined with the group’s involvement with the Mariposa girls and its daily exploration of their surroundings (and a few beaches), led Marissa Burke to share something the group’s guide Claudio had told them while they were there.

“He said, ‘A tourist is someone who sees what goes on in a culture and doesn’t try to understand, and a traveler is someone who questions what he sees and wonders why it happens.’ And it just, like, I don’t know... It made things a lot clearer, I feel.”

Kaplan is coordinating a second NHS Mariposa Foundation trip for next spring.

Softball slays Blue Knights, but can't overcome Panthers in Division 2 South softball tournament

Jake Levin
Staff Reporter

Tournament season is over at Norwood High after its last team standing, Carol Savino's softball squad, fell to Plymouth South, 3-2, in the second round on Saturday.

The 15th-seeded Mustangs (13-7) demolished visiting Sandwich (10-9) in their Division 2 South tournament opener last Thursday afternoon at Cleveland Elementary School, defeating the 18th-seeded Blue Knights in a 9-0 final via 11 hits, nine stolen bases and yet another dominant showing from pitcher Amanda Olbrys on the hill.

Olbrys, a junior, gave up just one hit over seven innings of work while striking out six and walking two for Norwood as the program continued its streak of winning at least one postseason game for the sixth consecutive spring.

Bryn Garczynski gave the Mustangs all the scoring they'd need after she drew a leadoff walk to begin the bottom of the first, stole second and came around to score on a series of errors committed by Sandwich. Olbrys helped her own cause with a double down the third base line and scored on an opposite-field single off the bat of Janelle Kelleher to make it 2-0 Norwood after 1.

The Mustangs grabbed two more runs in the third, single runs in the fourth and fifth and three runs in the sixth to send Sandwich back over the Cape Cod Canal on a sour note.

Knowing what was ahead in Plymouth South on Saturday and their star pitcher in Amelia Freitas – who pitches in Savino's summer softball program – the Norwood coach took her team to the batting cages on Friday with an emphasis on simply get-

Legion baseball opens up with two straight wins over Westwood, Norfolk

Jake Levin
Staff Reporter

Each summer, one of the unique aspects of the Norwood Post 70 American Legion Baseball team is seeing which Norwood High stars of yesterday return to the squad as 19-year-olds, a full year removed from their graduation.

The summer of 2018 is no different, with a group featuring Michael James, Cam Flahive, Chris Petracca and Charlie Gover reprising their baseball roles from their Mustangs days one last time.

The one constant in the dugout for Post 70 for a decade and a half now has been manager Paul Samargedlis, whose passion for the game remains as strong as ever. With Norwood off to a 2-0 start on the season, don't expect the enthusiasm to taper off any time soon.

"It's year 15 for me and I still get fired up and enjoy it," Samargedlis said. "The kids are all good kids and we expect to make the playoffs."

After a rare down season for the Mustangs on the high school field – the team finished 8-12 this spring, missing the postseason for the first time since 2010 – Samargedlis believes that some of the other teams in the ever-competitive District 6 West Division might overlook Norwood this summer.

Walpole Post 104, Franklin Post 75 and Foxboro 93 will all have teams made up of players competing in the MIAA Division 1A (Super Eight) tournament this spring – Walpole and Franklin High each made the tournament, while Foxboro is stocked with players from Mansfield High, another Super Eight team. Throw in the fact that Needham Post 14 is stocked with kids who played for ISL-champion St. Sebastian's this spring, and the division is just as loaded as ever.

"Not that I ever look at Norwood as an underdog, but I'm sure some of these teams are thinking of muscling us out of where we usually are, but we're not gonna let that happen," Samargedlis said.

Norwood got by Westwood Post 320, 10-7, in its season opener last Thursday. It then went out and annihilated Norfolk Post 335 on Friday in a 17-1 final.

"We think we should win that game, but 17-1 was nice," Samargedlis said.

Unfortunately, the numbers weren't high enough for Norwood to sponsor a Junior Legion team this summer; however, several 15-year-olds will be playing up with Samargedlis as a result, in addition to on their 15-year-old Babe Ruth team that's widely expected to go on a deep run within its district.

"I don't really mind having the luxury of getting a kid when he's 15 and being able to mold him," Samargedlis said. "We did this one other time, put the program on hiatus for a year, but the numbers will kick back up next year."

Dan Harrington, manager of the Post 70 Junior team, will be joining the staff of Samargedlis for 2018.

Norwood's schedule will be in a state of flux until Walpole, Franklin and Mansfield are eliminated from the Super Eight, but Post 70 will have played 18 regular season games by the time all is said and done.

Norwood is scheduled to host Walpole on Sunday night at Balch Elementary School at 7:30 p.m., but again, that will depend on the status of the Rebels in the Super Eight. Samargedlis said it's possible his team will face Medfield Post 110 instead.

He's back! Michael James, after completing his freshman year at Quinnipiac University, is taking advantage of his final season of eligibility with the Norwood Post 70 baseball team as a 19-year-old.

Spring 2018 Bay State Conference All-Stars announced, with softball leading the way

Jake Levin
Staff Reporter

One last time, the Bay State Conference All-Stars are in for the spring season at Norwood High.

The list is headlined by the softball team, which was the lone team to qualify for its respective sectional tournament this spring.

Senior first baseman Janelle Kelleher and junior catcher Bryn Garczynski earned BSC All-Stars while junior pitcher Amanda Olbrys earned an honorable mention.

Kelleher hit .510 (26 for 51) with 11 RBIs in the regular season, all while playing Gold Glove-caliber defense at first with a .991 fielding percentage – she made just one error in 113 opportunities. Kelleher will be applying that same defensive prowess next year the University of Rhode Island, where she'll be a member of the women's ACHA hockey team.

Garczynski, the left-handed catcher who hits leadoff, hit .543 (31 for 57) with a homer and six RBIs. Fully capable of playing any position in the diamond – particularly center field, according to head coach Carol Savino – Garczynski will help the Mustangs transition into Tri-Valley League play next spring, along with Olbrys.

Olbrys hurled 98 innings for Norwood in the regular season, striking out 96 batters to the tune of a 2.93 earned run average. A true dual threat, Olbrys led the team in batting average at .590 (26 for 44) with a homer and four RBIs.

In boys' volleyball, senior Jake Fleming capped off his legendary career with the Mustangs by earning a Bay State Conference All-Star nod – for the third year in a row – to go along with even more hardware for an already-crowded trophy shelf.

Fleming was named to the Mass. Boys' High School Volleyball South District All-Star team, where he earned the spot at Outside Hitter 1.

Senior Billy Mosca was an honorable mention.

Fleming had 600 kills and 40 aces this season, good enough for a kill percentage of 56.5 and a hitting percentage of 50. He had 40 kills in a single match against Brookline this spring, setting a new school record in the process. He's bound for

Bye bye, Bay State

Jake Levin
Staff Reporter

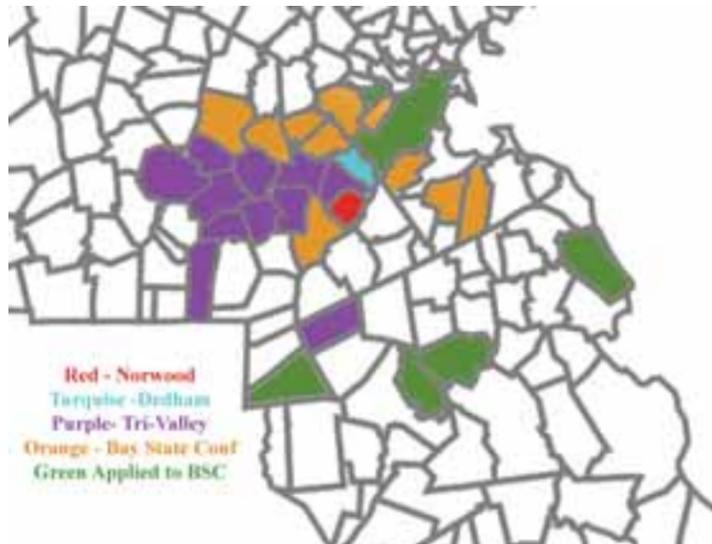

With the Norwood High softball team's elimination from the Division 2 South tournament, the book is officially closed on the school's tenure in the Bay State Conference.

Beginning with the 2018-19 school year in a few months, the Mustangs will compete in the Tri-Valley League in almost all sports – with only a few exceptions based on the TVL not fully sponsoring a given sport. No need to fret, every sport currently offered at Norwood High will continue to be offered with the TVL move.

Just no longer in the BSC, a league which Norwood had called home since 1958.

The Mustangs will compete in the TVL Large Division as opposed to the TVL Small Division, neither grouping yet to be renamed a la "Carey" and "Herget" or "Kelley-Rex and "Davenport" to signify the six largest and six smallest schools in terms of enrollment in the BSC and Hockomock League, respectively.

Norwood's TVL Large foes include Hopkinton, Westwood, Medfield, Holliston and Ashland. The TVL Small comprises Medway, Bellingham,

A map of the Tri-Valley League and Bay State Conference member schools circa 2016, as well as towns with schools that had applied to the Bay State Conference. It is expected that the BSC will remain at 10 schools once Norwood leaves.

Dedham, Norton, Dover-Sherborn and Millis.

Based on the 2017-18 enrollment numbers, the gap between Ashland – the smallest school in the Large – and the next four schools on the list – Medway, Bellingham, Dedham and Norton – is only 31 students. There could be some flux in enrollment there and as such, the divisional alignments will be revisited after the 2019-20 school year and again every two years.

The Mustangs got a jump start on several of their new rivalries throughout the 2017-18 school year, most notably with Norton appearing on the schedule for many of Norwood's athletic teams. Westwood, Ashland and Bellingham made their way onto various schedules as well – ditto for Dedham, which needs no re-introduction after spending 58 years in the Bay State Conference itself. The Mustangs also got a look at an early look at Medfield in the boys' hockey tournament.

During the 2017-18 school year, Norwood's record against TVL schools was 20-20-1. Girls' lacrosse had the most success, winning all five of its matchups against TVL schools (Bellingham and Norton twice, Dedham once).

Boys' volleyball, girls' volleyball, girls' basketball, boys' cross-country, softball and boys' soccer combined to go 7-0 against TVL opponents, though all teams played two games or fewer against TVL schools.

Football (0-4), boys' basketball (0-3) and girls' tennis (0-2) were the Norwood programs to go winless vs. the TVL with multiple games/matches to go off of.

It's too soon to say exactly which schools from the BSC will remain on various schedules for Norwood, but expect Walpole to stick around on just about all of them. Football, for example, will open its season against the Rebels on Saturday, Sept. 8. Boys' hockey will keep on both Walpole (1,132) and Milton (1,028), schools that from an enrollment standpoint are closest still to Norwood.

Despite the gargantuan difference in enrollment between Norwood and schools like Brookline (2,080 students) and Weymouth (1,900), the Mustangs combined to go 3-1 against the schools in boys' volleyball this spring. Girls' basketball swept much-larger Framingham (2,177 – largest in the Bay State Conference) over the winter, while the boys' basketball team earned its lone win of the season over the Flyers.

It's entirely possible the Mustangs will continue to get acquainted with some of the smaller Hockomock schools in nonleague play – schools that also make geographic sense to play – such as Stoughton (1,099), Sharon (1,079), Canton (982) and Foxboro (806).

– she’s up to over 200 total for the spring – only set down three Mustangs by way of the K on Saturday. Norwood even held a 2-1 lead after the top of the fifth inning, Kelleher legging out an infield single to plate Garczynski from third with two outs.

Plymouth South went ahead for good in the last of the fifth, however, and no Mustang batter could get beyond first base for the remainder of the game as the 2018 season came to a close. Olbrys was sharp again on the hill for Norwood, giving up the three runs while scattering six hits and striking out three. “We did what we should have,” Savino said. “I told the kids I was very proud of what they did. They played great. What I didn’t want was to come off of that field the score being a 12-0 slaughter.”

meter dash with a time of 23.13 seconds. Beaudet is renowned for her distance running, frequently competing in both the one and two-mile events for Norwood – in addition to cross-country races in the fall. Noonan, a senior, displayed versatility for the Mustangs, competing in events such as the 100-meter dash and the long jump.

In boys’ tennis, the prolific first doubles team featuring Sai Nedunchezian and Finn Kelley picked up honorable mentions. The duo went 9-7 this season for Norwood at first doubles, the only one of its five varsity positions (first, second and third singles and first and second doubles) to finish with a winning record. They helped increase the win total for the Mustangs at doubles from two matches in 2017 to a 16 this spring.

Both players are back in the fold next year, as each student is currently a junior.

While the baseball team missed the postseason for the first time in nearly a decade, the future is bright thanks in part to players such as freshman Robbie Wladkowski – Norwood’s lone honorable mention on the big diamond. Wladkowski, who’ll be a fixture in the middle of the infield for the Mustangs for years to come, hit .386 (27 for 70) with 18 RBIs, nine doubles and a triple. He reached base at a .434 clip.

In lacrosse, sophomore attack Erinn Wagner made BSC honorable mention in girls’ lax, while junior middie Mark Dunn made honorable mention on the boys’ side.

INDIA TUNES, MELODIES OF RABINDRANATH TAGORE BY MAITREYEE

Join us for an evening concert on the first day of summer, Thursday, June 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the Morrill Memorial Library's second floor Simoni Room. Vocalist Maitreyee Chakraborty will present the compositions of Rabindranath Tagore accompanied by live music and a PowerPoint presentation with translations of his lyrics in English. Monami Roy will accompany her on harmonium and keyboard, and Dhruva Acharyya will play the tabla, khol, and pakhawaj.

Rabindranath Tagore (1861-1941), the first Asian Nobel Laureate and considered a polymath in India, is revered by Bengalis in India and Bangladesh. His songs of universalism, humanism and non-violence bridge differences of culture, people, and race and connect the human soul to the spirit of the universe. A prolific artist, his 3,000 song compositions are deeply insightful, melodious, lilting and rhythmic. He also composed the national anthems of two countries - India and Bangladesh.

Maitreyee Chakraborty, who recently moved from Los Angeles, is trained in Indian classical music since her childhood and is an established singer in the tradition of Rabindrasangeet, the music of the famous poet and Nobel Laureate, Rabindranath Tagore and other contemporary Bengali composers. She has three music degrees from Indian universities. For the last 20 years she has been invited to perform by various organizations all over United States and India – UCLA, UC Irvine, Claremont Colleges, Wellesley College, Monmouth University, Vedanta Society, Hope in Life Foundation, North America Bengali Conference, to name a few. She has also performed on radio and TV channels and has two solo albums to her name. She has received several grants by the MA Cultural Council and has many students in Massachusetts and California.

Registration is required. To sign up for this concert, please call the library at 781-769-0200 x110, email norprograms@minlib.net, or visit the Reference or Information Desk.

Following his honorable discharge, Jim became employed at Kendall Mills in Walpole as a textile worker until his retirement. During that time, he was an active participant and president of the local union. Family and faith were Jim's top priorities, he was a constant source of love and support. At any point "Uncle Jim" was ready to lend a hand. His work ethic was an example for all. He will be deeply missed. Jim's extensive garden and flower beds were a source of great pride. His green thumb was the envy of all. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Catherine of Siena Church, 547 Washington St., Norwood. Sunday dinners with Jean and Lou were a family tradition for many, many years. ### 2018 Dodge Challenger GT

The best of, as I call, the "pony cars," is the Challenger, which is available in all-wheel drive with a V6 engine. Our test car this week is the rear-drive 3.6 liter V/6 with an 8-speed automatic transmission. Dodge has made some minor updates and design changes over the last couple of years on these cars. The Challenger is the larger car - between the Mustang and Camaro - with no convertible model yet available.

There is plenty of front seat room and a large dash layout. Everything about the dash and electronic controls are easy to reach and operate. The large center display screen has also been updated with more apps. The style hasn't changed much since it was introduced, which in my opinion, is a good thing. The base price for the rear drive V/6 starts at $33,495 (destination fee: $1,095). This is a nicely equipped vehicle that has a full list of standard equipment, including an 8.4-inch touchscreen display, a 276-watt audio system, heated leather steering wheel and leather front seats, paddle shifters, audio controls behind the steering wheel, 19-inch all-season tires, plus a lot more. As for popular options, the Technology Group costs $1,195; GT Interior Package with performance leather wheel, nine speakers with subwoofer, 506-watts of power, and Nappa/Alcantara performance seats: $995. Painted wheels: $395; compact spare tire: $295. Total price with all options: $38,265. EPA: 18 city, 27 highway, combined 21 MPG. The car has a good, solid ride - no rattles or noises over bumps. Dodge has build a great semi-retro style sportscar, and I hope they continue. (I am waiting for the convertible model to come out within two years that no one is talking about.)
