Town Meeting rejects Blue Hills 'rainy day' fund

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

For the second time in six months, Norwood Town Meeting has rejected an attempt by Blue Hills Regional Technical School to establish a Stabilization Fund to cover long-term capital expenses at its Canton campus.

However, the Blue Hills School now has received the required five majority votes from its member communities to establish the fund.

Blue Hills School, located at 800 Randolph St. in Canton, serves students in Avon, Braintree, Canton, Dedham, Holbrook, Milton, Norwood, Randolph and Westwood.

According to Blue Hills Superintendent Jim Quaglia, the towns of Weston, Avon, Milton and Canton all approved the Stabilization Fund during their Town Meeting this spring, while Dedham approved it back in November.

But in Norwood, the Finance Commission continued its opposition to the proposal, requesting on Monday night that Special Town Meeting support "indefinite postponement" of Article 33, presented by Kevin Connolly, a Town Meeting member and Norwood's representative to the Blue Hills School, to set up the account.

Blue Hills was not requesting any funds be allocated to its Stabilization Fund. But as was the case at Town Meeting back in November, Finance Commission members Monday night said they have problems with the way it is being presented.

Commission member Joe Greeley said it makes sense for the Blue Hills

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

It took the entire second night of Special Town Meeting last Thursday to decide, but the town is now moving forward with Coakley Middle School as the site for the proposed Norwood hockey rink.

Following more than three hours of debate, Town Meeting voted to support an article authorizing the Selectmen to move ahead with seeking the release of state funds for the rink at the Coakley site.

A motion by Patricia Bailey to amend the language of the article removing the reference to a particular site was defeated. Another motion to amend by Jerry Hopcroft that would have required that the rink be designed identical architecturally to the Coakley School was also defeated.

A voice vote on the main article was challenged, at which point Town Moderator David Hern called for a standing vote count. The result of that vote was 115-60 in support of Article 14, to allow the Selectmen to request that Gov. Deval Patrick officially release the $5.6 million in state funds earmarked for the rink project.

Man charged with assaulting Sharkey

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

A Connecticut man is being charged with felonious assault following an altercation with a Brown University student from Norwood.

Tory Lussier, 24, of Vernon, Conn., was arrested without incident last Wednesday at his home in Connecticut after allegedly sucker punching a student during an argument near the Brown campus in Rhode Island in the early hours of Sunday, May 12.

Another man, 22-year-old Dillon James "DJ" Ingham, of Fulton, N.Y., was subsequently arrested and charged with disorderly conduct, and is awaiting arraignment later this week, according to The Associated Press.

The victim, 21-year-old Joseph Sharkey of Norwood, was transported to Rhode Island Hospital and listed in critical condition. A hospital spokesman said the family was requesting that information on his condition be kept private.

Selectmen approve one percent water rate increase

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

Like many other towns in the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority system (MWRA), Norwood is facing the problem of increasing costs and decreasing water usage.

Attempting to fill in the revenue gap this has created in the town's water enterprise, the Board of Selectmen on Tuesday night voted to increase Norwood's water and sewer rates by one percent, which is retroactive to May 1.

The rate increase comes by way of a recommendation from the Rate Study Committee, a panel of town officials that examines the town's rate structure.

According to Town Manager John Carroll, who serves on that committee and brought the recommendation forward at Tuesday night's meeting, the decreasing usage coupled with increasing costs associated mainly with debt service has created a $122,000 revenue shortfall.

One way or another, the town must make up this shortfall in order to keep the water-and-sewer enterprise a "break-even" entity, said Selectmen Chairman Bill Plasko, who also serves on the Rate Study Committee.

"Our job is to recommend to the Board [of Selectmen] full cost recovery of the enterprise," said Plasko. "We're a little short this year. It's our responsibility to make that up."

Sharkey, a sophomore at Brown University, is a guard on the school's basketball team.

During his arraignment in Providence on Friday, Lussier entered no plea to charges of felony assault. He was released on bail after his father posted the $1,000 required. He was ordered to have no contact with the witnesses in the case.

The Providence Journal reported that Lussier waived extradition in Rockville Superior Court in Connecticut last Thursday and was brought back to Rhode Island to face the charges. Lussier's attorney, John Lombardi, told the Journal that his client was acting in self-defense.

According to court records, Lussier was already on bail for a previous assault charge in Connecticut. He is due back in court on May 29.

Plasko noted that the shortfall over the past year has been around $300,000, accounting for the previous rate increases. Last year's water-rate increase was 4.4 percent.

Selectman Helen Abdallah Donohue opposed raising the rate a second time in the same fiscal year, saying residents and business owners have already faced numerous increases in recent years.

"I'd ask that we keep it the way it is," said Donohue, who was the only board member to vote against the increase. "I think it's improper to raise rates twice in one year."

Selectman Mike Lyons said the town has to make up the shortfall somehow, and if not through a modest rate increase than by taxation. He argued against the latter approach, saying it would unfairly place the cost on those who are on the lower end as far as water users in town.

"This is a bill that has to be paid," said Lyons.

Selectman Paul Bishop also supported the one-percent increase, noting that it amounts to just two more cents per day for customers.

"We've had a dramatic decrease [in water usage] as have many communities," said Carroll, who also spoke to the ongoing efforts over many years to pay down the MWRA's debt.

The MWRA was formed in 1985 as a result of a federal court order requiring the clean up of Boston Harbor. Communities like Norwood that get their water and sewer service from the MWRA also contribute to paying down the debt associated with the clean up. Carroll, formerly the state public works chief, serves as vice chairman of the MWRA board of directors.

The Selectmen also approved a motion by Donohue to add two new members to the Rate Study Committee, one of whom will be a representative to the residential customers and the other to the commercial customers.

The butterfly effect

The Selectmen approved the use of conservation land across from Ellis Pond on Walpole Street, or Route 1A, for creation of an open-air butterfly garden.

The garden is a result of the efforts to resident Carol Fishman, who has been working with the Norwood Conservation Commission on the project.

At the meeting to describe the proposed garden were Fishman and Lee Leach from the Conservation Commission, which owns the parcel where it will be located. Fishman said

A DAY TO REMEMBER

It is understandable that we might lose sight of why there is a Memorial Day. Originally known as Decoration Day in the aftermath of the Civil War it was, and remains, a day to honor our fallen soldiers.

Fast-forward to modern times and the spirit of the occasion has been clouded. We haven't completely forgotten the sacrifices. There are still solemn ceremonies and gravesite adornments. Our surviving veterans do their best to keep traditions alive and relevant.

Lines have been blurred, however, which is something we've lamented in this space before. The day of remembrance has morphed into a holiday over the years. It is a Monday to sleep late, go shopping and celebrate the unofficial start of summer. Many of us worry more about vacation plans than the fate of those who sacrificed everything to give us the freedom to engage in such trifles.

We are not being judgmental, just honest. In full disclosure, despite our sermonizing and finger wagging, we know we are just as guilty as those we prod and easily lapse out of the reverence we know is called for.

It is a shame, now more than ever as, in theory at least, the major conflict in Iraq has ended and the Afghanistan effort is winding down. We say "in theory" because, especially in the case of the latter conflict, the casualties continue. And yet, we don't hear much these days about the military personnel who still put themselves in harm's way. With only occasional exceptions, we don't learn much about casualties any more. We are constantly exposed to the underlying politics of the wars, but not about the real toll on human life.

We can, of course, blame the media, an easy target, but the truth is we have all become jaded. It isn't that we don't care - we all do, very deeply. The issue is overload. There is only so much bad news the brain can digest before it shuts down, before selective amnesia takes hold. We are jolted back to reality on occasion when a hometown hero loses their life, but mostly we dwell in blissful ignorance.

We'd be naïve to think that the usual distractions of the holiday won't reign again this year. To be honest, we ourselves may be guilty. But can we all pledge to spend at least a portion of the day thinking about those who perished in fight to preserve our freedoms? Can we all devote just a few minutes of introspection to honor our soldiers? Can we just, simply put, remember not to forget?

Take a break from the barbecues, the beach houses, and the cold beers to say a prayer, raise a flag, or visit a gravesite. You won't change the world, or stop war; in fact it may just be a symbolic gesture. But in remembering the dead, we can all appreciate the hard-fought freedoms enjoyed by the living.

Letters to the Editor

IT IS AMAZING TO ME

To the Editor:

Blame Nobody, Expect Nothing and Do Something.

Things change on a daily basis, and for the most part, unfortunately, what was important yesterday is now in a major decline. Take spelling for instance; no need to be accurate because texting dominates and it's easier to spell phonetically and have that as a standard.

Having a crèche near a bus stop and having silence fill the town is also acceptable. Denying a request to reinsert Christmas to a school calendar is ludicrous, instead let's honor the seasons, summer, fall, winter and spring. Is this an educated decision? How embarrassing. Transferring school property for an ice rink is the priority; after all, it is only a small parcel. (Quoted from a School Committee Official).

Ever wonder how the Norwood Hockey Team consistently wins WITHOUT an ice rink in town? I assume it is dedicated parents driving kids from here to there. We have always had a championship team, even when I was in school.

It is obvious that ranking 163rd in the State of Massachusetts doesn't bother anyone in Norwood. Historically being in the top 80 for Advanced MCAS was in the past. Yes, today it's a new day. Those with money can send their kids to private school. After all, if Campanelli has his project accepted, we'll have hundreds of kids in Norwood in our schools and the current impaired standards will be a gift to them. Maybe we can achieve a ranking of 150 and be right in the middle of 371 towns in Massachusetts.

Then we have folks that just plain don't care. They don't reside in Norwood and have no children in the schools, and like me their kids have left town.

We are not the only town that has a profile of tremendous apathy. It's at epidemic proportions throughout this nation, and not for the greater good. I personally embraced Norwood as "my town," and thoroughly enjoyed the higher standards and values that we lived each day. I miss the openness (today it's called transparency) and honesty and respect that was mutual. It is our God-given right to dissent, not to be dissed.

I thank you for your time and I'll close with another thought. "Egotism is the anesthetic that dulls the pain of stupidity"

*Madelyn Eysie

CHRISTMAS ISSUE A WASTE OF TIME

To the Editor:

In last week's editorial Theresa McNulty was compare to Rosa Parks, who risked her life and lost her job fighting for racial equality. The editors can't be serious, and if they are, a re-reading of their high school history books is necessary. Will you be suggesting next that Ms. McNulty be awarded a Presidential Medal of Freedom, as Ms. Parks was in 1996?

The campaign against calling the winter vacation "winter recess" is a tempest in a teapot. McNulty's signature campaign resulting in 200 signatures represents less than 1% of the town's population. This is hardly a mandate for change. Norwood has evolved into a diverse, multi-cultural community and is better for it. McNulty's meaningless crusade is taking up valuable school committee time and effort. Please Ms. McNulty, rather than spending your time on divisive issues maybe you can find a cause that will make Norwood an even better and more compassionate town than it already is. Then maybe the spirit of Rosa Parks can be favorably compared to your efforts.

Memorial Day events include dedication of corner

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

One of Ted Mulvehill's goals as Norwood's veteran agent has been to memorialize all those from town who have served and died in battle.

On Monday, another name will be added to that list: Lt. Morris Gallant. Gallant, an Air Force pilot during World War II, lived at 15 Allen Road in Norwood when he joined the military in 1942.

He was just 24 years old when his P-51 Mustang was shot down somewhere over the Black Sea in Nazi-occupied territory around two years later.

Gallant was reported missing in action from the 367th Fighter Group of the Eighth Air Force on Jan. 8, 1945. Like so many others in various conflicts around the world, his body has never been recovered and he remains missing in action.

Mulvehill said Gallant's unit was responsible for taking down 480 enemy planes over a 14-month period.

As part of the town's Memorial Day observance on Monday, May 27, Mulvehill has planned a Memorial Corner dedication that will occur at 1 p.m. at the corner of Allen Road and Lenox Street. The Memorial Corner, similar to that which was dedicated last year for Keith David "Doc" Benson, will serve to honor the legacy that Gallant left behind, said Mulvehill. The Memorial Corner for Benson, who died in Afghanistan early last year, is located at the corner of Gay and Joy streets, near where he lived.

"The corner [for Gallant] will be the 56th Memorial Corner that we've done in Norwood, of 101 Norwood casualties of war over the years. My goal before I leave this chair is to have all of those men memorialized," said Mulvehill. "It's just a small way for our town to offer our appreciation to these guys. Norwood's a patriotic town. It's honor where honor is due."

Norwood's Memorial Day activities begin at 6 a.m. on Saturday, when American flags will be placed in the polls along Washington Street. At 8 a.m., volunteers will place additional flags on graves of the veterans.

On Memorial Day itself, the observances will begin with a service at 8 a.m. at St. Catherine of Siena Parish, located at 574 Washington St., followed by a flag-raising on the Town Common at 9 a.m. Following a brief ceremony at Old Parish Cemetery, the parade from there will step off toward the Highland Cemetery at 10 a.m. Matthew Foley, a senior at Norwood High School, will read the Gettysburg Address, said Mulvehill.

Friends seeks 'renaissance' in downtown Norwood

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

Filling vacant storefronts in downtown Norwood is not something that will happen overnight, said Nicole Vaphiades, president of the Friends of Norwood Center (FNC).

However, Vaphiades and her fellow merchants in Norwood Center feel they have an organization in place to bring positive changes to the downtown community over the course of time.

"I believe that we can have a renaissance in the downtown. It's not something that's going to happen in the short term. But I think we're going to have a thriving downtown again," said Vaphiades, who owns Envie Boutique at 677 Washington St. in Norwood.

The Friends of Norwood Center emerged as a recommendation of the town's Downtown Master Plan, which proposed the establishment of merchant group similar to the Dedham Square Circle that promotes the downtown area in that community.

One of the first things the FNC did was hire a downtown manager, Kim Weineck, a North Attleboro resident with prior small-business experience owning an art studio in Walpole, to be the group's main advocate. Weineck, who came to Norwood in December of 2011, works a 10-hour-a-week schedule in town and is paid through the FNC's fundraising efforts as a non-profit entity.

The group's main strategy is to "hit the bricks," according to Vaphiades, literally going door to door meeting and talking with business owners about what works and what doesn't.

The group is currently in the midst of a membership drive to increase its connection and outreach with the commu-

ACL INJURY PREVENTION PROGRAM

FACTS

Front of right knee Anterior cruciate ligament (ACL)

- There is a reported incidence of 250,000 ACL ruptures per year in the United States.
- Female athletes are 4–6 times more likely to experience an ACL injury than their male counterparts.
- Although 80–95% of athletes are able to return to their sport after successful reconstruction, the long-term effects of ACL ruptures can severely impact quality of life.
- Dedicated ACL injury prevention programs have been found to reduce risk of ACL injury by up to 80%, while correcting muscle imbalances and improving sport-specific body mechanics.

Norwood Physical Therapy is offering a 6 week ACL Injury Prevention Program this summer, designed to get athletes in shape for their respective sports and ensure a healthy season on the playing field.

The Norwood Record

represents over five decades of efforts to bring an indoor hockey rink to Norwood, said District 1 Town Meeting member Mike Thornton, member of the Rink in Norwood Committee (RINC) that has been advocating for such an outcome since 2006 when the last rink plan fell through. That rink would have been built on University Avenue.

“This is our last, best hope. There are no other viable sites in this town. All roads lead to the Coakley School,” said Thornton.

Remaining quiet on the project until Thursday night, Selectmen Chairman Bill Plasko urged Town Meeting to support the rink at the Coakley site.

“I’ve spent hours on this,” said Plasko, whose comments were in part a response to a claim that the Selectmen gave little thought in accepting feasibility studies for the project. “A lot of work has gone into this by a lot of people, honest people who are not pulling the curtains over anyone’s eyes. This is a good project for the town.”

While he was not a “big fan” of the Coakley site to begin with, Recreation Director Jerry Miller said the selection process demonstrated how the project can work at that location with an entrance adjacent to the Hawes Pool on Washington Street.

“We’re not going to get another opportunity like this,” said Miller. “I think this [Rink Site Selection] Committee did a great job. It wasn’t a done deal. Everybody did their due diligence.”

Speaking in opposition to the location, several residents cited perceived flaws in what they felt was an unfair process leading up to Town Meeting.

Todd Gundlach, District 5 Town Meeting member, said the site review was “biased” from the start, as there was a “preconceived notion” to choose the Coakley site.

“Try to imagine a building the size of the Civic Center being placed next to the Hawes Pool. It’s just proposed in the wrong location,” said Gundlach.

Judith Howard of District 3 said the process was weighted heavily against South Norwood residents who opposed the project, instead favoring the large contingent of hockey users that would not feel the direct neighborhood impacts.

“There was no fair play here,” said Howard.

Bailey, who previously collected 600 signatures on a petition opposing the Coakley site, said the rink is equivalent to six average-sized lots in South Norwood. She said part of the project would also destroy some of the work the Norwood Evening Garden Club had done over the years to beautify the frontage along Washington Street.

Bailey and others also cited increased traffic to an already “saturated” South Norwood neighborhood.

“This is just not compatible to this neighborhood,” said Bailey.

Mark Ryan, director of the Department of Public Works, gave a presentation in which it was stated that the rink would only generate 406 new vehicle trips per day on a weekday and 1,072 on a weekend. That is about the same as a daycare or a library, he said.

“Rinks do not generate a lot of traffic. We’ve seen that in our studies of the rinks in Milton and Dedham,” said Ryan.

Town Manager John Carroll, chairman of the Rink Site Selection Committee, countered claims that the committee favored one particular site.

“It was done in a very, very open way,” said Carroll. “We decided right away that this process was going to be very open, and that we’d allow people to speak at every meeting, and we did that. We listened to everyone who had any ideas about any site.”

Ultimately, the Coakley site ranked highest for being pedestrian friendly, near public transit, and having access to sewer, water and gas services. It also scored highest among the 10 locations on the criteria of neighborhood compatibility, as putting a hockey rink there was deemed “consistent with other existing activities in the area.”

“We looked at everything we could possibly look at,” said Carroll.

Several others who supported the rink at the Coakley said they cited the benefit to the whole town, not just one neighborhood.

“I very much respected both views. But it’s not just about who skates and who doesn’t skate. This project is about our entire community,” said Selectman Paul Bishop. “This project makes good business sense and good economic sense.”

On the other side, several people did not feel the budget would be enough to build the rink, keep it profitable and cover ongoing capital repairs as needed. “I’m very doubtful we’re even close to the amount enough to build this,” said Hopcroft, a member of the Permanent Building Construction Committee (PBCC). “It will look cheap. If you’re going to do it at all, do it right.”

Fellow PBCC member and Chairman Bill Kinsman was equally skeptical, noting that the $5.6 million budget does not take into account prevailing wages for construction contractors, which he said could bump up the costs significantly.

“Are you going to be back to Town Meeting looking for more money? I urge the members to vote ‘no’ on this article,” said Kinsman.

Plasko said pointedly that $5.6 million “is the budget” for the rink, and the project will not be back to Town Meeting for anything beyond that.

“We believe we can build a modest rink to serve our needs with that amount,” Plasko said.

Special Voter Registration

The Board of Registrars wishes to inform the residents of the Town of Norwood that a special registration session has been set for the June 25, 2013 Special State Election.

An evening special registration session will be held at the Municipal Building, Room 32 on Wednesday, June 5, 2013 from 4:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M.

This is the FINAL REGISTRATION SESSION prior to the Special State Election.

Daily registration of voters will be conducted at the Town Clerk’s office, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 P.M.

A mail-in registration form is now available at Norwood Morrill Memorial Library and the Norwood Post Office.

Qualifications to register to vote are that the applicants must be 18 years old on or before election day and must either be born in the United States or be a Naturalized Citizen.

Thousands celebrate new Dedham Medical opening

Scott MacKeen
Staff Reporter

It started with a groundbreaking in October of 2011, and now construction of the new Dedham Medical Associates (DMA) facility on Route 1 in Norwood is officially complete and open for business.

DMA, which serves around 50,000 patients at its Norwood and Dedham locations, recently began welcoming patients to its new building at 1177 Boston-Providence Turnpike, or Route 1 South, and held a grand opening ceremony for the public on Saturday.

"This is our way of giving the public the chance to see what we have to offer," said DMA Chief Executive Officer Roberta Zysman. "We had a ribbon cutting last Wednesday, and many of the local politicians were here. It was great to hear them talk about how important Dedham Medical Associates has been to them."

The grounds of the new facility was buzzing with activity on Saturday, as the grand opening featured food, live music, face-painting, prizes and giveaways and special guests Wally the Green Monster and former New England Patriots linebacker Andre Tippett among other things. Zysman said many people signed up to be new patients at the event.

Amy Yunes, operations project manager for the new building project, said DMA was expecting about 250 people for the grand opening but had around 2,500 show up for the event.

While attendees were allowed to explore the entrance lobby of the building, DMA is also offering full buildings tours upon request, she said.

"It's a lot better than we expected," said Yunes of the turnout. "I think people are excited to have us here in Norwood. It's a good introduction to the community."

nity, said Vaphiades.

"I think we need more merchants to join FNC because it's really about benefiting them," she said. "We have small little venues so they can meet and join the group."

The goal of these group meetings, which occur roughly once a month, is to discuss business strategies and talk about what has been successful in the local economy and how it can adapted to meet the needs of Norwood shoppers. That is where Weineck comes in.

"I had a business in downtown Walpole and I was on a similar downtown organization. We were very keenly aware of the struggles as well as the jubilation of being a small, independent company," said Weineck. "Norwood has been on my radar for a long time."

One of the main difficulties Norwood Center landlords face is filling vacant commercial space, much of which is too large to fit what small companies are looking for. Weineck and Vaphiades both said they have had discussions with some of the landlords, and are interested in experimenting with so-called "pop-up shops," or small retailers that would come into some of these empty spaces for a short time on a trial basis. This is a way of not only revitalizing some of the storefronts, said Weineck, but also exploring some "forward-thinking" business uses to add diversity to the downtown, something she likened to Boston's Faneuil Hall Marketplace. These pop-up companies may stay as much as three months or simply offer their products during a specific event like Norwood Day, said Vaphiades.

"You get all this benefit of retail without that giant nut to crack" in terms of the cost of leasing long term, she said, while acknowledging, "We need landlord cooperation."

In addition to opening that dialogue with landlords on what they may or may not be willing to do with their space, Weineck is working on what she calls a "series of 'Wanted' posters," which will ask residents and business owners what they would want to see as far as downtown retail amenities. These posters will likely be distributed at the Farmers' Market and other events and locations, and also be available on the FNC website, www.friendsofnorwoodcenter.com.

Weineck said she is also regularly canvassing the local markets in the South Shore, surveying potential good fits for Norwood.

"Recently one of the businesses downtown was recruited by another business on the South Shore," she explained. "I think this whole idea of discussing ideas with other businesses that we want to have in Norwood is a possibility. It's about getting to know the merchants, getting to know what merchants want."

"It's always good to shop local, and we can't stress that enough," added Vaphiades. "People are just getting back on their feet."

The FNC is working on another fundraiser similar to one they held last year at the Olde Colonial Café, said Vaphiades. The proceeds from the event, which is tentatively scheduled for sometime in August, will help fund FNC's ongoing effort to revitalize the downtown business experience, she said.

"We don't have a lot of money," said Weineck, noting that things like printing and distribution of flyers eat up a good deal of the expenses. But the group is always looking for good ideas.

Information about joining the FNC and discounts for members is available on the group's website. For more information, contact Kim Weineck at (781) 269-9677 or norwoodcenter@gmail.com

"This is incredible. It's beyond our wildest dreams," said Zysman.

Dedham Medical, an affiliate of Atrius Health, moved from its previous location at 325 River Ridge Drive to the new facility, where it will occupy about half of the 160,000-square-foot new building. FM Global, a leading global insurance firm and the building owner, will have offices in the remaining space after the medical offices complete their move, said Zysman.

The four-story building features a lab, Ob/Gyn and radiology on the first floor; cardiology, dermatology and gastroenterology on the second floor; pediatrics and pediatric cardiology on the third floor; and administrative and records departments on the top floor. Additional specialties such as allergy, ear, nose and throat, endocrinology, gerontology, MRI, neurology, nutrition services, optometry, orthopedics physiatry, podiatry, rheumatology, surgery and urology will be opening over the summer.

The new facility also provides Dedham Medical the ability to offer patients after-hours care, something currently only offered at the Dedham location. Additionally, the building is the first in Norwood to be LEED or "green" certified by the United States Green Building Council.

As a result of the expansion, Dedham Medical is expecting to hire 32 new clinical and non-clinical personnel over the course of the year, said Zysman. There are numerous other new services under consideration, she said.

DMA hired Needham-based Murphy McManus as its overall construction manager for the project and Boston-based Dowling Huoy LLC as its internal project consultants for planning the actual move and assisting with requests for proposal for the purchase of equipment.

Dedham Medical celebrated its 75th anniversary last year. According to its website, its physicians, nurses, therapists, technicians and support staff offer services in more than 26 specialties. They also offer on-site, full-service lab and radiology departments at both locations and digital mammography at the Dedham location.

School to have a Stabilization Fund of some sort. However, he argued, the way it is currently constituted will give the school the power to apply the funds at the discretion of the Blue Hills School Committee with no oversight from the member communities that pay into the school's budget.

Norwood currently has 69 students enrolled at the Blue Hills School, with 64 projected for next year's enrollment, said Town Clerk Bob Thornton.

"Their intent is to use this as a 'rainy day' fund for capital expenses," said Greeley. "But the limitations on how these funds can actually be spent are few. We don't feel there are financial controls over that money."

While the Blue Hills School now has the ability to set up the Stabilization Fund without Norwood, Finance Commission Chairwoman Judith Langone said it was still important for town residents to make their voices heard. "Norwood has always taken a stand on its own to let people know how we feel," said Langone.

Connolly insisted that the Stabilization Fund could not be used for operational expenses as some claimed, and that the school was looking to set it up in part to cover repairs to its aging ball fields. He called the Stabilization Fund "vital economically" to the Blue Hills School.

Despite that, Town Meeting was nearly unanimous in opposing Connolly's article.

Rink debate return

The debate over the hockey rink at the Coakley Middle School was revived in Article 15 of the Special Town Meeting, a petition by Town Meeting member Patricia Bailey to reject the Coakley site for the rink.

Bailey again made a presentation in which she opposed the site. Bailey said South Norwood does not appear to "have the same voice" as other parts of town, and has not been fairly represented as part of the project.

"The bottom line is this project does not belong in anyone's neighborhood, period," said Bailey, adding that the hockey rink would be more appropriate somewhere along Route 1. "The residents and businesses deserve to be represented."

While Town Meeting last week approved Article 14 giving Selectmen the power to move forward with seeking the state funds for the rink at the Coakley, Town Meeting member Todd Gundlach questioned whether they would have the votes Thursday night to get two-thirds majority required to transfer school-owned land for the project. Gundlach also questioned Town Counsel John Flynn's opinion that the land was not subject to Article 97 state restrictions for public parks, which would restrict construction there. Flynn said at last week's Town Meeting that the land was considered playground property and not subject to the Article 97 restrictions of the state constitution.

"You know what they say about opinions. Everyone has them," said Gundlach.

Langone also opposed the Coakley site for the rink, saying South Norwood has made "a very good case" for not wanting the facility in their neighborhood.

"There are big issues here. This is a neighborhood issue. Listen to them. They're asking you for help. Help them," she said.

Meanwhile, Sarah Quinn of District 8, who said she was "torn" on the issue, decided to change her original vote and said she now supports the Coakley site.

"They're giving us this money," said Quinn of the $5.6 million in state funds for the project. "I can't imagine going another 50 years and missing out on this opportunity."

Selectman Paul Bishop, who previously supported the Coakley site, said he "takes exception" to the allegation that South Norwood was not represented. He said all town officials represent the entire town and are trying to act in the best interest of Norwood.

"There are no enemies in this building tonight," he said.

Following the debate, Town Meeting voted down Bailey's petition to reject the Coakley site.

The land exchange for the project will be brought up at Town Meeting on Thursday night.

Other articles

On Monday night, Town Meeting also approved funding a three-year contract with the Electric Light and Broadband collective bargaining unit by transferring $236,000 in existing funds in the budget. The agreement covers the period from July 1, 2011 to June 30, 2014, and calls for no increase in the first year, a two-percent increase in the second year and a two-year increase in the third year.

Town Meeting also approved the following:

- $500,000 in borrowing authorization from the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) for ongoing replacement of aging water mains. This project, which is repaid through the water rates over 10 years, will clean and line water mains on Elm Street, Sycamore Street, Cypress Street and parts of Lincoln Street beginning later in the year.

- $2.8 million in bonding through the Massachusetts Water Pollution Abatement Trust for the replacement and reconstruction of sewer mains, continuing the rehabilitation project toward the Meadowbrook.

- $825,000 from existing funds and free cash to cover snow-and-ice deficits incurred by the Department of Public Works (DPW), School Department and Norwood Memorial Airport last winter. The town is anticipating around $330,000 in state and federal reimbursement for these costs.

- $65,000 from existing funds for repairs to the HVAC system at the police/fire station on Nahatan Street.

- $29,000 from unspent borrowed funds from the Cleveland Elementary School hallway replacement project to replace flooring tiles at the Oldham Elementary School.

she is also working with the Department of Public Works (DPW), which will prepare the land for the garden, and that Home Depot has donated most of the plants.

The main focus is to attract monarch butterflies, which are most famous for their southward migration and northward return in summer from Canada to Mexico and Baja, California that spans the life of three to four generations of the butterfly, said Fishman. She said the garden will also attract other types of butterflies, hummingbirds and bees.

Donohue complimented Fishman on her work in making the butterfly garden in Norwood a reality.

"This has been a long-time dream of yours," said Donohue. "This butterfly garden is a wonderful thing. It's really an educational process."

The garden was originally planned for conservation land off Winter Street, but Donohue, who was part of the effort to get the Walpole Street land donated to the town, said this is a "much better" location due to its high visibility in town.

"This is an amazing project. It's something the butterflies will appreciate, and I'm sure the people of Norwood will appreciate," said Lyons.

On Senior Day, Norwood Girls Lacrosse beat Bay State Conference (BSC) opponent Newton North, 17-13 on Thursday, but lost in Canton 16-15 on Monday, giving them an 8-7-2 overall record and a 5-4-2 record in league play.

After seniors Courtney Fernandes, d wing, captain Kelsey Colbert, midfielder, captain Alayna Fogg, defender, Jennifer O'Donnell, high attack, Jenny Rossman, Brianna Saad, Brittany Sullivan, high attack, Arianna Woodley, low d and captain Allison Ryan, midfielder, were announced, the game began.

As soon as the game started, Norwood attacked with vigor. Just 35 seconds into the game, sophomore attack wing Kacie Smith scored the game's first goal. Then, 33 seconds later, she streaked across the middle and scored again.

With 23:25 to go in the first half, sophomore Sammy Hayes, an attack wing, scored her first goal of the game, giving Norwood a 3-0 lead.

Sullivan scored her first goal right after that, fighting through defenders on her way to the goal and giving Norwood a 4-0 advantage.

Yet, Newton North would not be shut out. With 19:23 to go, they scored their first goal of the game. With 16:13 to go in the half, they scored again, cutting the lead down to 4-2.

Sullivan, unfazed by the Newton North attack, scored her second goal of the game, making it 5-2.

Newton North would not be denied, scoring two straight goals and closing to within one goal with 10:12 to go in the half.

Smith answered with another goal of her own, followed up by freshman Valerie Quinlan, a d wing, scoring after a 360-degree spin move, giving Norwood a 7-4 lead.

With the score at 9-6, Newton North scored two straight goals to close out the half, coming within one goal.

Rourke Flynn leads by example

Austin Hall
Staff Reporter

After being asked to decide who should be featured from the Norwood baseball team, head coach Kevin Igoe and his coaches came up with senior third baseman Rourke Flynn.

Flynn, who has been a part of the Norwood baseball program since he was a freshman, has had injury issues in the past that have prevented him from coming on strong right away.

In his sophomore year, he broke his hip while playing hockey, preventing him from playing to the fullest of his abilities.

Luckily, it hasn't stopped him.

He played for the varsity team last year and has been one of the many highlights of this year's team.

"(He) really came on to the scene this year," Igoe said.

Flynn has come on so well that he is second in the team in stolen bases and runs scored as of last Monday.

His hitting has also been a huge part of his game. "He's got power," Igoe said.

In fact, Flynn has a .325 batting average with one home run and 14 RBIs as of Monday, which is why he usually bats second in the lineup.

"He's delivered for us this year," Igoe said. "He's had some big hits for us. Rourke has done it all for us and more."

Yet, when asked what impresses Igoe the most about him, Igoe focused on the little things.

"His quiet leadership and work ethic in practice," Igoe said. "It's contagious."

While in practice, Flynn will dive for ground balls as if it were a game-time situation. Without saying a word, his teammates follow suit.

Flynn does those things simply because it's a part of who he is as a ballplayer.

"He's a quiet leader. A fierce competitor," Igoe said. "He's really a gritty player. A real throwback."

Rourke Flynn

His coaches agree.

"Rourke Flynn is the hardest worker on the team," first assistant coach Paul Erker said.

Flynn doesn't just hit and play hard: he does everything.

"He's a five-tool guy. Pure athlete, great hands," Igoe said.

He also gets his jersey dirty.

"He's always muddy," Igoe said. "His uniform has to be cleaned after the game."

Flynn loved baseball since he was a kid, mostly because of his dad.

"My dad was a really good baseball player," Flynn said. "I love the game, I always have."

Now, as a baseball player on a varsity team, one of Flynn's favorite parts is the camaraderie that comes with it.

When asked what was the best part of baseball, he simply replied, "Being able to play for a team that has heart."

His work ethic comes from a practice regimen that includes hitting in the cage or doing fieldwork every day.

Flynn also practices with the team every day, where practices range from an hour and a half to two hours.

Of course, he's a student too, which is why he needed to find a perfect balance be-

Softball loses to rival Walpole, 8-1

Austin Hall
Staff Reporter

Norwood Softball lost to fellow Bay State Conference (BSC) opponent Walpole 8-1 in Norwood last Monday, giving them a 14-5 overall record and a 12-3 BSC record.

Things were dire from the beginning. Senior Jillian Shepherd gave up a leadoff single and things went downhill from there.

After Shepherd walked the next batter, Walpole stole third, and with runners on the corners, stole second. Shepherd struck out the next batter, but it wasn't enough. Walpole hit a two-run double and opened up the floodgates.

After an infield single, Walpole singled in two more runs, giving Walpole a 4-0 lead.

Things only got worse in the top of the second inning.

After Shepherd gave up three straight singles, she walked in the fifth Walpole run with one out in the inning.

Luckily, Shepherd got out of the inning after senior first baseman Jessica Gorman threw out a lead runner at home, followed by a ground out to Shepherd.

On offense, Norwood could never get things going. After a leadoff Gorman single in the bottom of the second, they went down in order.

In the bottom of the third, they were retired in order again, this time without the benefit of a leadoff single.

In the bottom of the forth, senior shortstop Makenna Lane reached on an error from Walpole's right fielder. She then took second on a past ball.

With two outs, Lane stole third and reached home on an errant throw by Walpole's catcher, giving them their first and only run of the game.

After a one-out walk in the top of the fifth, Walpole put their stamp on the game. With the bases loaded, Shepherd fielded a ground ball and turned to throw to third, but each runner had already reached base safely, again loading the bases.

Walpole then drove in three runs on a three-run triple, giving them the 8-1 lead.

Sophomore Katie O'Donnell came in to pitch in the top of the sixth inning and had some trouble as well. She gave up a leadoff single followed by a walk, but struck out the next batter.

In the top of the seventh, she gave up another leadoff single, followed by a bunt single. But this time three straight groundouts ended the inning.

In the bottom of the seventh, junior leftfielder Emily Johnson walked to open the inning. Freshman Emily Flavin pinch hit for sophomore catcher Erin Garczynski and reached on a fielder's choice.

After getting caught stealing, freshman Kasey Michael pinch-hit for O'Donnell and struck out to end the game.

After the game, head coach Carol Savino talked about how the Mustangs let the game get away from them. "Once they were down, their heads were gone," Savino said. "The difference was, we didn't hit that pitcher."

Savino knew that it had everything to do with winning the Herget Division of the Bay State Conference before the season ended. "They let down because [they won the Herget Division]," Savino said.

Still, winning the league is not too shabby. "To lose three, it's not that bad," Savino said.

They will face a tough road ahead, as a possible 12 or 13 seed in the BSC tournament. "(We're) right around (the) 12th or 13th seed. (The) second game out, you're gonna match up against (the) 1 or 2 (seed)," Savino said.

With the tournament coming up, the only thing left to talk about was the disappointing loss to Walpole. "We made the mistakes," Savino said. "They didn't play to their potential tonight."

Boys Tennis falls to Needham, Walpole

Austin Hall
Staff Reporter

Norwood Boys Tennis lost to Bay State Conference (BSC) opponent Needham 4-1 last Thursday and lost to BSC opponent Walpole on Monday, 3-2.

Originally scheduled for last Wednesday, the match took place on Thursday instead.

In number one singles, senior Walter Aspinwall lost 2-0 in two sets, 2-6 and 1-6. In number 2 singles, senior Michael Breen lost 2-0 in two sets as well, 0-6 and 1-6. In number three singles, senior Justin Brown lost 0-6 in both sets, losing 2-0 in the match.

There were some bright spots. In number one doubles, senior Corey Haigh and sophomore Nathan Jones won both their sets, 6-3 and 6-0, going 2-0 in the match.

In number two doubles, senior Tom Burke and junior Fjorelo Gjata lost both sets, 3-6 and 0-6 and losing 2-0 in the match.

Unfortunately for Norwood, senior Jason Najm, who usually plays number two doubles, was not available.

After the game, head coach John Churchill was very pleased with the number one doubles team.

"The highlight of the day for us was at first doubles," Churchill said. "The team (of Haigh and Jones) had a surprisingly dominant match and earned a nice win."

Churchill explained what led to their success. "The result here was a combination of not facing Needham's best team and of (Haigh and Jones) playing quite well in the tricky/windy conditions," Churchill said.

Churchill was concerned with their lack of practice time heading into Monday's match, but stayed optimistic. "Despite the loss, I liked a lot of the things I saw as we go into the league match, on Monday, against Walpole," Churchill said. "Unfortunately, due to Wednesday's rain out, we lost a potential practice day. Also, the prom is this weekend, so hopefully it will not be too much of a distraction for the seniors involved."

With Najm back in the fold, Norwood did much better. Aspinwall won in number one singles 2-0 with a 6-2 victory in his first set and a 6-4 victory in his second set.

In number two singles, Breen won 2-0 with a 7-6 (7-4) in his first set and a 6-4 victory in his second set.

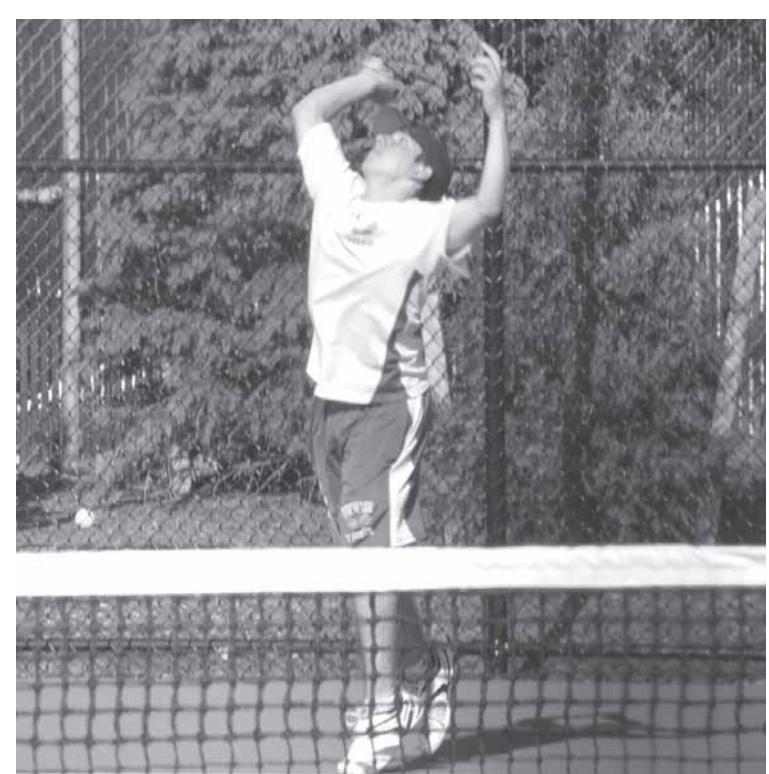

Gjata returned to number three singles and won his first set, 6-0, but lost his next two sets, 1-6 and 4-6, losing the match, 2-1.

In number one doubles, Haigh and Jones lost 2-0, losing 5-7 in their first set and 4-6 in their second set.

Finally, in number two doubles, Najm and Burke lost a hard fought match, losing 2-0 after losing their first set, 6-7 (6-8) and their second set, 1-6.

Churchill felt that his team was prepared and ready to go. "We came ready to play our

The Boys Lacrosse team has faced a trying year, currently sitting at 3-14 on the season. A slate of recent losses include two tight games, one against Walpole, another against Framingham. The Mustangs lost to Framingham by just one in a 10-9 thriller. While the results haven't always been there, the team continues to play hard. The squad's three wins this year have come against Milton, Dedham and Weymouth. The attack has struggled at times, with the Mustangs unable to consistently get above 5 or 6 goals per contest.

matches, today," Churchill said. "Unfortunately, we came up short overall."

Making special mention of Aspinwall, Churchill was very proud of his effort. "(Aspinwall) wrapped up a nice straight-set win against a tough opponent," Churchill said. "(Aspinwall's) effort could easily be overlooked, but he played a great match that should not be taken for granted. The second set was pretty close but he continued to dictate the points and he did well to pull out the win."

With a 5-11 record and a 4-7 BSC record, Norwood has two matches left in the season after getting eliminated from playoff contention. Even though the match eliminated them from the playoffs, Norwood has plenty of talent.

"The match eliminated us from playoff contention. However, it also showed that we are a better team than our record indicates," Churchill said. "We had a really tough schedule this year, particularly with Foxboro as our non-league matches."

They are also confident that they can finish out the year on a high note. "We'll do our best to finish strong," Churchill said.

lead back," Harrington said. They did.

Just 32 seconds into the second half, Ryan scored her first goal of the game, giving Norwood a 10-8 lead. Shortly after, Hayes answered with a goal of her own, giving Norwood a 11-8 lead.

Yet, Newton North answered back, scoring with 21:29 to go in the half.

Smith was not deterred, answering with another goal of her own and giving Norwood a 12-9 lead.

During a timeout after Newton North scored their 10th goal, making it 12-10, Harrington made sure her team received positive feedback. She told the team, "Great job today, keep it up."

Ryan took Harrington's advice, scoring with 17:46 to go in the half.

With 12:16 to go, Sullivan scored, giving Norwood a 14-10 advantage.

Newton North answered back, but Ryan scored with 8:33 to go, getting the four-goal lead right back.

With 6:55 to go, freshman attack Maura O'Neill gave Norwood a 16-11 lead, but Newton North answered with their 12th goal of the game.

Ryan was ready to put Newton North away, scoring her forth and final Norwood goal of the game and giving Norwood a 17-12 lead.

Newton North scored one last time before Norwood played keep away for the rest of the game, securing their 17-13 victory.

After the game, Harrington made special mention of the graduating seniors and how much of an influence they have had on the team all year. "These guys are great role models," Harrington said. "We're gonna miss them."

Harrington, who started coaching the seniors when she was an assistant coach in 2009, has watched them blossom into the players that they are now. "I've seen them progress," Harrington said. "(They're) great kids."

When talking about the game, Harrington had nothing but positive things to say. "We did a really good job," playing all 50 minutes, Harrington said.

Now that the team is headed to the BSC tournament after the season, an optimistic Harrington simply said, "Looking forward to next week."

Unfortunately, it didn't carry over in their loss to Canton, but Ryan had eight goals and two assists in the contest. Still, they are in good shape to make a run in the tournament.

tween schoolwork and baseball.

"It's a huge transition," going from juggling school and baseball in middle school to high school, Flynn says, but he finds a way.

After each game or practice, he relaxes for a half hour before doing his homework. Then, he watches the Red Sox or Bruins.

Graduating in May, Flynn hopes to play baseball at Merrimack College.

When asked what he thinks his chances of playing for them in his freshman year are, Flynn was very optimistic.

"Pretty good," Flynn

said. "I hope they're pretty good."

One of the reasons Flynn has a good chance to play for Merrimack is because Jim Martin, the head coach, is good friends with Igoe.

If baseball doesn't work out, he has a backup plan. At Merrimack College, he will enroll as a Criminology major.

"My dad works at Suffolk County Jail," Flynn said. "It's like a family tradition."

Right now, he's focused on baseball and a possible college career.

"That'd be awesome," Flynn said. "It's like a life goal for me."

Library Events

BEACH READS (at the library)

Get ready for those hazy lazy days of summer with a good book for your beach reading available at the Norwood library! Join librarians Beth Goldman and Margot Sullivan at the Morrill Memorial Library as they make recommendations and suggestions for summer reading or reading at any time! They might even throw in a recommended movie to watch. This program is always a fun, informative and educational book review session sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Beth and Margot review 12-14 books each from all kinds of genres, interests, classics, new fiction and non-fiction books or whatever sparks their interest as they look at the books here in the library. There's always a few theatrical moments as Beth and Margot really love doing these "Reads". You won't get sand in your shoes or too much sun! The program held in the air conditioned Simoni Room is on Wednesday June 26th at 10AM and repeated again at 7:30PM. Refreshments are served and all are welcome! No registration is necessary. Any question? Call 781-769-0200 x110.

SCRAPBOOKING WORKSHOP AT THE LIBRARY

Norwood resident and scrapbook connoisseur Rick Anderson will offer a free scrapbooking workshop at the Morrill Memorial Library on Wednesday, June 19 at 9:30 a.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. In this interactive workshop, Rick will give valuable tips on how to start and organize a scrapbook or enhance one(s) you've already begun. He will also bring in several of his own scrapbooks, on various themes, to offer ideas and inspiration. Participants are encouraged to bring in their projects for hands-on assistance and to share their experiences. When you register for this class at the library Reference or Information Desk—or by calling 781-769-0200, x110 or 222—please specify your preference for the morning or evening session. The library is handicapped accessible.

RESUME AND JOB SEARCH SEMINAR AT THE LIBRARY

Looking for some free advice on polishing your resume and landing a job? Mariel Todd, from One Life at a Time in Braintree, will come to the Morrill Memorial Library on Tuesday, June 18 from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon to talk about Job Search Tactics and Resume Tips. Learn how to accelerate your job search with innovative and proactive techniques using specific websites and avenues to market yourself successfully. This workshop will also offer concrete suggestions for creating resumes that get results. Participants are encouraged to bring their own resume to edit during the class.

Sign up for this valuable program at the library Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222.

ESSAY CONTEST AT THE LIBRARY

The Morrill Memorial Library is holding its 2nd annual essay contest open to all Norwood residents, with essays to be submitted between May 15 and June 15. The categories this year are "The Best Book Ever" (Grades 3 - 8) and "The Book that Changed My Life" (Grade 9 - Adult). For more details and to pick up an application, stop by the library Information or Children's Desk or go online at norwoodlibrary.org/essay. Completed applications may be dropped off with Nancy Ling in the Outreach Dept. or emailed to nling@minlib.net

Winners will be announced on Monday, July 8. Gift cards to Barnes & Noble will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners in each group. Essays will be read at the awards ceremony to be held in September. The library wishes to express its appreciation to the Andrew and Ernest J. Boch Memorial Fund for its generous donation to this contest.

HANK PHILLIPPI RYAN AT THE LIBRARY

Award-winning investigative reporter and best-selling author Hank Phillippi Ryan will return to the Morrill Memorial Library on Thursday, June 6, at 7:30 p.m. to speak at the annual meeting of The Friends of the Library.

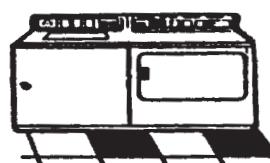

Ryan has won numerous awards for her five books, including the Agatha, Anthony, and Macavity awards for crime fiction. She is on the national board of directors of Mystery Writers of America, and is president of the National Sisters in Crime. Her latest suspense thriller, "The Other Woman," was named a Best Book of 2012 by several publications including the Boston Globe. It was also recently nominated by the Mystery Writers of America Edgar Committee for the prestigious Mary Higgins Clark award.

Sign up for this free event, sponsored by the Friends of the Library, at the Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222. The library is handicapped accessible.

STITCH THERAPY AT THE LIBRARY!

Join stitchers of all types at the Morrill Memorial Library on Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. beginning May 22 through October 16. If you are interested in knitting, crocheting, cross-stitch, or crewel embroidery, get motivated to start or finish a project or learn a new craft on the third Wednesday of each month (except in May) in the Trustees Room of the Norwood Library. Space is limited, so please register at the library Reference or Information Desk or call 781-769-0200, x110 or 222.

CITY WIDEBPL's CONCERTS IN THE COURTYARD

One of Boston's most beautiful spaces will be filled with music in a free, lunchtime concert series on Fridays in June, July, and August. Starting on June 7, the courtyard at the Central Library in Copley Square, located at 700 Boylston Street, will feature music that ranges from jazz to classical and from blues to Broadway. Concerts are every Friday at 12:30 p.m. through August 30. The complete schedule follows and is available at www.bpl.org/concerts.

Charlie Kohlhase and Members of the Explorers Club, Friday, June 7. For this concert during Gay Pride Week, Kohlhase will explore the music of gay jazz composers of American popular music whose work is appreciated by jazz musicians. Assaf Kehati, Friday, June 14. Jazz guitarist and composer Assaf Kehati's compositions are inspired by the daily and trivial, yet wonderful and significant experiences of life. Wambura Mitaru Synergy, Friday, June 21. With their various regional backgrounds and their vast experiences in world music, Wambura Mitaru Synergy creates a hybrid sound that combines groovy tunes and catchy lyrics. Annie Sharkey, Friday, June 28. Vocalist Annie Sharkey performs pieces influenced by a career in various genres, including Broadway, cabaret, top forty, original rock, and oldies.

STOCK UP ON FICTION!

It's time to get your fix of fiction! Join us at the central library in Copley Square on June 1 from 10-4. We will give you a bag (ours) and you can fill it with your choice of fiction from our general stock for only $10. Mix and match hardcovers and paperbacks for one low price. (Sale does not apply to books in our premium section). Of course we will still have a load of non-fiction at our usual low prices.

Sale is held on the lower level of the McKim building (Dartmouth Street entrance) and is sponsored by the City-Wide Friends of the Boston Public Library, a 501(c)3 non-profit affiliate of the BPL. All proceeds benefit the programming and off-budget needs of the Boston Public Library and its 25 neighborhood branches. For more information about the CWF visit CITYWIDEFRIENDSBPL.ORG or call (617) 859-2341.

ROSLINDALEROSLINDALE YOUTH ARTS FESTIVAL

On Saturday, June 1, 2013 young artists from Roslindale will perform music and exhibit their art as part of the second annual Roslindale Youth Arts Festival. The art exhibition runs from 10AM-1PM with performances and a formal presentation beginning at 10:15AM. The event, to take place at BCYF Roslindale Community Center on the opening day of Roslindale's popular Farmer's Market, includes students from the neighborhood's six elementary schools, Irving Middle School and Brooke Charter School. Organized by the Roslindale Arts Initiative, it is designed to highlight the excitement and achievements of a community united to bring excellent visual arts education to all of its public school students in Kindergarten through 8th grade. Myran Parker-Brass, Executive Director for the Arts in Boston Public Schools, and state and local officials will be in attendance to show support for this collaborative arts initiative, and to award certificates to participating schools. The Initiative is led by the Eliot School of Fine & Applied Arts' School Partnership Program. Collaborating institutions include Boston Public Schools, BCYF Roslindale Community Center, Boys & Girls Club @ Sumner, Making Music Matters and MusiConnects. Participating Roslindale schools include Bates, Brooke Charter, Conley, Haley, Irving, Mozart, Philbrick and Sumner Schools. On exhibit will be a range of exuberantly creative projects: portraits in clay, bass relief sculptures, decorated skateboards, miniature doors designed with architectural details, African masks painted on real palm "boots", makeover self-portraits and much more. Previous Roslindale Arts Initiative exhibitions have taken place at Boston Cheese Cellar in November 2010, Roslindale Open Studios in November 2011 and 2012, and at the first Youth Arts Festival in June 2012. The Roslindale Arts Initiative is designed to re-insert visual arts as a strong and excellent strand in the core education of all children in one Boston neighborhood. It dovetails with a BPS Arts Office campaign to rebuild strong arts offerings for all Boston's students. The Initiative is funded by EdVestors' BPS Arts Expansion Initiative and the Linde Family Foundation, among others. The Eliot School of Fine and Applied Arts offers training, classes and workshops in crafts and fine arts for children and adults at their schoolhouse in Jamaica Plain, and in Boston's public schools. Their School Partnership Program is reaching over 1,200 children with high quality visual arts and woodworking classes in the 2012-13 school year, in Roslindale and beyond.

ROSLINDALE HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1973 40TH REUNION

Our 40th reunion is fast approaching and will take place on Saturday, November 30, 2013, at the Apollo in Norwood. We need you! Please send your contact information to roslindalehighschool@yahoo.com so we may include you in our future mailings. If you are in touch with other classmates from '73, please send their information our way as well. A fun nite is being planned and we hope you will join us and be a part of it!!

WEST ROXBURYWRNC MEETING

The West Roxbury Neighborhood Council will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening May 28. The agenda will include a proposal for a Town Line Liquor Store at 1524 VFW Pkwy (Sleep King Mattress near Jennifer Convertible.) They plan on transferring a liquor license from another Boston Location and being open until 11:00 PM. Also on the agenda, Leslie Belay will discuss the new Corey Street Farmers Market slated to open Sunday, June 23. It will be in the parking lot at Temple Hillel B'nai Torah at 120 Corey Street. The market will be open Sundays from 11-3:00 for 20 weeks. WRNC meetings are held on the Fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 at the Area E-5 Police Station community room; 1708 Centre St. (at the Holy Name rotary.) All WRNC meetings are open to the public.

PARKWAY RUNNING CLUB

Invites everyone to the Saturday-Highland Hash Fun Run at 2 pm. Just a reminder that this Saturday, is the second of our Highland Hash Spring 2013 series. The weather sounds good so bring yourself, your friends, family and neighbors. There is no cost, but we are collecting donations for the OneFund Boston for those injured at the marathon, with a suggested donation of $5.00. Participants will meet at Porter Café, 1723 Centre St. in West Roxbury at 2 pm, where they can choose from either a 2.5-mile or 5-mile route. Each route will end back at the venue, with light appetizers and locally brewed craft beer from Backlash Beer (brewed in Holyoke, MA) for 90 minutes following the run. Every runner gets a pint of the featured beer at the finish, compliments of West Roxbury Main Streets, and Parkway Running Club and Porter's are generously providing the food at the event.

PARKWAY UNITED TRAVEL SOCCER TRYOUTS

Tryouts will be held starting May 28th for positions on boys and girls U9 - U16 teams for the fall 2013/spring 2014 season. For registration details and full tryout schedule, please visit the Parkway website (<http://sites.google.com/site/parkwayunitedsoccer/Home/tryouts>). Boston residency or attendance at a school in Boston required. Tryouts will take place at Millennium Park in West Roxbury. Meet at red tent, near flag pole, at the upper parking lot.
