Senior floor to go out to bid

FinCom argues bidding not necessary

General Manager John Carroll is looking at options for the malfunctioning Senior Center floor. At the Aug. 11 Board of Selectmen meeting, the board unanimously voted to put Carroll in charge of overseeing a discussion of whether replacing or repairing the floor would be a better option.

Carroll held a meeting with members of numerous committees, including Ted Callahan, chairman of Permanent Building Construction Committee (PBCC), Council on Aging Chairman Anthony "Tony" Mastandrea and Dorothy Vitale, executive director of the Senior Center, on Wednesday, Aug. 26 to address the status of the floor. Also at the meeting was Architect Scott Dunlap of Architecture Involution LLC (Ai3), the architectural firm at the Norwood High School con-

Reunions are a go

Members of the Norwood Sr. High School Class of 1954 and 1957 met jointly at the home of Jerry '54 and Carolyn McNeil, '57, to plan their individual alumni events. Members of both classes met collegially over a very nicely planned continental breakfast and after their meetings for a more hearty lunch. The Class of 1954 is having their 55th class reunion on Saturday, Sept. 12, and the avant-garde Class of 1957 is having a 70th birthday party for all the class members on Sept. 26, 12p.m. to 4 p.m., at LaScala Restaurant in Randolph.

Madanick walks for cancer

Facing a diagnosis of cancer is a Herculean challenge. Trying to make a difference in the lives of those with cancer is also a big challenge. On Sunday, Sept. 13, Nancy Madanick of Norwood will join more than 7,700 people taking on this challenge by walking in the 21st annual Boston Marathon(r) Jimmy Fund Walk. The Jimmy Fund supports the world-renowned Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Dana-Farber treats adult and child oncology patients, and is the home base for some of the most innovative cancer researchers in the field today.

Madanick is walking in honor of her 16 year old daughter Jana, who is a brain tumor survivor. She was diagnosed in 2000 at age 7, and has undergone four surgeries and chemotherapy in the years following diagnosis. Juvenile Pilocytic Astrocytoma, the type of tumor that Jana has, is the most common form of childhood brain tumor and the number one cause of solid tumor death in children yet research for a cure and better treatment for this type of tumor has lagged behind other research. Madanick is walking with the team KIRA'S KRUISERS and all the funds raised will go directly to research for JPA. # Knights to provide temporary student parking

Brad Cole
Staff Reporter

Due to ongoing construction at the Norwood High School, students who drive to school will be unable to park there. However, the Knights of Columbus located at 572 Nichols St. have stepped forward, and have offered 60 of their approximately 120 parking spaces for high school student use.

"Most of the seniors will want those spaces," School Committee member Dick Kief said before the committee's Aug. 26 meeting, adding that parking at the Knights of Columbus lot is open exclusively to seniors.

The School Committee expects demand for the spaces will be high, because in the past over 80 students have driven to school. This number has increased for the 2009-2010 school year- about 100 parking passes were given to seniors this year, though Norwood High School principal George Usevich and Superintendent of Schools John Moretti do not anticipate any problems.

"I'm pretty confident we can do this with the sixty spots," Usevich said.

Students need to contact Usevich if they wish to have access to these spots. As of Aug. 31, 18 students have contacted him and requested to use the satellite lot. Students who opt to park at the Knights of Columbus lot will receive a tag on the first or second day of school. This tag indicates that they have permission to use the lot. Safety Officer Richard Giacoppo will make trips periodically to make sure only students with these tags are using the lot.

"If we find out kids are parking there who shouldn't be, they will face disciplinary action," Usevich said.

Students will not be stranded at the Knights of Columbus parking lot. The parking lot is approximately one mile from the high school, which is located at 245 Nichols Street. A shuttle service will be offered, transporting students between the two sites. The shuttle will run three times during the morning. The schedule mentioned at the School Committee meeting would pick up students at 7:00, 7:15 and 7:30 a.m. The shuttle will return to the lot three times in afternoon, dropping students off after school. However, these times have not been finalized.

"This is still a work in progress," Usevich said. "It's new for us. We're going to play with the times," adding they hope to have a set schedule by the second week of school.

The Knights of Columbus are not charging for use of the lot. However, in an email response to John Marsoobian that asked about cost, the Board of Selectmen wrote "we might be absorbing the plowing of the lot, which we would be doing anyway with our past parking situation."

Moretti assured the Permanent Building Construction Committee that they would not have to worry about receiving a bill to pay for this shuttle.

According to School Committee chairman Paul Samargedlis, "the plan is to use our existing van fleet to facilitate this."

The shuttle services will be funded by TEC Collab, the state's economic development agency for renewable energy and e-health. The TEC Collab owes $175,000 in back rent, and will pay this over a three year period, meaning the approximately $58,333 received each year will fund the shuttle program. The $175,000 has been earmarked for this use.

St. Timothy's Church and the Elks Club were also considered as potential parking lots for students. However, the Knights of Columbus lot was deemed the best, partly due to its close proximity to the school.

The parking lots at the high school will be used only by faculty and staff. A limited amount of parking is available in the south lot, and these spots can be used by custodial staff and lunch workers. Faculty members have been relocated to the north parking lot, which is where seniors are traditionally allowed to park.

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin

(Never known to fail!)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you.

Grateful thanks. —R.C.H.

Norwood Day set

Brad Cole
Staff Reporter

Those attending the seventh annual Norwood Day on Saturday, Sept. 19, can stop by the Entertainment Stage all day to see a wide variety of acts and performances. The shows range from guitar performances to bizarre talents. Nine acts will take the stage between 10:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

"We're ready to rock," said Paula Pelaggi, who organized the performers for the Entertainment Stage.

Before the acts on the Entertainment Stage begin, there will be two events held at the Gazebo. The Norwood High Homecoming with the crowning of the King, Queen and Court will be held at 10 a.m. The Anne T. Lydon Award will be presented following this, at 10:20 a.m. Once these presentations have finished, the events at the Entertainment stage will begin.

Several of these performers are Norwood residents. Paul Chamberlain, Norwood High School Class of 1981, will serve as the DJ and Master of Ceremonies at the Entertainment Stage. He will introduce the acts and will spin tunes during the breaks between performances.

Chamberlain has been a DJ at Norwood Day since its inception. It started entirely by accident- he was a member of the Norwood Day Committee and just happened to have DJ equipment, and was drafted to perform during the first year. He has been a staple of the event ever since.

Music will have a major role at the event. The Norwood High School Madrigals Choir, the Smith-Houlihan Irish Dance Academy, the Norwood Recreation School of Dance and the Do-Si-Doers square dance club will participate with performances during the day. Also appearing is Norwood's own Peter Gugliotta, who will be playing guitar with the Civic Guitar Band.

"It's amazing," Pelaggi said. "[Gugliotta] has a great following. I'm very excited- it should be great."

Letters to the Editor

CASEY 5K THANK YOU!

To The Editor:

On behalf of Casey, and all the Marshes, we express our sincerest gratitude for your organization, participation and support of the 2009 Casey 5K. We were once again humbled and overwhelmed by the kindness and goodness of so many.

Your sacrifices and efforts last year enabled us to purchase a converted Dodge Caravan, which provides our family the ability to transport Casey to appointments and outings. Additionally, donations were made to the Circle of Hope and the St. Vincent DePaul Society, both of which assist members of the local community in need.

Proceeds from this year's 5K will be put towards a generator for our home which will keep Casey cozy and warm and provided for in the event of a prolonged power outage. Also, donations will once again be made to local agencies assisting other members of our communities. As you can see, your generous support of Casey's 5K not only makes it possible for us to take good care of Casey at home, but helps so many others as well.

God bless you,
Bob and Betty Marsh

struction site. He was there at the request of Carroll to advise the group.

It was decided the floor will be replaced, Vitale said.

"There is no way to salvage the floor," Vitale said. "They came up and checked the floor. It's pretty obvious that it has to be replaced."

The status of the floor was further discussed at the PBCC meeting held on Thursday, Aug. 27, where Callahan updated the committee members on current plans.

"There is a great effort to solve the problem by removing the whole floor," Callahan said. "This is not exactly what I wanted to do." He later added, "according to some people, a floating floor of that magnitude cannot work."

The floating floor has malfunctioned multiple times during the summers of 2008 and 2009. High humidity levels cause the floor to buckle and bubble, creating a tripping hazard. The floor was built to withstand between 34 percent and 54 percent humidity, and the humidity levels in Norwood have exceeded this range greatly during the past two summers, sometimes reaching over 70 percent humidity. While it has problems during the summer, the floating floor has functioned properly during the winter, Callahan said.

Part of the discussion at the PBCC meeting dealt with the material of the new floor. While the exact material for the new floor has not been decided upon, it will not be a hardwood floor.

"We're not going to be installing a hardwood floor," Callahan said.

The Friends of the Council on Aging, who donated $250,000 for the addition, requested a hardwood floor. They also requested dimmer switches and ceiling fans. None of these three requests were honored.

According to Carroll, the new floor "would be some kind of a vinyl floor." The type of vinyl floor used has not been determined, though Callahan suggested a solid vinyl floor as an option.

Callahan expects that the estimate for replacing the floor will cause the town to go out to bid. No bid date has been set yet. The idea that a bid might be required did not please some town officials.

"I am very disappointed this will be put out to bid," Finance Committee (FinCom) chairman Allan Howard said, adding that he expects the bid will be under $40,000.

"This is an emergency, and we're going out to bid for under $40,000," Howard said, arguing that this is not a good practice.

He expects that due to the bid process, which can take about two months, the replacement of the floor will not start until late October at the earliest. He added that going out to bid for this project is inappropriate, especially after Norwood agreed to a $10 million contract for trash collection without going out to bid.

In early August, members of the FinCom came to a unanimous agreement that the floor should be replaced. They agreed to a reserve fund transfer to pay for the cost of replacing the floor, which Howard said the town could afford due to having "a substantial amount in reserve." The price to replace the floor has not been finalized.

"I'm hoping it is resolved in a fiscally responsible and prudent manner," FinCom member Joseph Greeley said.

Abutters take offense

Brad Cole
Staff Reporter

Some residents who live close to Norwood High School took offense to comments made by Anne Marie Haley at the Weekly Community High School meeting held on Aug. 10. One such resident was John Marsoobian, manager of Twin Peaks Construction, who does not feel Haley's comments are accurate.

At the Aug. 14 meeting, Haley told those present that "on the whole, the neighbors are OK," with the state of the High School project.

Marsoobian does not agree with this assessment. Marsoobian's e-mails indicate that residents near the site are concerned with noise, dust, the smell, pest control and traffic.

In an e-mail sent to construction@norwood.k12.ma.us, Marsoobian had some harsh words for Haley, writing that "she should not speak for the neighborhood" and making blanket statements like that one without backing them up "undermines the concerns of abutters and leads people and newspapers to think that everything is just fine and dandy."

Marsoobian added that Haley was not a spokesperson for abutters and her statements were "nonsense," and suggested that her statements had no supporting facts.

However, Haley is an elected official who represents District 4 in Town Meeting. District 4 includes parts of Nichols Street, Victoria Circle and Bellevue Avenue, the street Marsoobian lives on. She is one of 28 Town Meeting members who represent that area.

Haley was unable to respond to Marsoobian's comments because she was out of town for the week.

Anyone with questions is encouraged to attend the weekly meetings, which are held every Friday at 9:00 a.m. in the Finance Committee room or send an e-mail to construction@norwood.k12.ma.us. According to Carroll, questions sent by Marsoobian make up approximately 90 to 95 percent of all e-mails received.

Marsoobian wasn't the only one who did not agree with Haley's comments. Judith Howard, a District 3 Town Meeting member, also felt Haley's comments were inaccurate. She has numerous concerns regarding the project and voices them at the meetings every week. She is a strong defender of the old high school and a staunch advocate of renovation. She argued that the 83-year-old building has historical significance to the town and should not be demolished, citing its beauty, the materials used and its designer, native Norwood architect William G. Upham. Upham designed several other buildings in Norwood as well, including the Town Hall and the post office.

Howard's argument fell upon the ears of Carroll, who reminded her they have gone to Town Meeting with their plans and had the project approved.

"This issue has been dealt with extensively," Carroll said, later adding, "We are beyond this."

Howard argued otherwise, saying she would advocate renovation "until the last brick is down."

Carroll described Howard's comments at the Aug. 28 meeting as "out of order," which led her to question Carroll's behavior, saying he has repeatedly told her that she had been out of order, asked what her point was and told not to ask questions. Carroll quickly responded saying that this was the first time he had called her out of order and "never said you weren't supposed to ask questions."

At the end of every meeting, Carroll opens the floor to the public, allowing anyone present to ask questions. Town Meeting members, concerned abutters and curious residents can attend and have their concerns addressed.

The Civic Guitar Band is made up of members who participated in Gugliotta's guitar class at the Civic Center. The Civic Guitar Band will perform at 2 p.m.

Nick Vecchio, Founder and Ensemble Instructor with Band Gig, a band program for teenagers and adults that operates out of 45 Central St., Norwood will be on hand with the band Full Throttle, a group of five teenagers who are in the program. The band consists of Matt Thibeau of Norwood, Connor McGuire, Adam Selsman, Sam Pinkowitz and Kevin Ferstler, and they have been together for one-and-a-half years. Ferstler is the band's drummer, Pinkowitz is the bass player, and McGuire and Selsman are both guitarists. In addition to playing guitar, Thibeau is the group's vocalist.

"They are very tight," Vecchio said. "They are a good representation of Band Gig."

Not all of the performances will be musical in nature. Mark Kenny, a Norwood High School graduate, will be on hand to perform his show "Everyone Has A Talent."

Kenny is in the Guinness Book of World Records for hand walking. He holds several records that involve walking on his hands. The first was set in 1994, when he set the record for running a 50-meter dash on his hands in 16.9 seconds. His second record was set in 1997, when he hand walked down 77 stairs in 39.04 seconds. Another record was set in 1999, when he used his hands to walk down the 1,200 steps at the Citicorp building in Manhattan. He did this in 51 minutes and 22 seconds, breaking the previous record by over four minutes. Kenny will display his talent at 1 p.m.

Other non-musical events include Norwood High Drama performing Willy Wonka at 11 a.m. and a performance by EAST (Evolution Action Sports Training Center) at noon. EAST will perform an acrobatic routine. They recently performed at the Day of Hope Carnival at Hawes Pool.

65 Year Old Grandmother Ends Frustration With Dentures

Experiences Sheer Joy of Gorgeous Strong Teeth, and Re-Ignites Her Marriage

West Roxbury – Phyllis Hicks had been hiding something. This busy grandmother ran the family business while taking care of her grandkids. On the outside, it looked like she "had it all", she was struggling with an ever increasingly frustrating problem that plagued her for 20 years.

Phyllis had lost her teeth at the early age of 45. This caused her to be confined to the limitations of dentures. Not being able to eat the foods that she treasured and loved.

Through time and nature, Phyllis had lost most of the bone that she was relying on to support those dentures. She was suffering from sores from her dentures due to the fact that they didn't fit any more and this created excessive rubbing. Her constant fear that her teeth might pop out at any moment was paralyzing her in social settings.

The "Miraculous" Solution that Most Seniors Have Zero Clue About

Fortunately for Phyllis, startling advancements in dentistry provided her with options that weren't available for her in the past 20 years. Now, Phyllis is laughing, smiling, and enjoying those grandchildren with the confidence and pleasure she desires. Her friends now admire her new beauty... and some have actually admitted gossiping about what plastic surgery she had done. After all, "she is looking 10 years younger!"

Phyllis Got Her Life Back

At this point, you may be wondering... How Can I Be One of The People to Benefit From This Miraculous Solution, Too?

Large classes discussed

Oldham to try Title 1 teacher use

Brad Cole
Staff Reporter

Superintendent of Schools John Moretti addressed the issue of large class sizes at the Oldham Elementary School, and proposed using Title 1 teachers as a way to curb the burden teachers face when dealing with a larger class.

Moretti's idea isn't to lower class size, but to increase support for the teachers.

"We've moved away from the mindset that a low class size equals success," Moretti said, adding "supports are more important to teachers than low class sizes."

Using a Title 1 teacher is a potential solution because the Oldham School is one of four schools that is qualified to use Title 1 teachers. The other three are the Balch and Callahan Schools and the Coakley Middle School. Whether a school is entitled to a Title 1 teacher is based on what percentage of students are in the free or reduced lunch program. Schools have the authority to use Title 1 teachers at their discretion.

"You can assign Title 1 teachers to problem areas," Moretti said, meaning they can be used to address issues such as class sizes.

The Oldham School has an extra Title 1 teacher they can assign to classrooms. Last year, the Title 1 teachers were used almost exclusively for the school's reading program. Now, the Oldham has a reading specialist, allowing them to use Title 1 teachers in different areas.

The idea to use Title 1 teachers in this role will be started on a trial basis. School Committee member Eleanor Travers described Moretti's suggestion as "an immediate resolution to the problem," and one that they will tentatively implement.

Moretti will update the committee on this plan at their next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 16. The committee plans on using input from teachers and Oldham Principal Wesley Manaday, the committee will determine if the program is working. If it isn't, they will hire an aide.

School Committee member Mark Joseph initially suggested using an aide to cope with the increased class size issue. The aide would be assigned to grades two and three.

"School starts in two weeks and we are going to have 22 kids in the second and third grade classrooms [at the Oldham School]," Joseph said, and this has caused some parents to worry.

"This is a valid concern," he said. "We are addressing the concerns of parents."

However, the idea of using an aide was put aside in favor of using the available Title 1 teachers. Part of the reason was the cost of hiring an aide. Aides are paid- at the very least- $20,000 plus benefits. The benefits bring the total cost of an aide to approximately $35,000, and they do not have that amount of money in the Personnel Budget.

While hiring an aide is still a possibility, funding would have to come from a different source, while using a Title 1 teacher will allow the school to avoid that extra expense.

Though a Title 1 teacher will be assigned to classrooms that need support, Moretti is pleased with the current class sizes at the town schools.

"I am very comfortable with class sizes as they are now," Moretti said, later adding, "I have to admit, I feel good about where we are with class sizes."

School Committee member Courtney Rau had a similar sentiment saying, "Enrollment is high, but not alarmingly high." She added that she trusted the judgment of the principals, who can come to the committee and say they need more teachers.

Only one principal- Virginia Ceruti of the George F. Willett Early Childhood Center- had stepped forward, saying a Special Education teacher was needed at the center.

Because of this, Rau is inclined to believe that most schools in the town have an appropriate number of teachers.

Norwood's municipal credit rating in good form

Brad Cole
Staff Reporter

Norwood has achieved an AA/Stable rating from Standard & Poor's Rating Service, which examines and rates a town's municipal credit rating.

"The rating is extremely good," said Treasurer and Collector Robert McGuire. "It's one of the best ratings you can get for a community our size in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and nationwide."

The rating comes from an August 19 report issued by Standard & Poor, written by Primary Credit Analyst Victor Medeiros and Secondary Credit Analyst Linda Yip. The report was sent to Town Treasurer McGuire, and has since been shared with General Manager John Carroll, Light Department Superintendent Malcolm McDonald, Town Clerk and Accountant Robert Thornton and the Board of Selectmen.

This AA rating is consistent with years' past.

"Norwood has been an AA community for quite some time, through all the recessions and near depressions," McGuire said.

The highest rating a town can achieve is AAA, which the Standard & Poor's Rating defines as "the obligor's capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is extremely strong." An AA is a slightly different rating meaning "the obligor's capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is very strong."

McGuire described Standard & Poor's as a renowned agency that people rely on when looking at municipal bonds. It "serves as a flag to investors, telling them about potential credit rating bong issues," McGuire said. "The higher the rating, the better looking it is to potential investors."

According to the "Norwood, Massachusetts; General Obligation" report, Norwood did not receive the highest rating due to "the town's reliance of utility transfers to support general fund operations."

The rating reflects five of Norwood's strengths. Medeiros and Yip were pleased with Norwood's "very strong household income with median household effective buying income at 131% of national levels" and the town's "extremely high per capita market values."

In addition, Norwood is also above average for this marker. Norwood's income levels are described as "a very strong 11 percent of the commonwealth level," meaning the average Norwood citizen makes 14 percent more than the typical Massachusetts resident and 31 percent more than the average person nationwide.

Norwood's unemployment rate is also lower than the national average. Only 7.7 percent of Norwood citizens were unemployed as of June 2009. Nationwide, the average unemployment rate at that time was 9.5 percent, though it has since dropped to 9.4 percent.

Medeiros and Yip also described Norwood as having a "low debt burden," a "consistent operating performance of the general and electric funds and improved general fund reserves" and a "good geographic location," because the town is near numerous employment centers, including Boston.

The report was presented to and accepted by the Board of Selectmen at their August 25 meeting. This report outlines $64 million worth of bond proceeds that required the Board of Selectmen's signature. These funds will be used for three projects- $26 million will be used to fund the High School construction project, $18 million will be used to design and install an electric substation and $20 million will be used to pay an electric litigation settlement.

The $26 million bond for High School construction was secured at a 3.53 percent interest rate. At a Special Town Meeting held earlier this year, the Committee of 21 estimated that the town would pay a 5.5 percent rate.

"This is a significant reduction in the forecasted cost of the high school project," McGuire wrote in a letter to the Board of Selectmen. "Conservatively, the difference from the projected interest cost to the actual interest cost should result in at least a $3 million savings over the life of the loan for the high school project."

The electric litigation settlement in question is with New England Power Company, who filed a lawsuit against Norwood in 1998 alleging that the town breached its contract to purchase wholesale electricity exclusively from the company. The town was ordered to pay New England Power $118 million plus interest. The town has paid approximately $38 million and received a $27 million reduction of the termination fee by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, reducing the amount the town owed to $53 million.

The town and New England Power reached a settlement of $20 million, and according to the Standard & Poor's report, "this borrowing represents the final payment the town will be obligated to pay as part of the litigation."

Consistency the key as field hockey eyes turn-around season

Mike Stoller

Staff Reporter

If there's one thing Norwood Head Field Hockey Coach Allison Parks would like to find in her team's lost and found, it's a spot in the state tourney. The Mustangs missed out by slight margins the last two years and are yearning to get back to the big dance.

Norwood, at 5-8-4 last season, played some tough competition well, after going 7-9-2 during the previous To keep their postseason hopes alive, the Mustangs came up with a big late-season 1-0 win over super Bay State Conference foe Framingham. A day earlier, the Flyers had handed perennial powerhouse Walpole its first loss of the campaign.

Norwood also showed some late-season spark against the Rebels in a 3-1 loss. However, the reality is the Mustangs need to keep the momentum going throughout the season, not just in crunch time when they could be faced with the most difficult competition at the least opportune time. "We've been pretty inconsistent the last few years, and this was the major reason we have missed the tournament," said Parks. "If the team comes to play everyday and realizes the importance of every game, we should be able to get back to the tourney."

The coach said her squad lost a good number of players to graduation from last year's group - among them star field leaders Liz Greeley and Kim Clougher - so "there will be many positions that will be up for grabs." But Parks is optimistic about her veteran and incoming talent.

"Preseason should be very competitive," she said, "as there will be returning varsity players and some [from the] JV/freshmen [teams] battling it out for starting positions."

The Mustangs already seem to have some senior depth at all areas of the field. Strong right winger Gina Mancini returns as one of the team's top goal scorers. Jill Walsh can play in the center at midfield or forward. Meghan Harrington drives the defense. And Captain Emily Whitney and Heather Flaherty will be competing for the starting job in goal.

"Both [goalies] have worked extremely hard and improved greatly over the off-season," said Parks.

Norwood still will have to contend with mighty strong competition in the BSC Herget Division, most notably aforementioned Walpole and Wellesley, the latter of which officially knocked the 'Stangs from postseason contention last season.

"Walpole and Wellesley will definitely be the teams to beat in the Herget, especially after coming off strong seasons last year," said Parks. "The Herget is very competitive and every game will be hard fought. It will be extremely important for our team to be consistent with our play, as there are no definite or easy wins in the Bay State [Conference]."

Golf has tourney hopes

Norwood standout golfer Jim McGuire and the rest of the Mustangs were back in full swing at practice at the Norwood Country Club this past Monday.

Mike Stoller

Staff Reporter

There's nothing like a second chance. Entering the 2009 campaign with virtually the same starting group as last year, after making a run for the state tourney, the Norwood High golf team likes its odds this fall.

"I really like our chances this year to make the state tournament," said head coach Slava Heretz, whose squad makes its home at the Norwood Country Club. "We only lost two varsity starters to graduation, and those spots should be easily filled by returning underclassmen."

"I know that last year's varsity players are working very hard to improve their games over the summer," added the coach. "So, realistically, with our talent on hand, I think we can win enough matches to really make waves in the [Bay State Conference]."

Senior tri-captains Brendan

Buckley, Ryan Collins, and Jim McGuire return to lead the feisty Mustangs. Buckley, a BSC All-Star last season, and Collins, the team MVP, split time last year between the No. 1 and No. 2 slots. Buckley was tremendously instrumental in keeping Norwood's tourney hopes alive, shooting a team-best par 34 ("The middle holes were underwater so they played nine dry holes for a par of 34," explained Heretz), while Collins was part of the other winning Norwood duo in the same tilt. McGuire, meanwhile, earned the squad's Unsung Hero award for what Heretz called his 'sneak-up-on-you' solid play.

"Jim is a very streaky player," said the coach, "but when he's on, he's almost unbeatable."

Heretz also is counting on senior veterans Chris Ryan and

Girls' volleyball hopeful

Mike Stoller
Staff Reporter

It's been a tough go in recent years for the Norwood girls' volleyball team. The Mustangs amassed just three wins in the last two seasons, finishing 1-15 last fall.

So can this year's group turn it around? Is there reason to believe?

"Yes," says first-year Head Coach Tim Linehan, who is the veteran head guru for the Norwood boys' volleyball team in the spring. Linehan is familiar with his new fall group, having served as the girls' junior varsity coach and assistant varsity mentor in recent seasons.

As of last week, with tryouts just beginning, Norwood hadn't established its full squad. But the Mustangs have a few anchors intact among their veteran and foreseeable standouts. At the very least, Norwood is hoping to stay in the battle among the heavy competition in the Bay State Conference

Herget Division.

"We're trying to get rid of the losing attitude, and emphasize that we have enough talent to compete, and that everything is going to be a competition."

said Linehan.

The coach said the Mustangs enter the new campaign with a lot of athleticism, noting many of his players are multi-sport athletes who got significant varsity court time last year.

The question is can Norwood make it translate into strong volleyball play?

"We're going to try to make athletic volleyball players. That's our goal," said the coach. "A lot of them were on the team last year and got significant playing time, so there's not too much of a learning curve."

"The team has a new mentality and outlook," added Linehan. "We return many skilled veterans and believe that we have a chance to make some noise in the Bay State [Conference] this season."

Linehan said his squad's talents should lead to more offensive-minded play, boosting its competitive level.

"We think we have our best hitters in a long time," said the coach. "We're going to try to be competitive every week and have nobody overlook us."

Senior captains Nikki Cignarella, Linzy French, and Stephanie Perry all are back to help get the 'Stangs on track. And the coach is impressed with the skills of all three - Cignarella and French as strong outside hitters and Perry as a solid middle hitter and excellent blocker.

Other impact returnees include junior middle hitter Lauren Duggan and senior outside hitter Tahira Gibson. Both add to Norwood's potent offensive arsenal.

"Both are powerful servers and hitters," said Linehan. "We are expecting strong performances from both players this season."

Meanwhile, senior Migema Dulaj, who played on junior varsity last year, arrives with the team's most effective serve, according to the coach. "She's the best server on the team."

Just as Linehan said that, Dulaj, as if on cue, served with precision a perfect low ball that just cleared the net for an ace at practice last week.

The Mustangs also are secure at setter, despite the loss of graduated star captain Casey McDaniels. Junior Carly Blais enters the fray after starring on the JV squad last fall. While Blais faces the quick transition to varsity in a key role, Linehan is confident in her abilities.

"She can handle it," said the coach. "It's is a quicker game [than JV]. It's more mental, knowing the play, knowing who to set to. There's more structure... She has the biggest learning curve, but we have high hopes for her. She did well last year, and we expect her to do well this year."

There are no illusions about the competition in the BSC, but optimism looms with a gritty group of Mustangs ready for the fight.

"The Bay State [Conference] is very difficult, particularly with strong teams such as Wellesley and Natick in the Herget Division," said Linehan. "[But] the girls and I are really looking forward to the upcoming season... We had too many 3-0 losses last year. If it's not possible to win [a particular match], I want to at least steal a set to prove we can hang with people in the Bay State [Conference]."

Pat Conroy, who teamed with Buckley and Collins in the win over Framingham, and helped spur the 'Stangs to several other wins last season, and junior Adam Kewriga, who won the team's Most Improved Player honor "for his steady play and huge improvement from the previous year," said the coach.

While Heretz admits it would be nice to have a freshman phenom ready to jump into the No. 1 spot - "something every coach dreams of having," - the Norwood mentor is taking a more practical approach. He is looking forward to seeing who of the returning freshmen will step up their game and fill the remaining varsity spots left by graduated standouts Matt Walsh and Charles King.

Sophomores Peter Kelley, Mark Maggio, and Jake Renalli all have strong potential, and "will definitely contribute to this year's team," said Heretz. "It'll be interesting to see which of these guys improved from last year and has the maturity to step into a varsity role."

As for the competition, Heretz said he feels his squad matches up better this year with Herget Division rivals Dedham, Milton and Walpole.

"We seem to always lose to Dedham by one point in these really gritty matches," said the coach. "[And] Milton and Walpole have always bested us in the past, but they are losing key seniors to graduation, so I think this year the tables might turn."

Norwood is hoping to continue its winning ways against Natick, with whom the Mustangs "always have close matches," said Heretz. "Last year, we won both our meetings with them, but the wins didn't come easily."

The Mustangs also are eyeing their rematch against strong foe Wellesley, "always the team to beat in the Herget," said the coach, "but we hope to give them another run just like we did last fall at [Wellesley's] Nehoiden [Golf Course]."

Hogan and Gunschel honored

The Norwood Fire Department would like to announce that firefighters Paul Hogan and Josh Gunschel are the recipients of the first annual EMS Patient Care Quality Award. The award, given by Girard & Associates, is a quality assurance distinction for exceptional patient care over the year 2008. Data collected on patient treatment is reviewed and scored according to statewide treatment protocol and requirements of the Service's Medical Director Andrew Geller M.D. All Norwood Fire Department EMS calls are reviewed for accuracy in documentation of patient care, this information is then scored using a quality assurance scoring system which is used to quantify the level of care provided. Both Firefighter/EMT Hogan and Firefighter/Paramedic Gunschel received the highest percentage based scores for their respective ambulance service for the year. The Norwood Fire Department would like to congratulate both men on their accomplishment.

ALS Coordinator Mike Downing, FF/Medic Josh Gunschel, FF/EMT Paul Hogan and Paul Girard of Girard & Associates.

The Norwood Fire Department would like to introduce its newest members, Firefighters Chris Campilio and Chris Queally. FF Campilio grew up in Norwood and graduated from NHS in 1997.
